H. C. S. CLUB MET AT MIDDLETOWN

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS MYRTLE HIESTAND, CLUB MEMBER OF SALUNGA, ANNOUNCED, AT THE MEETING

On Thursday evening a number of our local young people journeyed to Middletown where they met with the H. C. S. Club at the home of Miss Dorothy Peters. After the social hour, the hostess served a "tastee" luncheon at the dining table, all the appointments being green.

A "surprise" was given the club members when each received a specially prepared copy of the Manheim Sentinel.

THE COMMUNITY CHORUS WILL RENDER "ELIJAH"

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 8 and 9, the Elizabethtown Community Chorus of seventy mixed voices will be heard in their winter concert, singing Part One of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah." This magnificent choral work is seldom heard except in the larger cities, so that its presentation by a local chorus is an exceptional opportunity to hear an outstanding example of sacred music in its highest form.

Music-loving people of Mount Joy will be interested in these concerts especially since several of the local singers are members of the Chorus. Tickets are 50 cents each and can be had from any member of the Chorus or from the Elizabethtown Fire Company who are sponsoring the concerts.

FOUR AUTOISTS WERE INJURED NEAR RHEEMS

The car owned by Wolf stalled near Fisher's Hill. Another machine driven by Emory Wolgemuth, Elizabethtown R. D. 2, crashed into the parked car and pushed it about 25 feet. Wolgemuth claimed he was unable to see the stalled car on account of a curve in the road.

The victims were given first aid treatment by Dr. J. A. Blasser, Elizabethtown, and removed to their homes.

Four persons were slightly injured in an automobile crash on the Harrisburg pike, between Elizabethtown and Rheems, early Thursday morning.

Those treated for minor cuts and bruises are: Isabell Brooks, Harrisburg; Virginia Catherine Bickler, Middletown, and John Wolf, Harrisburg.

J. D. EASTON PURCHASED FOUR FLORIN PROPERTIES

Mr. John D. Easton, Florin real estate king, purchased four properties in that place and took title to all of them Monday.

He purchased of Mr. A. Peris, his fine dwelling which he now occupies near the P. R. R. station; the east side of a double house along the trolley and tenanted by Mr. Zink and a double house which was the former Ragner Hallgren property, now tenanted by John Germer and Wm. Dommel. The sale also included a mortgage which Mr. Peris held on another Florin property.

The terms of the sale were private.

25 ACRES OF GRASS BURNED AT CONEWAGO

A brush fire in the vicinity of Conewago Station, on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, Sunday burned off about 25 acres on the property of Abraham Winters, Elizabethtown R. D. 4. It was extinguished by members of the Elizabethtown Friendship Fire company and a P. R. R. track crew after an hour's work. Sparks from a locomotive were blamed for starting the fire.

Price Very Reasonable
At Columbia Saturday nearby farmers sold fine home-raised turkeys at 35 cents a pound and some lower end farmers were peddling nice birds at 30 cents a pound.

Auto and Car Collide
John McBride, sixty-five, Elizabethtown R. D. 2, sustained minor cuts about the face when the car he was driving and an Elizabethtown trolley car collided in Elizabethtown.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

The season is again upon us for the time-honored observance of Thanksgiving Day. The President's call has gone forth to the people of the Nation and the solemn admonitions of his Proclamation will find response in the hearts and deeds of all the citizens of our Commonwealth. When we measure our blessings against our misfortunes we will find abundant reason for rendering thanks unto the Lord, for singing praises to His Holy Name, for showing forth His loving kindness through the year that is passing.

If the harvests have not been quite so plentiful, there is still enough in store for all our wants; if the rains have not been so copious, the waters still flow in sufficient abundance for our needs; if business is not so prosperous as usual, industry is still finding much to do; if some hands are idle from unemployment, there is still a great host at work. This is the time to look for the bright side and to radiate the spirit of good cheer and hope. Any troubles we may have will soon pass and the good we possess will abide with us to call forth expressions of gratitude.

The spirit of helpfulness to others is everywhere manifest and is to be commended and encouraged. Aid to others who need support and encouragement is the very embodiment of the sacrifice of thanksgiving. It is gratifying to observe the activities of public authorities, private enterprise, and public-spirited organizations, all uniting to promote the general welfare and alleviate individual distress.

The year has been blessed with an unusual measure of good health; industrial peace has prevailed to a marked degree; public order has been preserved and the laws of the land obeyed with increasing respect; closer and more neighborly relations have been established by the increased conveniences of travel and communication of intelligence; educational advantages have been greatly improved to meet the demands of pupils and students for greater opportunities in life; humanitarianism, both public and private, has found expression in more ample and generous provision for all forms of misfortune and dependency; we are free from the unrest that has disturbed the security of other nations and our Government is firmly established in the loyalty and affections of the people.

Therefore, let Thanksgiving Day be a time of home-gathering, of good cheer, of public worship, and of thankfulness to Him who is the giver of every good and perfect gift.

NOW, THEREFORE, I John S. Fisher, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, following the Proclamation of the President of the United States, do hereby designate and set aside Thursday, the Twenty-seventh day of November, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty, as Thanksgiving Day to be observed by all the people of this Commonwealth in the enjoyment of the home circle, in deeds of kindness and charity, and in prayer and praise at their accustomed places of worship, making acknowledgment to Almighty God for His bounteous provision and invoking His guidance for our Nation and State in the ways of peace and truth and righteousness.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the Commonwealth, at the City of Harrisburg, this tenth day of November, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty, and of the Commonwealth of the one hundred and fifty-fifth.

350 TROUT PLANTED IN DONEGAL SPRINGS

Donegal Springs and Donegal Creek were enriched Thursday by 350 trout from the state fish hatcheries at Bellefonte, planted by Deputy Warden W. Blaine Stephens, of Elizabethtown and Herman Risser. The trout range from 6 to 12 inches in length and are unusually good specimens.

It was learned Thursday that residents of the vicinity had been warned not to wash their automobiles in the creek near where the fish have been planted, under penalty of $10 fine for polluting the stream. Oil and greases from the machines, it was explained, have been killing the fish at this point.

WAS GIVEN TO CHRISTIAN REIST - 84 YEARS AGO FOR PERFECT ATTENDANCE AT PRESBYTERIAN S. S.

Eighty-four years ago there lived in Mount Joy a druggist by the name of Jacob Stauffer. He may be remembered by some of our older citizens.

Said Jacob Stauffer was a Sunday School teacher and each year when a pupil in his class would have a perfect attendance he would present them with a token of appreciation.

Among the members of his Sunday School Class in 1846 was Christian Reist, an uncle of Mrs. Clayton L. Nissley, for many years a resident of East Donegal township.

Mr. Reist was rewarded by a picture or drawing made by his teacher. It is five inches deep, is of Mosaic and Apostolic design, printed from a wood cut and has the following (turn to page 5)
