MAN FINED $100 FOR

Monroe Wasser, of Silver Spring who was arrested two weeks ago as a result if a raid upon a still on his farm, pleaded guilty before a Lancaster alderman to charges of polluting the Silver Spring creek and was fined $100 and costs. G. H. James, an enforcement offer of the state fish and game department brought the charge.

According to James, fusil oil from the still Wasser was operating drained into the creek causing hundreds of fish to die. The dead fish led to discovery of the still, Wasser now faces a charge of illegal manufacture and possession
