MANY NEW STRAWBERRIES BUT OLDER ONES REMAIN

People who avoid strawberries because of their high acidity need not deny themselves the pleasure of eating this luscious fruit if they will try some of the milder flavored varieties such as the New York, the Marshall, and the Chesapeake. Several hundred varieties of strawberries are grown in the United States, one for every locality and purpose, according to specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture who have classified them for the benefit of growers and consumers. Of this large number of varieties, however, only about 40 are grown commercially, and 19 of these constitute 96 per cent of the acreage. The three leaders—Klondike, Aroma, and Howard 17—account for 63 per cent of the acreage in the country.

Climate and soil conditions are factors that determine to a large extent the best varieties to grow in the different sections of the country. The Missionary is the leading sort in Florida and along the Atlantic coast to Maryland. Most other parts of the South prefer the Klondike. The Blakemore, a new berry developed by the department, is becoming popular in the Carolinas and as far north as New Jersey.

The Aroma is a favorite in most of the milder region of the Central States, including the northern part of Arkansas and Tennessee, and the southern parts of Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana. The Dunlap is popular in the remainder of the Middle West. In the Northwest, Marshall, Oregon, Ettersburg 121, and Clark are most widely grown, while the Howard 17 is king north of the Ohio and Potomac and east of the Mississippi.

In recent years varieties adapted to special purposes have taken their place by the side of the older ones. The Ettersburg 121, grown in Washington and Oregon, is preferred by canners, while the new Blakemore appears to be especially good for preserving. The ice-cream trade prefers the Marshall and Klondike. New varieties of strawberries are being introduced constantly, the department says. Many of them possess special value as compared with the well-established varieties, and most of them soon disappear from nurserymen's lists. Occasionally a new variety such as the Blakemore has merit enough to make a place for itself.

DROUGHT RELIEF WORK IS SOON COMPLETED

According to a report submitted today by Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, by H. P. Drake, sanitary engineer, the drought relief work in Adams, Fayette, Jefferson, Schuylkill and Lancaster counties has now been in progress for four weeks. In Adams county, 446 samples have been collected for analysis, with 355 in Fayette, 605 in Jefferson, 258 in Schuylkill and 488 in Lancaster county, making a total of 2129 samples.

The work of notifying the school authorities and private property owners as to the results of these analyses, and advice as to necessary repairs for improvements to be made on the water supply systems, is rapidly progressing. Drake's report states that in all probability the work in Adams, Jefferson, Schuylkill and Lancaster counties will be completed during the present week. In this event the Adams county mobile laboratory and its personnel will be moved to York, with headquarters at the Hotel Penn. J. C. Ball being in charge. The Jefferson county unit will be moved to Clearfield with headquarters at the Dimeling Hotel; Mr. A. C. Brown will be in charge. The Schuylkill county unit will proceed to Bloomsburg, with headquarters at the Magee Hotel; R. S. Mark will supervise this unit. The Lancaster county laboratory will be moved to Reading, with headquarters at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel, with L. E. Scheffer in charge. The Fayette county unit will remain at Uniontown, mainly on typhoid prevention work.

AUTO OWNERS USE WORTHLESS CHECKS

Checks totaling $108,669.65 sent to the State Revenue Department in payment for motor licenses and other fees incidental to the operation of automobiles have been returned to the Department, according to Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles. The checks were returned chiefly because the makers either had no funds on deposit or insufficient funds to meet them. The figures cover the first three months of the year. They exceed by $6,991.78, the total of checks returned for the same cause last year. A penalty of $5 is levied on makers of all such checks irrespective of the amount of the check. Patronize Bulletin Advertisers

EDUCATING THE MOTORING PUBLIC

LANCASTER COUNTY'S SHARE ON THE NEW ROAD BILL IS 626 MILES, MOST OF WHICH IS UNIMPROVED.

Efforts to secure for Lancaster county construction of as many miles as possible of rural roads this year under the State administration's 20,000 mile program are being made by the Lancaster Automobile Club. The county's share on the new road bill is 626 miles, most of which is unimproved. Other features of the Club's platform for the fiscal year that started with the meeting held Friday evening, at Ephrata, were outlined by S. Edward Gable, president, as follows:

Launching of a move to bring about construction of a bridge across the Susquehanna between Columbia and Conowingo and one between Columbia and Harrisburg, and efforts to have Lancaster county adopt a systematic program for reconstruction of worn-out bridges on the highways in this section.

Insuring motorists their money's worth in purchasing gasoline, and at the same time protecting the gasoline retailers against loss through overmeasure, by systematic inspections of filling station pumps by the city and the county sealers of weights and measures.

Stressing more emphatically than ever the importance of safety measures on streets and highways through extension of the school patrol and other activities. Seeking to have every railroad grade crossing in Lancaster county protected either by watchman or by flashing electric signals.

Removal of billboards or other obstructions at road intersections. A move to have public comfort stations erected in boroughs and towns throughout the county that have not already provided such conveniences.

Standing committees for the new fiscal year were appointed by President Gable at the Ephrata meeting, which was largely attended. The next meeting, it was announced, will be held the third Friday in May at Wakefield.

TEST GRAIN VALUE AS MILK PRODUCER

It requires from 3 to 5 1/2 pounds of grain to make one pound of milk according to recent figures gathered by the agriculturist of the State Department of Welfare under whose jurisdiction are the herds of cattle on State institutions. The report indicates that in some herds 3 pounds of grain per cow are sufficient to produce one pound of milk. However, in a larger number of herds 3 to 4 pounds of grain are required and in 3 herds the maximum amount of grain reached 5 pounds.

Order Forest Seedlings Now is the time to order forest tree seedlings for 1932 planting. Early orders get the best selection. Choose black locust for fence posts, Norway spruce for pulp wood, larch for telephone and electric light poles. Scotch pine for nine timbers, red, white, and pitch pine for lumber. Consult your county agent.

Home A Better Place

PROPOSAL of the fact that government statistics show that last year Americans consumed $52,000,000 worth of canned foods, the Columbus Evening Dispatch makes this editorial comment in behalf of the American housewife. The writer says, in part: 'The American home is a better place in which to live and eat than it was before the Can-Opener Era. With all due respect to the traditions surrounding grandmother's cooking and the good days, we venture the assertion that the modern meal is better in most respects than those consumed by former generations, and we'll stick to it, even if we have to leave town. The food that comes in cans is prepared with greater thought for man's demands regarding taste and nutrition than was a vast portion of that which reached the table in the highly touted past. Also the canning industry has made possible the serving of fruits and vegetables out of season when the system demands these things. 'The housewives of the nation should be given some credit for recognizing that the canned goods are far better than anything they could produce from the raw materials. There were great cooks in the good old days, but it is a fallacious tradition that all women of grandmother's time were whizzes at the cook stove. The present era is the best we've ever known, from a culinary standpoint and the canners have helped immensely.'

SPECIAL FARM RELIEF

We are now equipped with the following machinery so that we may better serve our farmer friends—

- A COLD PROCESS MOLASSES FEED MIXER To make better feeds at less cost. A HAMMER MILL AND AN ATTRITION MILL For grinding your grain and roughage to obtain the greatest feeding value from it. AN ELECTRO MAGNET To keep all feed free from iron and metal which is dangerous to stock. A ROUGHAGE GRINDER Giving the opportunity to grind farm roughage and mix it into the feed, saving the price of shipped filler feeds.
