HIGH SCHOOL LAD IS BITTEN BY A DOG

Frank Moore, a student in the High School here, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Moore, of Newtown, was badly bitten by a dog on Sunday. Frank was on the Baker farm, tenanted by Elias Holliner and was trying to take an ear of corn from the dog in a playful way, when suddenly the canine sprang at him, hitting Frank on the mouth and about the face.

He was taken to the office of Dr. Herr at Landisville who treated him. It required a dozen stitches to close the wounds. Frank is 14 years old.

Flirted With the Moon

Perhaps some of you noticed a large and exceedingly bright star near the moon last night. Well that was Venus and although she was only two degrees away, that short distance was several million miles. We presume that this being Leap Year, the Old Girl was flirting with Old Man Moon.

Largest Around Here

One of the largest English walnut trees around here is in the rear of Dunkle's store at Neffsville. It is worth anyone's time to look it over. It bears prolific nuts annually.

called as a witness for the Commonwealth during the trial this morning.

The raid by State Police revealed three six-gallon crocks of beer and a 5-gallon jug of wine in addition to some bottled beer, it was testified.

Williams denied selling the beer, to Constable Haines, claiming he treated the officer.

Ironville Man on Trial

Harry Birk, of near Ironville, charged with possession of liquor at his home, went on trial before Judge Atlee.

A small quantity of liquor was found in a bottle in the kitchen of Birk's home when a raid was made Christmas Eve by County Detective Jacob Weller, Constable Peter Bauer and Corporal Harry Meyers of the State Police. Two one-gallon jugs of liquor were also found in an automobile on Birk's property.

He was acquitted by the jury and ordered to pay the costs.

John Smith also of near Ironville, implicated with Birk in the case, has pleaded guilty to the charges and will be sentenced some time this week.

Found Odd Plant

Atwood Kreider, of Lititz, during a recent trip to Furnace Hills, found a walking fern which he took along home and planted in a pot. The peculiarity about this species of plant is that the tips form tendrils which when they touch the earth take root and start new ferns.

New Holland reduced its boro tax two mills last week.
