Come From State; They Must Be True

HUNTING STORIES REPORTED TO THE STATE GAME COMMISSION AND WHICH OCCURRED DURING LAST YEAR

Here are some real good hunting yarns furnished the Bulletin by the State Game Commission. You can easily check on their authenticity as names are mentioned in almost every instance.

A Pickled Deer
A deer wandered into the plant of the National Tube Company, of Ellwood City, Pa., recently and before it was roped it had dived twice into a pickling vat, kicked several men and stopped work for half an hour.

Turkey Hunts Rabbits
"Last August a neighbor of mine noticed his bronze turkey gobbling fussing around in the grass a short distance from the house. In a few minutes he went down to see what the trouble was about, and found the gobbler had almost killed a large male rabbit. Every time the rabbit would move, the turkey would land on him again. The rabbit was fat and seemingly healthy." J. Ord Smith, Mahaffey, Pa.

"Stewed" Deer
"Topsy" deer were easy prey for hunters near Wapwallopen this season. A number of them were found staggering about near a large pile of muck which Federal agents dumped out after confiscating a 25,000 gallon still.

A Pet Raccoon
James J. Byard, of Oneonta, New York, owned a pet raccoon which was partial to climbing down chimneys. Unable to enter the garage through the door, it would scramble up a tree, drop to the chimney top and descend to the warm interior. It also would perform all sorts of tricks, sitting on Mr. Byard's head and parting his hair, stand on its hind legs like a bear and shadow box like a pugilist. Its method of attracting attention was to rattle the silverware in the kitchen sink. It would also wash all its food in the sink, after learning to turn on the tap.

Deer Game Protector Felix Barchook of Bridgeport, killed a stray house cat weighing 15 pounds. It is estimated that there are 10,000 species of birds on this earth.

Hunters Find Money
"While Mr. Harry Raudenbush and Mr. George Evans, both of Tower City were gunning for rabbits, their dog started one and it holed up underneath a large rock. The dog lunged in and began to dig, and the men went to its assistance. In a few minutes a bright shining object appeared with a jingle. Upon examination the object proved to be a ten dollar gold coin. Immediately Raudenbush and Evans took to digging more and out came an old stocking containing one hundred and eighty dimes. Continuing their digging they unearthed two baking powder tins cans which contained thirty dollars and sixty cents in quarters, nickels and pennies." (Mark P. Motter, Lykens, Pa., Game Refuge Keeper).

Hard to Believe
Deputy Game Protector W. F. Peasley, of Erie, Pa., reports the killing during the recent deer season of a point buck which dressed only 29 pounds. Mr. Peasley tried to get the owner to turn it over to the Game Commission but was unsuccessful. The animal, which was scarcely larger than a fox, was perfectly normal in every way except its size and weight.

Purple Blackbirds
Deputy Game Protector Norman Landisville H. S. Field says that a few Purple Grackles (blackbirds) have wintered in and around Ardmore, and that some of them show traces of albinism. There is one with a white wing, one with a white head, and several with white feathers.

Shot Rabbit in the Air
Tom Price, of Slatingson, Pa., spied a hawk hovering close to earth, and took a shot at it. To his amazement he not only bagged the hawk but also a rabbit, which the hawk had captured and was carrying to its nest. Price took the hawk, (a Goshawk) and the bunny home to Slatingson and claims the altitude record for shooting rabbits.

Pheasant Whips Weasel
A Quakertown man tells of having seen a male pheasant strike a weasel a knockout blow with his wing and then peck the prostrate animal's eyes out with its bill. The incident took place on the property of Martin Brogan, who was attracted to the scene by a commotion in a flock of pheasants near his barn. The weasel was attacking a pheasant when he arrived near the scene, but the cock interfered with disastrous results to the weasel.

Built Feeding Stations
Under the supervision of Stan Me-savage, Deputy Game Protector of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the Boy Scouts of Camp Achela, Wilkes-Barre district, built 9 winter feeding stations for the same along the Tobyhanna Creek and the Lehigh river during the past month and distributed 500 pounds of feed within these shelters.

Prune Grapes Now
Winter is the most desirable time for pruning the grape vineyard because there is less conflict with other work. If pruning is done before the flow of sap starts, excessive bleeding of the vines will be prevented.

ACCIDENT REPORTS MUST BE FILED

"Don't attempt to evade the law requiring motorists involved in accidents to file a report with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Revenue," Benjamin G. Eynon, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said today. "Evasion will mean suspension of the operating privilege."

"The bureau depends greatly on newspaper accuracy as to names and addresses in rounding up this type of law evader. Many an operator thinking he has covered up his accident by failure to report, no doubt has been puzzled as to how the Commonwealth learned of it. There's nothing mysterious about it. Here's what happens. The accident occurs. Newspapers report it. Their story eventually reaches the bureau through its press clipping service. Bureau clerks read the clippings. The bureau waits a reasonable time for those involved to file a report. Should no report be filed the operator or operators receive a form letter calling for a report. Failure to comply with this request means a hearing before one of the bureau's inspectors and suspensions of the driving privilege."

Penna. Farmers Are Denied Loans

limited to one year. This enabled Pennsylvania farmers to participate in the federal drouth loans, which also requested the security of a crop mortgage. Altogether in 1931 the federal Department of Agriculture made 255 of these drouth loans in Pennsylvania in 1931 for a total amount of $48,909.

The law, however, is not effective this year and as the state legislature is not in session and will not be, no part of the $50,000,000 of federal money can be loaned to Pennsylvanians, no matter how much they may need it.

The inability of Pennsylvania farmers to obtain direct seed loans, however, should not be confused with loans under other sections of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act. The direct seed loans are taken from a special fund provided by the act and administered by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Other sections of the act, though not providing for direct loans on crops to individual farmers, do provide for loans to organized farmers. For example, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized to lend money, properly secured, to federal land banks, joint-stock land banks, federal intermediate credit banks, credit unions, agricultural credit corporations and livestock credit corporations.

These loans are passed on by officers of the corporation and have no relation to the direct loans for crops.

"Pauper's Oath" Needed
Though Pennsylvania farmers are prohibited from receiving any loans from the direct crop loan fund, it is doubtful that it will make any material difference in their situation.

Under regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture it is necessary for farmers virtually to take a pauper's oath before money can be loaned to them from the $50,000,000 fund. No money will be loaned to farmers until the Department of Agriculture has been satisfied that farmers are unable to obtain loans for crop production during 1932 from any other sources.

The amount of the loans, even under these circumstances, is restricted to $400 for any one borrower.

Burgess Chandler Died Suddenly
in Chestnut Level. His early life was spent in Strasburg where he conducted a drug store for about twenty years until his removal to this borough. He was a member of the Strasburg school board for twenty-one years and was superintendent of the Strasburg Sunday school for twenty-five years. At the time of his death he was an elder in Strasburg church and also was a member of the United Methodist church. He was a member of the Captain J. N. Neff Camp, No. 46, Sons of Veterans; of Massachusetts Castle, No. 113, A. O. K. of M. C.; and of Washington Camp, No. 579, P. O. S. of A.; Friendship Fire Company No. 1 and a director of the Mount Joy Building and Loan Association. Also a member of the Mt. Joy Boosters Club.

Dr. Chandler had served two years of a four year term as Burgess of Mt. Joy. He came to the borough from Strasburg in 1911, has conducted a drug store here since that time and has taken an active part in all civic affairs. He served on the school board for a time and also held executive offices of importance in the borough. Five daughters and two step daughters survive as follows: E. Pearl, West Chester; Verna C., wife of George Escott, of Sumner, Ore.; Mrs. Ella C. Smith, at home; Miriam C., wife of Howard Shearer, of Ida Grove, Iowa; Mrs. Vivian C. Brenner, Mt. Joy; Mrs. Harry Phillips, of Quarryville; and Mrs. Ira Wentz of Lancaster; also ten grandchildren and one great grandchild; a sister, Mrs. Harry Cooper, of Los Angeles, and two brothers, John R. Chandler, Los Angeles; and Charles Chandler, Philadelphia.

A Patriotic Song 100 Years Old

"AMERICA" WAS WRITTEN BY A BOSTONIAN AT ANDOVER, THEN A SENIOR AT THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Every American school child knows that this month marks the 200th anniversary of George Washington. Probably few knew that it also marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of a patriotic song they often sing—America.

It was a dismal February day in 1832. Samuel Francis Smith, a native of Boston and a Senior at the Theological Seminary then conducted by Phillips Academy, was sitting in a house on Main street, Andover, looking over some German music books. Of what then happened Smith, years later wrote:

Written on Scrap Paper
"Falling in with the tune of one of them (the German songs) and being pleased with its easy and simple movement, I glanced at the German words, and seeing that they were patriotic, instantly felt the impulse to write a patriotic hymn of the same tune. Seizing a scrap of paper, I put upon it, within half an hour, the verses substantially as they stand today."

Thus, while the tune of America is like that of the British, God Save the King, it reached Smith as a German hymn. The tune with the poem Smith put to it, beginning, My Country, 'Tis of Thee, was first played in public at Park Street Church, Boston on Fourth of July, 1832. It was 19 years later before it became generally known.

Though George Washington had been dead more than 30 years when Smith wrote the words of America, there is little doubt that the Father of His Country knew an earlier hymn by the same name.

Published in 1770
The original America was first published in 1770—music by a versatile Bostonian named William Billings, a tanner with a passion for singing in, and training, choirs; and words by a certain Rev. Dr. Byles, a Boston preacher-poet.

Belief that Washington knew this America is based on the fact that other times by Billings, published in the same book, were well known to soldiers of the continental Army, including "Chester," a rousing anthem with rhythm and movement well adapted to drum and file.

Billings' America appeared as the first piece of music in his New England Psalm Singer, a thick volume of his own compositions which was the first complete book of American compositions to be published in this country.
