Extends Area In Fight On Beetle

THIS YEAR'S QUARANTINE RE-STRICTIONS COVER APPROX-IMATELY THE EASTERN
HALF OF PENNSYLVANIA

Latest details regarding the regulations and restrictions to be enforced this year in connection with the control of the Japanese beetle, have been announced by the bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The quarantine restrictions now cover approximately the eastern half of Pennsylvania, the line runs south from the Tioga and Bradford county line. Includes the greater part of Lycoming, a part of Clinton, Snyder, splits Mifflin in half, and then goes south between Huntingdon and Juniata, and Fulton and Franklin counties. All territory east of this line is included in the quarantine.

The restrictions affect the movement of nursery stock, greenhouse stock, soil, sand, compost and manure throughout the year. These may not lawfully be taken outside of the quarantine district without inspection and certification by an inspector of the Department of Agriculture. Officials say that insures are often made about the reason for having this regulation persist throughout the year. The reason is that the Japanese beetle is found in the soil or soil products throughout the year, and the movement of any of this material would result in the extension of the infested district.

The restrictions of the movement of farm produce is necessary because of the flying habits of the beetle and for its preference of certain farm crops and produce. This year the regulations are made to include only green corn on the cob, beans in the pod, bananas, apples, peaches, blackberries, blueberries, huckleberries and raspberries. The restriction on the movement of these extends from June 15 to October 15. Following in this same regulation, comes cut flowers and portions of plants without roots and free from soil. This includes such material as branches, twigs of trees, shrubs, scions, Christmas trees, holly, laurel, sphagnum moss and grass.
The only tuber which comes within the regulation is the dahlia. These may not be lawfully moved at any time except after inspection and certification.

Anyone interested in moving any of the articles enumerated in this quarantine may secure detailed information by applying to the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg.

CASHVILLE

Some may call it Pleasant View but just the same it's Cashville, says our veteran resident, John W.
Rhoads.

There are a number of improvements thruout this vicinity. J. M.
Forrey recently erected a new pig sty and poultry house combined; Harry Donich is painting his dwelling and thinks prosperity is just around the corner.

Frank Schwanger, our up-to-date cattle dealer, is improving his premises. He made concrete cellar steps, a concrete porch and is now painting and papering his house, building a garage and soon everything will be spick and span. Abram Butzer, of Rheems, is doing the work.

The United Zion children will hold a love feast on Saturday evening, June 4, and on Sunday following in the morning they will elect a minister. Bishop Light, from Cla-ona, will be in charge. All are welcome.

There is a Sunshine Singing Class in Rapho township. Those who like music just give them a call. We do not know who is in charge.
Samuel Heiley, of Lebanon County, delivers coal from the mines here in Cashville and elsewhere for $8.15 per ton. Give Harvey G. Becker, at Sharp's Corner, a call.

Urges The Use of State Mined Coal

IF POLICY IS ADOPTED, IT WOULD FURNISH EMPLOY-MENT FOR MANY WORKMEN
NOW IDLE

"Pennsylvania consumers of bituminous coal should know that they are contributing much to the prosperity of Southern West Virginia.
Recently a Central Pennsylvania retail coal company purchased 2500 tons of egg and stove Pocahontas coal from producers of Southern West Virginia. This tonnage displaced just that much Pennsylvania coal and would have given employment to many idle Pennsylvania miners whose families depend on charity from badly depleted emergency relief funds," Governor Pin-chot said today.

"Within reasonable limits," said the Governor, "Pennsylvania consumers can be supplied from Pennsylvania mines, which produce the highest grade of anthracite and excellent grades of bituminous coal for domestic, steam, and industrial uses.

"Last year approximately 300,000 tons of Southern West Virginia bituminous and Virginia anthracite coal came into Central Pennsylvania for domestic use alone, taking the place of a similar quantity of Pennsylvania coal, mostly anthracite.

"Low wage rates in the Southern States and the preferential freight rates are the principal causes of severe losses of Pennsylvania tonnage.
Emergency all rail freight rates on southern coal were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission to points in Central and Eastern Pennsylvania to relieve the 'famine' in coal for domestic use during the labor trouble in the anthracite coal fields in 1926. These emergency rates should have been canceled in the spring of 1927, but are still in effect, to the detriment of Pennsylvania production.

"Gas works and power plants in the Philadelphia district still pur-
