Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."
Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.
For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drugstore—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and it after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

An Interesting Western Trip

became entangled in a congestion of traffic due to a large fire. However we saw another parade in Chicago, not fantastic, but one as impressive. Thousands of unemployed men marching in long lines to the soup houses—Pigs! Pigs! Oh! no this wasn't a farm show, we were driving through Iowa. In this same state at Nashua we visited the "Little Brown Church in the Vale." At West Bend we enjoyed one of the "highlights" of our trip—The Grottos of Redemption. South Dakota contributed many worthwhile things to our trip. "The Corn Palace." The very scenic "Black Hills" and "Bad Lands."
The girls were thrilled on the mountain passes of the "Black Hills" but it was my turn when I saw the many snakes in Wyoming. The cattle ranches, Indians and the vast waste lands of this state was a great contrast to Lancaster county. Before entering Casper we drove through the most celebrated oil fields of the west including the area of the "Teapot Dome Scandal." It was ten a. m. when we entered Casper and the whole town was excited. The famous "Al G. Barnes Circus" was arriving. And as you have guessed—it was five p. m. when we left the "big tent." It was a big day for the Wyoming cowboys—and we too!
When we stopped for gas at Shoshoni, the attendant told us the southern entrance to "Yellowstone Park" had been snowed shut since fall. So we followed the route he directed through Cody, home of "Buffalo Bill" Cody, to the east entrance of the park. Here the ranger greeted us in heavy winter clothing. He told us what to expect and the danger. The usual difficult drive was made more so by snow banks higher than the car on either side. In the center of the park we stopped to put on a double supply of clothing and make something to eat—this was interrupted by a visit from "Mr. Bear." A second ranger advised us to leave the park at once as a snow storm had already begun. We gladly accepted his advise as the ice was forming on the windshield. Later we learned from tourists that the weather conditions were the same weeks later.
We left the snow behind us and drove directly into the rainy season of Idaho. We bought the famous "Idaho potatoes" at one cent per pound. Sugar beet factories and long potato cellars were seen everywhere.
Salt Lake City is just forty percent Mormon—it surprised us too! An interesting guide took us through the important religious buildings open to all denominations. The temple for worship is barred to all except Mormons. Our guide was a direct descendant of Brigham Young. Many beautiful orchards surround "the Salt Lake."
We "doubled back" through Idaho on the original "Oregon Trail" to the beautiful "Columbia Highway." We were very much interested in the salmon fisheries and natural scenery. The beauty of the roses of Portland could never be exaggerated and a festival is held annually. Throughout the entire state of Oregon, we were all greatly impressed by the magnificent, modern school buildings. We followed the "Pacific Coast Trail" and ferried the ocean six times until we reached California.
We were met at the "state line" and were inspected for fresh fruit and vegetables, flowers, shrubbery, alfalfa bugs and other insects strange to us. "The Redwood Forests" are loved by all Californians and are spoken of as the "Redwood Empire." These giant trees are thousands of years old and reach a maximum height of 375 feet diameter of 30 feet.

MAKES SURVEY OF CAMP SANITATION

The July camp inspection of the restaurant hygiene division of the State Department of Health is now under way, with Howard M. Haines, chief, in the field.
More than 100 camps in nearly every section of the Commonwealth will be visited, to see that their personnel and equipment measure up to the requirements of Health Department. Both proprietors and employees must pass medical examinations and hold health certificates from reputable physicians.
Scrupulous cleanliness is demanded in every part of the camp culinary activity, with complete protection of all food supplies from dust, dirt and flies. All types of the temporary eating places, as well as emergency kitchens for the feeding of the unemployed, will be given close attention by the division during the current month.

Coast, boasts of a group of Public School Structures envied by the world. Leaving here we motored through the citrus fruits and vineyard region to San Francisco. We entered the city by ferrying across "Golden Gate." Everyday brought a new thrill as we visited Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Hollywood, Pasadena, Meliba Beach, Hermosa and Long Beach. The last city has proven to be a great favorite with us. Los Angeles and Long Beach are the two fastest growing cities in the United States. The entire "West Coast Fleet" and half the "East Coast Fleet" are in the harbor at Long Beach. We have seen them practice and drill from the piers.
For the past three weeks we have been leading a life of leisure at Seal Beach. This is a "Beach Colony" just 2 1/2 miles from Long Beach. The climate is ideal with tropical surroundings.
World participants are arriving daily for the Olympic games and setting in a colony three miles from here. Greater preparation is being made every day as the time for the games approach.
In one week we begin our journey homeward. Our route being through Mexico and Southern United States. Only the ties of our home make us willing to leave this delightful climate so soon. We could write a good many more pages about the wonderful things we have seen and done but early tomorrow morning we are going to visit the Catalina Islands and boats don't wait for late sleepers. With regards to all my friends, Sincerely,
RUSSEL P. STONER

Have You, The "Can't Afford It" Habit?
THE use of that phrase does not suggest the inability to buy so much as the desire to practice rigid economy . . . to save . . . to deny yourself needed and necessary commodities.
But Man, oh Man, and you, too Madam, how better and more effectively can you practice economy and thrift than to buy when prices are at their lowest ebb in years?
How more certainly can you insure economy than to replace worn or out-of-date furniture than when new is selling for one-third of what it sold for 15 years ago? Or to stock up on food products when they are 40% less than at any time since the war? Or clothing when $53 today will buy you what you paid $100 for in 1912?
What you really cannot afford to do is not buy because you cannot afford to miss today's low levels . . . prices that are an actual boon to reduced incomes . . . to the practice of sensible, far-sighted economy.
