UNLICENSED DOGS
According to records there are more unlicensed dogs (not only in our community but everywhere) this year than ever. This is in all probability due to the fact that the owners do not have the cash.

Unfortunately, dogs have been doing considerable damage to live stock and poultry in Mount Joy township lately. When the information was given the state authorities, a representative investigated and found a large number of licensed dogs. The owners of these canines were compelled, by law, to part with the equivalent of six times the cost of the license.

Owners who have unlicensed dogs will profit by correcting this error at their earliest.

HOW TO OVERCOME IT
At the August meeting of Mount Joy Boro Council, the Ordinance committee was requested to prepare an ordinance imposing a tax of twenty-five cents per ton on all non-resident coal dealers. To also embody in that ordinance a tax on non-resident hokers.

The boro's solicitor, Mr. Jno. A. Coyle, tells us that there is no method under boro codes, whereby such a tax may be levied on non-residents unless it applies to residents as well. That's that.

Elizabethtown boro, (troubled with the same infection) overcame the non-licensed coal dealer proposition by charging twenty-five cents per ton for weighing coal. By so doing they discovered numerous irregularities.

It is quite likely that the same method will be applied here.

GOVERNMENT AS A PRINTER
Small newspapers and printing establishments throughout the nation are suffering greatly from the unfair competition of the government printing return addresses on the stamped envelopes.

This competition is keenly felt by printers. The publishers use their newspapers to help the government in many ways. The public has been educated to the income tax and all other forms of taxation thru the newspapers without cost to the government. Yet the small town newspaper office which does the job printing along with publishing a newspaper loses from $400 to $800 annually because the government prints return cards on stamped envelopes at prices that cannot be touched by any printer.

PROSPERITY RETURNING
There are pessimists and trouble-makers who believe that a panic exists or impends and who do not desire to think otherwise. Their poor distorted minds seem to derive some pleasure out of those visions of ruin and suffering, although it is difficult to see in what way they personally will benefit even though the hard times discredit those of other political and social beliefs.

Fortunately for the future prosperity and happiness of the nation the great body of Americans are optimistic economically, politically and socially. They constantly see before them better times, better things. That is the mood in which one now finds them.

The United States is renewing its natural progress toward greater prosperity, the greater production, greater comfort and better living conditions for the average man. The signs of vigor and confidence are as unmistakable as the signs of the Spring. The winter of discontent is over.

It is not surprising to see the country turning away from its recent troubles and rapidly regaining its habitual stride of prosperity.

We have all been doing a Paul Revere for some time, shouting, "Prepare, Better Business Is Coming." Well, it's here and the business man who is ready to go out and meet it will be happy.

All other public questions are subordinate to the supreme question of keeping the American people profitably employed. If the United States is busy and productive, no obstacle is too great for it to remove or surmount.

WE MUST NOT STOP FIGHTING
We must keep up our fight for reduction of federal expenditures. It is a battle royal and it has only begun. Every man and woman in this country owes it to himself or herself, to the taxpayers of the country, to the economic life of today and tomorrow, to take up and keep up this fight.

How long can this nation endure when it spends in a single year more than twice as much as it re-bathing beaches in the newest of bathing costumes, are in effect for two hours each day. In addition to the usual teaching routine, pupils are taught swimming and boating by trained educators.

St. Petersburg's calendar of the smart social and sporting events for the coming season is more extensive and elaborate than ever before. Charity balls and dazzling dinner dances will be held through the season at the smarter institutions, while tournaments for every known tourist sport will be held through the long winter months.

The annual International St. Petersburg to Havana sailing race, the blue ribbon yachting classic of the Gulf Coast section, will be held on April 14, 1933. Professional golfers from every section of the country will gather here for the St. Petersburg Open and its rich prizes in March.

Deluxe hotels will open in a brilliant blaze of colorful dinner dances late in December for the Christmas holiday season. Most of the 160 hotels located here are now open, while hundreds of apartments have been ready for weeks for the initial rush from the North.

Pennsylvania will again be represented by many tourists who will be here through the winter months, while reservations have already been received at the City Information Bureau for others, who will enjoy their first sojourn in the Sunshine City.

Lancaster County's colony of the winters is expected to reach larger proportions this season with the prevailing low rates in effect at all hotels and apartments, and the low prices for commodities and entertainment.

Most of the Keystone residents who visited St. Petersburg last season will return this fall or in the early winter. Those who were here from Lancaster last season included: Mr. and Mrs. John Alerstuck, West Walnut St.; Mrs. Anna S. Brown, Northwestern Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Dochterman, RFD; Daniel N. Forrey, E. Chestnut St.; Charles Gehr, R. D. Greybill, New Holland Ave.; C. H. Habecker, R. F. D.; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Harnick and Miss Esther Harnick, North Western Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Ira H. Herr and Miss Anna B. Herr, East King St.; Mrs. Anna F. Long, Columbia Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Mohler, Columbia Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rohrer, East King St.; Mrs. Anna Sauder, North Charlotte St.; Miss Dorothea Seltonridge, East James St., and Mrs. Annie B. Sutton, Ruby St.

From Elizabethtown were Mr. and Mrs. David F. Heisey, E. High St.; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Heisey and Gertrude Heisey, East High St.; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Shank, East High St., and Mr. and Mrs. B. Steffy.

Columbia was represented here by Miss Margaret Banner, Bethel St.; Mrs. Emma L. Mehrlan; Mrs. Hester Reishard, Cherry St.; and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Shookers, on Chestnut St.

Others from Lancaster County were: Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Burkholder, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hicks and Mrs. Salinda Seldondridge, of Ephrata; Mrs. Henry Eby and Henry H. Eby, of Mt. Joy; J. N. Hershey and Mrs. J. N. Hershey, of Florin; Levi L. Brubaker, of Millersville; Clark Shank of Manheim; Mr. and Mrs. Phares G. Frantz, of Reinholds; Harry Mellinger, of Rothsville, and Mrs. Anna K. Vogel, of Bainbridge.

That many other Lancaster County residents plan wintering here this season is indicated by the numerous requests being received for the new illustrated booklet, just off the press, descriptive of St. Petersburg and its surroundings, being mailed free to those writing for it.

Both the New York Yankee and Boston Brave baseball teams will return here in February for training prior to the opening of the 1933 baseball season.

Jay Walking
Jay walking was given as the cause of 962 accidents involving the motor vehicles since January 1, the Governor's Committee on Street and the Highway Safety announces. Ninety-nine were fatal and 863 non fatal. Cross streets only at street intersections is the advice given the pedestrians by the committee.

Eight Parties This Fall
Nomination papers from 39 candidates under eight party designations have been filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth to have their names placed on the election ballot in November.

How long will a representative government endure when its representatives seem to think more of their own political seats than they do of the people who keep them there?

Taxation is a means toward an end. It is the legal levying on income and wealth and property to meet the general expenses of the government. But taxation can be pushed beyond reasonable limits. Disaster in one form or another then takes place.

The better way—the business-like way is to cut and prune and slash. Members of congress cannot do this impossible, and no sensible person expects it. All demand that they do the sensible, reasonable thing.

Election is coming. The day after, some members of congress will doubtless realize that the people of the United States are in dead earnest over this thing of reducing the federal expenditures.

Successful Campaign
The summer campaign led by the State Department of Health, to have each one of the 180,000 children who will enter school for the first time this fall, medically examined previous to his matriculation, has been successful, according to reports reaching the school division and the nurses' bureau.

Some of the new fall neckties remind one of an explosion in a dye factory.

U. B. Conference Begins Sept. 27

Following the opening devotions and address by the Bishop, the annual communion and memorial services will be held, after which the conference will be organized. One of the special features of this year's program will be the nomination of ministerial and lay delegates to the next General Conference to convene at Akron, Ohio, next May. The various committees will meet on Monday afternoon, Sept. 26. In the evening the opening conference sermon will be preached by Rev. A. K. Wier, D. D., of Hershey.

Rev. S. C. Enck, D. D., of Harrisburg, the conference superintendent, will submit his fifteenth annual report on the first day of the session. On Tuesday evening the address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Hoyer, of Harrisburg, which will be responded to by the Rev. G. W. Hallman, pastor of the Harrisburg First church. This will be followed by addresses on "The Church Worship Hour," by Rev. C. H. Stine, of Philadelphia, and Rev. C. E. Hollingsworth, of Elizabethtown. On Wednesday evening, the theme, "Christian Loyalty," will be discussed by Rev. B. F. Daugherty, D. D. of Lebanon, and Rev. E. M. Rhoads, of Ephrata.

The following General Church officers from Dayton, Ohio, are expected to attend the sessions and deliver addresses: Revs. J. A. Lyter, D. D., C. W. Brewbaker, D. D., and S. G. Zeigler, D. D. The Quincy Orphanage will be represented by Rev. John H. Ness, and Rev. H. F. Schlegel, will bring the greetings from the Evangelical church, and Mrs. E. S. Nissley, of Harrisburg, from the Woman's Missionary Association.

On Thursday evening, the closing sermon will be preached by Bishop G. D. Batdorf, after which the ordination service will be held and the report of the stationing committee be read by the Bishop.

The following constitute the officers of the conference: Recording secretary, Rev. O. T. Ehrhart, of Lancaster; assistant recording secretary, Rev. D. E. Young, of Harrisburg; statistical secretaries, the Rev. J. O. Jones, of Annville, and Rev. C. R. Longenecker, of Reading; treasurer, J. R. Ennie, Esq., of Palmyra; official reporter and historical secretary, Rev. O. G. Romig, of Hershey.

Requires Fewer School Reports
Other factors include the increased holding power of the schools of today and disappearance of the "truant officer" who has been replaced by the "home and school visitor."

Instead of monthly attendance reports from superintendents to the department, the new arrangement will call for such reports only three times a year. Until further notice these will show attendance at the close of each November and February and at the end of the term.

Teachers and principals will continue monthly reports to superintendents. In this way a check on attendance will be available; the 94 per cent record which has placed Pennsylvania in the forefront of states with average daily attendance records in public schools. The step is taken as an economy measure, effective in the department as well as in the offices of superintendents. Reporting on the issuance of been reduced from four times a year to once a year. Eight to ten fewer reports a year will be possible in this latest economy move by the State Department.

FOREST FIRES FAIL TO KILL RATTLERS
The prevalent opinion in many parts of the country that the forest fires reduce the number of snakes particularly rattlers, is not borne out by the experience of District Forester Paul Mulford of the Tioga State Forest District, with headquarters at Wellsboro.

Mulford reports that two men and a woman killed 126 rattlesnakes in one day on an area in Bradford county near Satterlee Run on a tract of timber land that burned over last year.

Rangers in charge of State Forest road and trail building crews in the north tier counties report that the men often average one rattler a day. A State Forest road worker in Tioga county, recently killed one which, although only eighteen inches long, had seven rattlers and a button.

"Judging from their small size this year," said Mulford, "the rattlers are apparently feeling the depression also."

HOW MUCH is a dollar

Dave Harum said, "When you get hold of ten dollars get it into you or onto you as soon as you can, for there ain't no pocket in a shroud and you're a long time dead."

If you had nothing but money you would be poor indeed. It is the things for which you can exchange the money you earn that set the standards of your living comforts and conveniences.

You know this. But do you know that it is you who largely determines the value of your dollars?

Many things contribute to the distance a dollar will go, but the greatest agent in "value received" is Advertising.

The advertisements in this paper tell you about the best grades of merchandise. They tell you where they can be had and for how much.

They tell you of the new things that manufacturers are producing to make your dollars of real worth to you in greater comforts, better living, more enjoyment.

Read the advertisements. Take time to save time. Take trouble to save trouble. Read to save walking. Search the ads to save searching the stores. And to make the dollar go farther!
