She was a faithful member of Kinderhook E. C. church. By request of the family, funeral services were held Sunday evening at the church taking the place of the regular evening worship. The body was sent to Blaine, Pa. for burial with further services Monday morning there. The Rev. George Raker, pastor of Kinderhook church officiated.

(From page 1) deed for said plot somewhere. Mr. Murphy, custodian of such boro property, searched a number of documents handed him by the late Burgess Chandler and among them he found the deed above mentioned.

The writer was shown the deed yesterday. It was recorded at Lancaster Dec. 15, 1875 just twenty years after it was written. The contents do not stipulate any specific restrictions so far as to say what shall be done with said plot. It was bought and paid for by the boro and they can do with it what they please.

Built Market House
Those old minutes of 1855 further state that $100 was borrowed with which to build a market house. Said market house was to be used for storing fire hooks, ladders, axes, etc. to be purchased for use at fires. The building was also to provide a meeting place for Boro Council which up to that time met at the home of its members. Up until this time practically everybody in town was under the impression that the boro park plot was donated to the town by an individual, could only be used for park purposes and could never be sold.

Time and again attorneys were instructed to search the title in an effort to verify the above facts. No one ever threw any further light on the subject and there are now on file here communications from boro solicitors who advised that the plot could not be sold.

Given to Hall Asso.
In March, 1895, before the erection of the Mount Joy Hall, the Hall Association went before Boro Council and asked for the park upon which to erect the present hall building. At a special meeting of council that body passed an ordinance granting the Association the privilege of erecting the hall building in the park.

When this was referred to the Hall Association's solicitor he advised against it, because there was no record of the boro's legal ownership of said plot. The present location of the hall was then purchased from the Waltz estate and the building erected there.

Our Present P. O.
It may be of interest to our citizens to know just how the present postoffice building was located in the park. The office was for many years, located in the small frame building between Jno. M. Booth's store and A. H. Stumpf's restaurant, then owned by the Bowman's.

Private subscriptions were taken and the money used to erect a frame building on the present site. When completed the postoffice was moved there. This was in 1884. According to the boro minutes the individual contributors were paid in full in 1889 and the building became boro property.

Will Ask Permission
Inasmuch as the present location is ideal for the postoffice, we feel free in saying that a great majority of our citizens will favor retaining it there. Burgess Keener was advised by the Boro Solicitor that Council can instruct him to offer this plot to the government and in lieu of that fact the Burgess will ask that privilege at the regular meeting of Council next Monday evening.

Numerous P. O. Sites Offered

(From page 1) about fifty, just what was desired here and that he had spent the day in town and inspected every plot offered. He also stated that in nearly all cases the prices asked were too high in comparison with the present value of real estate.

Plots Considered
We learned after the meeting that these plots will receive favorable consideration. The M. K. Brubaker Estate property, fronting 96 feet on the north side of East Main street, being the plot between the United Brethren church and Patterson alley. The southeast corner of Main and Delta streets including the property and office building of Henry G. Carpenter, the business place and dwelling owned by Mr. P. Franck Schock and also the property of Harry Nissley.

The southwest corner of West Main Street and Comfort alley including the properties of Mr. Chas. Ricksacker and all the properties of the Detwiler Estate as far west as the residence of Postmaster William Tyndall.

The southeast corner of East Main and Barbara streets, now occupied by Mr. Newcomer's gas station and Mr. Ream's office and garage. This entire plot is owned by Mr. E. Ream.

The southwest corner of East Main and Delta streets including the properties of Mr. Roy B. Sheetz and Miss Mazie Kern were also considered but were not offered.

The last and most favorable plot spoken of was our boro park. An interview with Burgess Keener today disclosed the fact that after the meeting of Boro Council next Monday night, this plot may also be offered to the Department. Inasmuch as the Postoffice Department never carries fire insurance on any of its buildings, they prefer a corner plot and then usually build 40 feet from all abutting property lines. Brick or stone adjoining buildings are also quite preferable. If none of the above plots can be purchased at what the Department thinks is a reasonable price, other sites will be considered. At the public meeting no questions were asked of the Department's representative, neither was there any discussion, all present seemingly being satisfied to get a new post office building no matter where located.

Mr. Brown, during his remarks, stated, however, that a location will be selected which is most convenient to the business district and its people, stating that the Department was desirous of accommodating the multitudes.

The Proceedings
Mr. Brown will compile his data and then report it to the Joint Interdepartmental Committee at Washington, which in turn, will order the purchase of a plot if the price is agreeable.

After the site has been acquired, some time will be required to prepare plans and specifications for the building. We are however assured that there will be no unnecessary delay in commencing actual construction work on the project inasmuch as all the inspectors to our office here in the past few years recommended more spacious working accommodations.
