NO LOSS WITHOUT SOME SMALL GAIN

A statistician has figured that the United States loses 30 years every little while by the almost universal practice of waiting for the traffic light to change.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Now when departmental reorganization in interest of economy is demanded at Washington, taxpayers should look to same overhauling in cost of local governments.

They should also wake up to the fact that the continued issuance of "tax-exempt" bonds for public enterprises is cutting down the taxable assets of every community.

The Government has just outlawed "hoarding" of over $100 in gold, but then Government turns around and provides an avenue for the hoarding of "billions" in tax-exempt governmental securities...

RICH MEN PAY NO TAX

Recent revelations point plainly that wealthy men have been able to escape the payment of taxes because their losses, real or technical, have exceeded their incomes. Many men of wealth have indulged in financial manipulations to establish technical losses and thus cheat the government.

LEANING ON THE GOVERNMENT

We must stop leaning on the government. To look to the government for everything we need is a serious mistake.

There is hardly a class today that is willing to stand on its own feet.

The present trouble, it seems to us, is due to debts and taxes. We must reduce government spending and reform debts. To reduce government spending, we must stop leaning on the government for helping and help ourselves.

Congress has placed tremendous responsibility in the hands of the President for the safe and successful conduct of "vast experiments in planned economy." The country looks to him with confidence that he will do his part wisely and well.

THE UPTURN IS REAL

At last the doctors agree and the patient is convalescent. No longer is the prediction of better times a case of the wish being the father of the thought.

Agriculture passed its low some months ago. Industry circled the nadir in April. Retail business is just now starting the upward climb with the help of rising prices.

Some will say that 9,616 business failures during the first four months of the year indicate anything but a business upturn, but they overlook two things. They forget that during the corresponding period last year there were 12,323 failures, and they do not understand the nature of many of these failures.

Thousands of business concerns capable of weathering the storm, have gone bankrupt during the last year or two. They took this path to break leases at ruinous rentals, or to spend their recovery by shielding back-breaking debts.

Employment is gaining at a rapid rate, and wages are rising. Nor can it be said that the improvement is only

RUTH CHATTERTON BARELY CLAD IN "LILLY TURNER"

As "Lilly Turner," in the First National picture of the same title, showing at the Marietta Theatre, on Friday and Saturday, Ruth Chatterton appears as nearly in the altogether as the legal statutes permit. She has the role of a Carnival Queen whose duties are the luring of men into a medicine tent show. This she does by exposing her devastating figure as much as possible. Clad only in pink tights she poses as Venus and in transparent cheese cloth as Diana. She also performs a cooch dance clad in flimsy garb.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

IN THE days when Marco Polo travelled, trade between East and West was largely for the sake of luxuries and chief of these, were the spices and condiments which acted both as preservatives of food and as disguises to "high" flavor.

Today's simplicity of seasoning is made possible by our understanding of spoilage and how to prevent it by proper refrigeration. This care must be continued in production, shipping, retailing and finally in the home. It is most important that milk, eggs, butter, meats and fish be kept cold or else they should be bought frequently in small quantities.

Midsummer vegetables for salads are plentiful. Be sure to marinate them in a dressing of olive oil, seasonings and lemon juice or vinegar. The small fruits and cantaloupe and watermelon are abundant this week. Here are the Quaker Maid Kitchen's menus for the week.

Low Cost Dinner: Chuck Pot Roast with Potatoes, Carrots and Onions, Bread and Butter, Chocolate Pudding, Top Milk, Coffee or Tea.

Medium Cost Dinner: Baked Liver, Macaroni and Cheese, Tomatoes stuffed with Celery Salad, Watermelon Pickle, Bread and Butter, Grape Juice Sponge, Milk.

Very Special Dinner: Grape Juice Cocktail, Broiled Steak, Baked Potatoes, Baked Stuffed Tomatoes, Watermelon Pickle, Sliced Peaches, Macaroons, Coffee (hot or iced), Milk.

"One-Room Apartments" for Hens in Modern Egg Factory

DESPITE the fact they never get out of doors, these layers in individual cages lead healthy, normal lives and make excellent records in producing high-quality eggs. This form of intensive poultry keeping, practiced by an ever-increasing number of modern egg producers, has several important advantages. It gives the poultryman better control over disease, eliminates mortality from cannibalism, and enables him to standardize the quality of his eggs. The secret of success with this method of housing layers is to supply the birds with a good ration containing the vitamin D of which they might ordinarily be deprived when shut out of from sunlight. Fortified cod-liver oil, rich in vitamin D, is widely used for this purpose.
