This Man Hasn't Tasted Water for Thirty Years

Rockport, Mass.—Water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink, has been John E. Sullivan's slogan for nearly half a lifetime.

To his total abstinence from drinking water, he attributes his rugged health.

Thirty years ago, Sullivan, this seaport's veteran police chief, decided he didn't like the taste of water. Since then he hasn't swallowed a drop of it, quenching his thirst with tea, coffee, milk, and of late, 32 beer.

Six feet tall and weighing 210 pounds, he boasts that he has not known any serious illness since he got off the water wagon.

Mrs. Clinton Longenecker and daughter, Miss Kathryn Longenecker attended the funeral of the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Billett, at New Cumberland today.

A cherry tree is in full bloom on the lawn of Louis Pollack, at Columbia.
