longer, then winter with its biting frosts and piercing winds will be upon us.

If we are to make good President Roosevelt's promise that "this winter won't be like the last" welfare agencies must work harder and extend their scope of activity.

The N. R. A. has put many persons to work and taken many families from the Welfare list—but no human agency can stay the hand of fate—and into many lives this winter, sickness, disaster, and death will stalk.

Present employment will not take care of obligations accumulated during the lean years, nor will it lay up an immediate surplus for the rainy day.

Welfare work must go on—The Needlework Guild of America is the one agency—the one charity that helps all charities—an organization that brings to everyone—rich and poor alike—the opportunity for helping those less fortunate than themselves—the annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linens or if preferred a donation of money constitutes membership.

Men, women and children may become members by giving to some director of our local branch. All kinds of wearing apparel are useful. There is always a demand for warm underwear, nightwear, sweaters, shoes, blankets, sheets, pillow cases, towels, etc.

In the distribution of the garments all ages and both sexes are taken care of—from new born infants to those advanced in years. Let every Director and Member give their garments this year with care and thought. Perhaps there is some particular child or family you would like to help. Make your wish known by marking your garments accordingly and report same to your director. The committee will then see that the proper persons will receive them.

If you are not a member, why not join now and help our local Branch in doing their part in this great work for good.

Select Proper Lights Proper lighting calls for adequate lights, absence of glare, good distribution, and pleasing appearance. In artificial lighting, selection and placing of the fixtures should be carefully considered.

Continue Sound, Economical Republican Housekeeping in Lancaster County

Lancaster County has long been a bulwark of Republicanism. Our forefathers and now we, are Republicans.

We have seen the principles of the Republican Party govern efficiently and economically the great county of Lancaster. We must be sure the Republican Party, on its record down thru the years and on the calibre of its candidates, will get the support it so richly deserves from the electorate on November 7.

We are confident the tested principles of the Republican Party will again be upheld in Lancaster County.

A Special Election

to fill the vacancy in the General Assembly caused by the death of Thomas J. Brown, of Mount Joy, will be held at the same time as the general Election, November 7.

Members of the Republican County Committee residing in the second legislative district, which includes all of Lancaster county outside Lancaster city selected Harry E. Trout as the candidate.

Each voter in the county, outside the city, will receive a separate ballot when he or she enters the voting place and will cast it at the same time as the General Election ballot.

Mr. Trout will be elected to serve until January, 1935, which is the balance of Mr. Brown's term.

Lancaster County Has the Lowest Tax of Any County in Pennsylvania! Vote to Keep it Down!

You have seen the Democratic-Coalitionists boost the assessments in Lancaster city from $30,000,000 to $105,000,000 in eight years—an increase of more than 3 1/2 times. Don't let them do the same thing in Lancaster County—unless, of course, you want to pay 3 1/2 times as much taxes.

Lancaster County has benefited greatly by its Republican representation in Harrisburg. Lancaster County is recognized there as one of the Republican strongholds of Pennsylvania, and treated accordingly. Don't lose that valuable position in the affairs of the state. Keep our county representation in the General Assembly solidly Republican. Turn down the Democratic-Coalitionists in 1933 as you did in 1923, and 1925 and again in 1927. Be sure Good Housekeeping in the conduct of Lancaster County's affairs under Republican policies continues.
