Mother—Alice, it is bedtime. All the little chickens have gone to bed. Alice—Yes, mama, and so has the hen. —Des Moines Register.

Plant Late Vegetables Among the vegetables which can be planted this week are beets, carrots, string beans and sweet corn, except in the northern part of the state. Late cabbage can be set out. In the shorter season counties endive, Chinese cabbage, kohlrabi, and kale may be sown. In southern counties these can be sown July 15.

LITTLE AMERICA AVIATION and EXPLORATION CLUB With Byrd at the South Pole by C.A. Abele, Jr. U.S.N.A. President METEORS BY MILLIONS!

Francis S. Dane, Jr., of Lexington, Mass., with one of our dog teams at Pressure Camp.

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, June 26 (via Mackay Radio)—I have just come down from the astronomical tower after observing my trillionth meteor. May be it was my squillionth! Anyhow, it is pitch dark and I'm cold and tired, but I must get this story off to you on time. I am now a regular member of what we call the "Meteor Party," helping Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, of Mt. Pleasant, Ia., chief of our scientific group and second in command here while Admiral Byrd is off in his hot 123 miles away; James M. Sterrett, of Beaver Falls, Pa.; Ralph W. Smith, aviator, of Fredericktown, O.; and Earle B. Perkins, of New Brunswick, N.J. Every night now for several weeks we have sat in the observation tower, about which I told you in a previous story, observing an area about 12 miles in diameter and to an atmosphere depth of about 100 miles. In Dr. Moulton's book, "An Introduction to Astronomy," which I am studying, he calculates that, if it were humanly possible, we could observe at any given time from ten to twenty million meteors daily. In other words, that number of meteors are in motion and headed toward the earth every day within the canopy of atmosphere which which the world is surrounded. Luckily only comparatively tiny pieces of a few of them ever reach the earth, being burned by the friction caused by their rush through our atmosphere. Twenty million full sized meteors hitting the earth all at once! Well, we shouldn't last long!

Dr. Poulter's calculations, however, differ from those of Dr. Moulton. Dr. Poulter says there are at least thirty million meteors flying around in space every day and that in the meteor showers of June 6 and 7 we were seeing about three times that number. And we believe him! This is a careful calculation based on two months' observation by five observers. In all probability this is due to the great depth of the atmospheric canopy in these latitudes, also to the complete freedom from dust, smoke and vapor down here at the bottom of the world. These observations will be continued until the winter night ends in August and we should have some very interesting new data and theories which should be of great value to all astronomers. Work of this kind makes the winter night in Little America very interesting and it has certainly given me a chance to acquire some real knowledge available to only a few people in the world. Wonder what I'll be able to do with this knowledge later on! From cows to seals to astronomy. From aviation to ship navigation to contract bridge. Such is life around the South Pole! And Gee! How I'd like a hot bath, with real soap and big rough clean towels! Incidentally, we heard perfectly the round-by-round description of the Baer-Carnera fight. Some battle!

Schools and colleges are closing up where you are but 309 entire classes have enrolled in our club. If you're interested in what we're doing, off at the lower end of the world, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me at our American headquarters and a blue membership card and big working map of all Antarctica will be sent you, all without cost or obligation.
