CIRCUS ELEPHANTS WED IN COLORFUL CERE MONY-With an entire block roped off for the occasion, Jumbo II, one of the few African elephants in captivity, was wedded to Burma Rangoona, a sprightly young Indian elephant at Los Angeles recently. Another large elephant enacted the role of minister.

SCIENCE'S LATEST EFFORT TO CUT HIGHWAY DEATHS—The world's longest stretch of illuminated high-way was opened recently between Duanesburg and Schenectady, N. Y. Eighteen miles long, it marks the last word in highway lighting. The installation, made by engineers of the General Electric Company, is the result of seven years research in highway lighting in and about Schenectady County.

PEACHES, cantaloupes and pears are the outstanding fruits this week though apples, plums and grapes are plentiful and reasonable. Grapefruit is now coming to market in fair custiful.

Beef and young chickens are again good values. More quality lamb is available at slightly easier prices. Veal, fresh pork and smoked meats are high though smoked meats have a strong summer appeal regardless of price. Fish is both less plentiful and more expensive than last year.

Higher prices are being asked for dairy products, eggs, grain foods and canned vegetables as a direct result of heat and drought.
