Dairy farmers, poultry raisers and tobacco growers were declared exempt from contribution to the Pennsylvania Untha Washington Dance. employment Compensation, Secretary Bashore declared ng store to open here. Wednesday. These have been border line questions and remained unanswered until now.

Who wouldn't be a farmer today?

We are in hearty accord with the railroads of the country in their objections to new legislation at this time that would work hardships on many. It is an effort on the part of the ontinued Jan. 1st. Legislature to regulate railroad conditions. The railroads four shoats for $24.00. have had headaches enough the past few years, so why legislate against them now during his hour of recovery. The few additional men they would employ if the "Full Crew" bills to sixty hands or thirty people. are passed not even be a drop in the bucket toward recovery.

At the Farm Show at Harrisburg last week 54 out of 57 tobacco prizes were won by Lancaster county growers. A young lady not far from Mount Joy showed corn growers the way to raise 'Sure Crop' and then a lad from Rapho township in his teens exhibited the "best ten ear exhibit at the show."

If that isn't showing off Good Old Lancaster County to the rest of the state we miss our guess by a mile.

GOOD MERCHANDISING

Inventory time is past. The majority of our local merchants are now through with that laborious task of taking stock and closing their books for the year that is past. Practically all of them have discovered that they are long on some items of merchandise. For the most capable of merchandisers cannot determine exactly what the public will demand. other horse Confronted by facts disclosed in his inventory the active, modern, live wire merchant decides to move his surplus items by offering attractive bargains. He knows that it does job press in operation at the Herald office, not pay to carry these items over to next season. He realizes that fashions change and that public taste is not constant. Does anyone remember? Furthermore he wants the money now tied up in slow sellers reinvested in up-to-date merchandise for which there will be ed calves, valued at $500. an active demand in the future. F. G. #### COULD HAVE SAVED 24,000 LIVES!

Twenty-four thousand lives would have been saved and ents at York County over the weeknearly a million injuries prevented between 1926 and 1935 end. had the national trend in motor vehicle accidents kept pace with the reductions made in states having standard drivers' license laws, according to the National Safety Council.

This conclusion is reached in a new study of license regulations, entitled "Saving Lives Through a Drivers' License Law," prepared by the Council for free distribution.

Here is irrefutable evidence that the human element, not Keefer, at Millersburg. the mechanical, weather or any other agency, is the principal cause of highway slaughter.
