At a recent meeting it was suggested that the Boro furnish free water to both local cemeteries. The solicitor advised against this and no action was taken. Each of the cemeteries pays $5 per annum.

To Change Parking
There is objection to the manner in which cars are parked on the north side of East Main street from the Lincoln restaurant west. POLE CLIMBING LINEMEN REGISTER JUST COMPLAINT

Linemen whose duties require them to climb poles day after day find in all kinds of weather, are stepping forward with a complaint which will doubtless fall on sympathetic ears. Frequent lacerations of wrists and knees and some bad falls due to spurs striking heads of nails or tacks in the poles, to say nothing of much tearing of clothing—all caused by tacks and nails used by folks who nail up on poles advertising matter, etc., have prompted the linemen to invite the attention of the public to this added hazard they are compelled to face.

Nails and tacks remain protruding from the poles long after the advertising matter has worn out or blown away, the linemen say, resulting in hundreds of cases of very painful lacerations, many of which cause the men to lose time from their work.

In the belief that this sort of a hazard is due more to thoughtlessness than anything else, the linemen feel that their request to have the practice of using the poles as bill boards stopped will meet with popular approval.

Farmers Are Puzzled On Sale Of Eggs

who conduct that enormous White Leghorn farm a short distance west of town, in East Donegal township.

This concern produces an average of 7,500 eggs per day the year round and naturally a large number of them are double yolked. But Musser Bros. don't worry about trivial matters such as selling eggs by the pound.

There is no law stipulating the price of eggs. The matter of supply and demand regulates the price. This farm sells all its double yolk eggs and makes the price in accordance with the selling price of regular eggs.

According to weight, a dozen double-yolk eggs weigh half again as much as a dozen average eggs, therefore the price should be in proportion.

In that way all eggs can be disposed of at uniform prices. All the eggs produced by Musser Bros., except those used for hatching, are sold to New York markets.

lents of Mount Joy.

These six winners were then entered in the finals which were won by the Ellis-Hickernell team. Second prize went to Ray Snyder of Mount Joy and third prize was won by Bobby Metz, of Lancaster.

The moving pictures of the Easter parade to and from church proved to be quite a surprise to some residents who were not aware of the fact their pictures had been taken, while others tried to dodge the cameraman but only succeeded in giving impromptu performances that were most amusing.

Many of our local executives of manufacturing plants and business places were most courteous and very nonchalantly posed for the cameraman.

All in all the entire show was most entertaining, amusing and different and the Firemen deserve a great deal of credit in producing such novel entertainment.

Thru the excellent patronage a neat sum was realized for the firemen.
