

OWL LAFFS

BY A WISE OWL

Here's a little neat summing up that I don't think you should miss.

A fellow from Florin has it all figured out. He allows that "Girls love fur coats, a fur coat costs a lot, but a lot is a piece of land, and land is dirt. Therefore—girls love dirt."...See-e-e?

Monday evening I met Beamy Bates, J. Roy and seven or eight other firemen walking back Market St. with a length of fire hose wrapped around them.

A junk peddler was driving on Barbara Street when he called to a spinster standing in front of her home, "Any old bottles you'd like to sell lady?"

Did you know that moths aren't really fighting when they make the fly fly?

One of our more daring Freshmen walked into class this morning wearing a coat which truly outdid Joseph's. The clash of colors all made a noise.

A certain housewife on Donegal Street says: "All men are not homeless, but some are home less than others."

A young farmer had his city girl out to his home for dinner on Sunday. After the meal he was showing her the sights of the farm.

And now, a bit of advice to the tired housewife—"On getting rid of a husband, if at first you don't succeed, try—try a gun."

One of our rural teachers tells us of this little incident that happened in her school recently. One of the pupils had written, "I love teacher," in big white letters, on the blackboard at lunch time.

About the only type of girl who has any use for a windy guy is a flat tire.

The post office corner crowd was discussing a friend's coming marriage, when one fellow remarked: "You know, that girl Ben's to marry is certainly accomplished. She can swim, dance, play golf, drive and sing."

Well, to illustrate, it is getting worse and worse, the way that bunch of practical jokers down at the barber shop are acting up.

Last week John Brubaker, (he's much better than you), went into the shop for a shave. While he was having a hot towel, one of those combed removed his shoes. When John was all prettied up and ready for his shoes they were no where to be found.

Then someone suggested that he might look next door at the Lincoln Shoe Repair shop, because shoes just naturally are found there.

Wrestling At Manheim

This Saturday finds the banks closed due to the fact a legal holiday, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, is commemorated. However, Manheim will be wide open Saturday night in view of the fact the Manheim Athletic Club wrestling team will stack its charges against that of the famous Baltimore Y. M. C. A. wrestling team on the Manheim High School mats.

The first bout is scheduled for 8 o'clock P. M. With but two days remaining the local charges are practicing in earnest and preparing to their fullest extent to extend the invading grapplers a hearty and welcome invitation into the thorough wrestling tactics employed by the man who have dominated the mats for the Manheim A. C. in the past years.

As in years gone by the famous Baltimore aggregation will be represented on the mats by an exceptionally strong team. According to word received from the Baltimore management the following men are likely to be used: Gilbert Redmond, Milton Andes, Doug Lee, Johnny Eareckson, Ed Blake, Shaduk, Don Might and Johnny Schaff.

The majority of the men listed are South Atlantic A. A. U. Champions. Johnny Eareckson, known the country over, is one of the most clever wrestlers to ever don a pair of grappling tights. He is a South Atlantic Champion, former National A. A. U. Champion, former United States Olympic team star and the present 135 pound National Y. M. C. A. Champion.

Another clever performer, who adds comedy to any meet is Don Might the Baltimore 175 pound entry. Might employs what is commonly known as the rough stuff and has the fans on their feet throughout the entire bout.

The blond warrior again promises to display the courage he has shown in the previous meets wrestled this season by the Baltimore team.

To speak of the strength of the Baltimore team one must mention the fact that the Maryland outfit is the present National Y. M. C. A. team champions and were runner-ups to Oklahoma University for the National A. A. U. team champions title last year.

To match the strength of the invading maulers, Coach Hollibaugh of the Manheim A. C. has gotten together a team which will match not only the strength and strategy of the Eareckson coached men but also the speed needed in the grappling wars today. The probable line-up is very uncertain at the present, however, it shall be released within a day or two. To learn more of the meet and also the local line-up read your daily papers. It is anticipated a crowd of 600 people will make their appearance in the High School gymnasium Saturday night.
