

Veils, Other Doodads In Spring Bans

Hollywood's many style authorities took a look this week toward next spring and summer and saw more "won'ts" than "wills" as far as the new crop of feminine fashions for 1938 are concerned.

Travis Banton, designer, is banning veils. Second on Banton's list of "noes" came puffed sleeves and evening gowns which do not adhere to the narrowest possible shoulder strap arrangement with a frank expanse of undraped neckline.

Banton is featuring short, pleated skirts for daytime, with short, semi-fitted jackets. Evening gowns will mold the figure. Hats, according to Banton, will be low and flat but will be either definitely very large or very small in breadth.

Grays are his favorite tones. As far as fabrics are concerned, Banton advocates the largest, boldest printed designs available for advance gowns for both daytime and evening.

Historic Sketch And Reminiscences of Mt. Joy And Vicinity

From Its Earliest Settlement to July 4, 1876

(Continued from last week) According to census returns the population in 1800 was 1729. In 1870 it was 1896, and now 1876 supposed to be 2200.

The population is double what it was in 1851. Property has steadily increased in value. The assessed valuation in 1876 $509,416.

The offices of our Borough are a Burgess, and six councilmen. Burgess at present time, H. Shaffner, Councilmen at present time, S. N. Eby, J. B. Shelley, and Samuel Kurtz, East Ward. Peter Helman, Henry Stager, and Henry Garber, West Ward.

Number of Freeholders, 311, tenants, 154, single men, 65, number of voters, 420.

Two banks each with a capital of $100,000. First National Bank, H. B. Reis; President A. Garber, Cashier; Mount Joy Union National Bank, J. G. Hoerner, President; J. R. Long, Cashier. The officers are kind and obliging, very attentive, and with the directors, manage so as to do a very safe business.

Large and extensive buildings, in the east end of the Borough, were put up many years ago to carry on the business of manufacturing agricultural implements of all kinds, but principally for making Mowers and Reapers—passing on through several firms, it is conducted at present by Marsh & Company. Making reapers and mowers is their principal work. The article they put up, is an "Improved Valley Chief," known far and near as among the best reapers and mowers now in use. Their machines are sent off daily to almost every part of the country.

We have another Agricultural Implement manufactory on a smaller scale by Wolgemuth & Geyer, where some reapers are also made, they put up threshing machines, corn shellers, etc., and do quite a good business.

Quite a large establishment, a plough factory carried on by Root, Son & Co., where ploughs of every kind are made; also harrows and cultivators. The articles are sent away almost every day in the cars, and many sold to the farmers nearer home. These three establishments have foundries, where castings of every kind are made.

Next comes our Coach Factory by A. B. Landis, where vehicles of every kind are made, and in such credit that he receives orders for carriages from almost every part of the Union.

We can boast of a large Steam Tannery kept going by Kutz and Strickler. In addition to their manufacturing and keeping a supply of leather on hand for the town, country around far and near, they export leather to Europe.

Cabinet or Furniture making is quite a business here, goods of the finest as well as the common kinds are made and kept for sale in these establishments viz H. S. Myers, East Ward; David Engle, West Ward, George Way.

We have two very handsome Drug Stores, one in the East Ward by P. A. Pyle, the other in the West Ward by J. C. Groff.

P. Frank of our Borough has a very large building in which quite a brick business in making malt and beer is carried on. A Steam Flouring mill by J. M. Brandt and mill by water power but a few rods distance from the boro line, by J. A. Snyder. These mills do a large business, not only to supply the town and surrounding country, but are constantly sending quantities of flour to other places. The coal yards by the firms of Shock and Hostetter and E. W. Cassel. At these yards all kinds of stone and coal are kept Lumber Yard by Flowers & Son.

Four Dry Goods and Grocery Stores, where everything in that line of business is kept on the move by S. N. Eby, J. Bowman, Breneman & Longenecker and Raber & Son.

Two Hardware Stores one by H. Stauffer, the other by B. F. Eberly. Two notion and Ladies Furnishing Stores by Mrs. J. McFarland and the Misses C. J. Moore. In these stores, ladies can get almost every thing needed in the dress line, besides these there are a number of smaller stores in which the Millinery and Mantua making is carried on, they too, keep trimmings of every kind needed in their business. Two merchant tailors, Messrs. Culp and Greiner; one Gentlemen's Furnishing Store by G. W. Walton.

Three shops where saddle and harness making is carried on and the goods manufactured and kept for sale. Two places where tinware of every kind is made and kept for sale. A carpet and coverlet weaving establishment, doing a good business by Stager & Son. Wagon making by D. Boyce. Five shoe stores, in each of which boots and shoes are made as well as kept for sale. In this business are the names of W. Dierolf, Selph, Wenger & Son, Miller, Buckius, and some shops where custom work alone is attended to. One Lock and Gunsmith shop by Wm. Kuhn. Town well supplied with butchers and dealers in meats.

Five licensed taverns to entertain strangers and travelers. A number of restaurants and tobacco and candy stores Bakery and ice creameries. One Jewelry store by H. C. Kern, where watches and clocks are repaired as well as kept for sale, with jewelry of every kind. Hat store and hats made by L. Ricksecker.

In the "Art preservative of Arts," we have two newspapers, both weekly, in politics both Republican. The Mount Joy Herald, started in 1852 by J. Stauffer, taken in hand by his son, F. H. Stauffer, now the great novelist, and who was born and educated in this place in 1854 and sold by him in 1864 to the present owner and editor J. R. Hoffer. Size of paper 22x34 inches. In addition to this Mr. Hoffer has in the same building quite a large variety store or goods of many kinds for sale.

The Mount Joy Star was in 1873 is owned and edited by L. M. Gallagher, size of paper 24x36 inches.

The town is not behind in philanthropy and benevolence. There are five organizations, all beneficial:

Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

United American Mechanics. Improved Order of Red Men. Patriotic Sons of America. Knights of Pythias. Seven churches, their houses all substantial brick:

Lutherans, G. H. Trabert, Pastor, number of members 40.

Presbyterian, W. B. Browne, Pastor, number of members 70.

Methodist, J. Dugan, Pastor, number of members 76.

Church of God, D. A. Laverty, Pastor, number of members 175.

United Brethren in Christ, J. W. Etter Pastor, number of members, 97.

Evangelical, D. DeLong, number of members, 70.

New Mennonites, recently established.

These different churches all have good sabbath, none yet in the New Mennonites.

There are at present in the town four practicing physicians, all Allopathists. They commenced practice here as follows A. Sheller M. D. in 1834; A. M. Hiestand, M. D. in 1857 and W. M. L. Zeigler M. D. in 1875.

One Dentist, S. S. P. Lytle in 1873.

Our Justice of the Peace, Martin, McFadden and Zeller are good conveyancers. One of them J. H. Zeller in addition attends to surveying.

To mention everything that is made here and the business of all with their names would take up time and space, and perhaps not make us any more worthy of notice; sufficient it is to say that all that is needed in town or country around, is made here, and if not, brought there when necessary.

We have many beautiful houses in our town, many of them with the modern improvements. The front yards and gardens, decorated with many varieties of flowering plants, the front windows, especially during winter are perfect shows of flowers.

The town is supplied with water from the Creek. The banks were erected in 1874 and 1875, cost $40,000 and increased since. The water is forced up through pipes to a Reservoir on Cemetery Hill, by water, and by steam when the water power is not sufficient. It is carried from the Reservoir in pipes to every part of the town, distance to town three fourths of a mile and the arrangement such that should a fire occur, a signal can be sent to the pump rooms, and by some little change, a force can be applied in a very short time.

The view from the Reservoir and Cemetery Hill is sublime, taking in parts of Lancaster, Lebanon, and York Counties, it will be hard to find anything superior.

The R. R. Company talk of changing the Passenger Depot, and to put up a new building for that purpose in another part of the town. How soon this will be done is hard to tell, and if built, will it better present conveniences!

The contrast between the past and the present is so great that we may say the first was a dot of small things. An inversion of the microscope on the past would show something of the present. I mean in comparison.

And of this day, a sacred day to us, here met to commemorate or call to remembrance what happened one hundred years ago when the glorious Declaration of Independence was signed by the immortal Fifty-six. The signing of which gave a new impulse to everything. The generation that then lived and took part has passed away, not one survives. They have been gathered to their fathers, and we now enjoy the blessings their labors secured.

The results have surprised the world, and never since man united in social union, has there been such continued prosperity recorded upon the annals of time.

With such a beginning and such results and so to continue, imagination in its wildest vagaries cannot picture what will be the returns of the celebration of the next centennial. Will our descendants enjoy the same peace, and freedom and happiness? Heaven alone can tell.

In this land a new Paradise has been opened up and an active, hardy and industrious population have made their home in it, and all over the western states and our own territory, and up to the Pacific ocean. God grant that at the next Centennial Celebration the Star Spangled Banner may still wave over an undivided Republic, and the motto still be "One Country, One Constitution, One Destiny."

NEW WESTINGHOUSE UNITS FEATURE THE "MEAT KEEPER"

"The three considerations every housewife places on the importance any food has in the family diet are, how economical it is, how attractive it is and how great is the nutritive value. These considerations are in turn determined by the adequacy, the efficiency, and usefulness of the cold storage facilities the housewife has in her home," states Mr. F. K. Barth, local refrigerator dealer.

"For instance," Mr. Barth continued, "quantity buying and taking advantage of special food prices offers greatly effect the economy of food purchases. This can be done easily by every housewife if she has an electric refrigerator that is large enough to store the food at the time the quantity is bought. She can obtain a whole week's supply of highly nutritive meats and vegetables at real bargain prices and store them safely until they are to be used."

The modern electric refrigerator has many attractive features such as special meat storage compartment, a glass enclosed fresh fruit and vegetable Humidrawer and super capacity Sanalloy frosters. These will keep them fresh and attractive for days. Meat does not discolor or become tough, lettuce, celery, and other green vegetables do not dry out and become soggy in these especially provided storage compartments of the refrigerator.

The Meat Keeper of the 1938 Westinghouse readily permits this planned economy of meat purchases by providing the proper storage facilities. It is placed in the coldest zone of the refrigerator, being directly under the froster. It is made of porcelain enamel with a lid and has a capacity of ten pounds of meat. Adv.*

TRAVELING CHEMISTRY AND AIR SHOWS TO SCHOOLS

The Franklin Institute of Pennsylvania has two traveling exhibitions, a chemistry show and an air show, which are available at small cost to schools and other organizations.

In the chemistry show, spectacular demonstrations are offered by expert technicians using elaborate equipment. In the air show, actual flying models are used to give spectators a quick but comprehensive grasp of the whole subject of aviation.

Because of a subsidy provided by an anonymous donor, the cost of each show has been cut to $25 for high schools and elementary schools. For other organizations the cost is $75 which no more than pays for materials and transportation.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

By Orton B. Motter

New York, March 10.—Business—Activity in most American industries, though little changed from February, continues to lag behind a year ago. The steel industry's operating rate still clings to the 30% of capacity level, although a better feeling in steel consuming areas was reported last week.

Electric power output is running 8% under a year ago, with about 2,025,000,000 kilowatt hours produced last week. Railroad carloadings were estimated at 54,445 cars compared with 127,134 cars at this time last year. Retail trade showed some improvement from February levels but sales volume for the country as a whole was 5% to 11% under a year ago.

WASHINGTON—Leaders in various branches of industry almost daily are bringing reports to Washington that, in their opinion, the business recession has hit bottom. They look for a gradual rise from now on. Most important important legislative event last week was a new tax bill brought up for discussion in the House and designed to offer "a very substantial stimulation to business" by easing the burdens of the undistributed profits tax and modifying the capital gains, inheritance and gift taxes. The measure is 390 pages long and took more than 100 days to draw up. For corporations with annual net incomes under $25,000 the new bill proposes to eliminate the undistributed profits tax and to substitute a straight income tax of 12 1/2 percent to 16 percent. The existing law compels all corporations, regardless of size to pay an income tax of 8 percent to 15 percent, and a surtax of 7 percent to 27 percent on undistributed profits.

The state public utilities commission billed 19 utilities companies for a total of $75,753.54 for expenses of the commission in connection with investigations from June 1 to Dec. 31.

Modified wage and hour controls are in the mill again with chances at least even for action at this session.

Chief importance of the President's gestures on prices is that they show a recognition of the problem; they do not reveal any solution.

A much modified corporation tax law, retaining only the principle of the undistributed surplus surtax, will be reported to the House by March 10 and will be passed.

Headlines—Western Union, asking for 15 percent rate increase, declares $3,000,000 of added income would be passed on to employees in higher wages. Johns-Manville Corporation, large building supply firm, eliminates dividend on common stock.

YOU CAN'T BUY NEW EYES!

With the exception of the heart, the eyes work harder than any other organ in your body. Day after day they are constantly on the job for you, taking you up and down stairs, directing you through traffic, steering you through crowded stores. Do you give them the care they should have? Remember, you can't buy new ones.

Your eyes should be examined at least once a year. Phone us for an appointment. Lancaster 20713
