THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

By Orton B. Motter New York, March 31—Business—The most important business news last week was the action of the Senate Finance Committee in abolishing the undistributed profits tax and making extensive modifications in the capital gains tax. These two moves, which have been forecast in this column for several weeks, will go far toward easing the oppressive tax burden on business. Small companies with incomes less than $25,000 will be favored under the new bill and will pay less than the flat 18 per cent levied upon larger companies. General business continues depressed and earnings for the first three months of 1938 will be considerably under last year. Stock, bond and commodity markets were sharply lower last week. This writer believes that confidence will gradually be built up now that the "war on taxes" has begun in earnest. Better times are ahead of America, not behind it.

Retail Trade—Reports from various sections of the country indicate that retail business generally is running 11-12% under March last year. This is partly due to the fact that this year Easter falls on April 17th while last year it came on March 28. Sales of automobiles are about 15% under last year while restaurant and drug store business is reported from 5-7% under 1937. While sales in men's wear stores are sharply lower, it is estimated that the combined March-April volume will be off only 10 per cent. Sale of low-priced dresses and suits increased last week in department and specialty stores and will undoubtedly improve further as Easter approaches.

Headlines — Shipment of farm equipment such as tractors, plows, planters, harrows, etc. is holding at 1937 levels. Ambassador Kennedy to Great Britain sees no general war this year. Pan-American Airways ready to start flying mails between United States and Great Britain this summer. Postal Telegraph raises pay of 15,000 employees by $600,000. Mexico confiscates American and British oil industry in that country. Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company nets $9,000,000 in 1937 against $17,085,000 in 1936. This year's orange crop estimated at 66,506,000 boxes as compared with 55,174,000 boxes last year. General Motor sales of cars abroad in February reported 10% ahead of last year. Steel operations rise to 33.7 per cent. General Electric company cuts prices on electric light bulbs averaging 17.3 per cent.

Things to watch for—More men's shoes in color next fall. Three dimensional movies now being experimented with by Warner Brothers. Motor trucks powered by steam engines which will be manufactured by former employees of the Old Stanley Steamer Company. Midlet fire sprinkler systems for private homes and apartments which will automatically flood the rooms with water when fire breaks out. Victrola record-of-the-month clubs. A new type of office furniture which never needs dusting for use in modern air conditioned offices. Do you know—That Japan is collecting China's junk and shooting it back upon Chinese civilians in the form of shells. That more than $50,000,000 of American investment in China have already been destroyed by the Japs. That one of the most successful loan amortment stores in New York, Bonwit Teller, is managed by a woman, Mrs. Hartman M. O'Hlum. That more than 30,000 persons a day are hurt in accidents in this country.

That 8,000,000 people are currently deriving the major part of their income from government or state funds. That more than ten billion pounds of soap are produced and consumed annually by the civilized world, but a quarter of the people in the world never use soap. That the average woman washes an acre of dirty dishes and scrubs five miles of dirty floors every year.

Peanut Business—Few persons realize that the growing of peanuts in America is a $50,000,000 business which outranks silver mining before it was subsidized by the government. In addition to being sold both in shelled and unshelled form, peanuts find their way into candy bars, peanut butter and peanut oil, which replaces cotton seed oil in many industrial uses. Contrary to popular belief, peanuts grow on plants rather than trees. The peanut ripens underground and the plant is then uprooted and dried. More than a billion and a quarter pounds of peanuts are grown in America annually mostly in Virginia, North Carolina and Alabama.

Washington—There is a growing feeling in Congress that the country has legislated itself into a depression. "Let's cut out the monkey-shines and get back to the things we know" seems to be the current sentiment. Unsound laws designed to ruin business rather than help it, such as the proposal to tax chain stores out of existence and throw another million men out of work, only add to the fear complex that has dammed up the flow of new capital into business channels. The President's ouster of Chairman Arthur Morgan of the T V A and the coming Congressional investigation of the administration's pet utility project was the most important Washington development last week.

Future Jobs—Young men with technical leanings are finding opportunities today to develop their talents in the booming air conditioning industry. Though the industry is still believed to be in its infancy, its leaders are apparently determined that there shall be no shortage in manpower to operate the business as it grows. This was emphasized last week when the Carrier Corporation announced that 109 graduates of its first class in air conditioning had been placed in engineering jobs.

Burning Coffee — During the month of February, Brazil, one of the world's greatest coffee producing countries burned 721,000 bags of coffee according to a report from the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange. Since last July more than 11,000,000 bags have been burned and more than 58,500,000 bags have been destroyed since the destruction of the surplus coffee crop program started in 1931. This is enough to fill the coffee cups of the world for more than two full years.
