CORRECT INFORMATION FURNISHED WEEKLY BY THE PA. BUREAU OF MARKETS FOR THE BULLETIN

Cattle market for the past week was quite irregular. Early sales Monday, on all weights of local dry-fed steers also fat grass steers were at steady prices but the hot weather showed its effect by reducing demand and later Monday all fat steers sold 25 lower. Due to narrow demand past few days, attributed to hot weather, all grades of fat steers are closing the week at prices 25 to 50 lower compared with week ago. Bulls with quality selling about steady but plain and light weight bolognas are now 25 lower. Heifers and heiferettes of the better grade show no change in prices for the week but lower grades are on a weaker basis. Cows in fair demand selling at mostly steady prices although some weakness is reported on the medium grades of

3,245,775 SQUARE FEET OF EXTRA OFFICE SPACE

The unusual rapid growth of the New Deal agencies, established during the past few years, has compelled the Government to rent privately owned office space in order that the army of additional office workers can be housed.

Recent tabulation of the Government's employees, not including the members of agencies created by the last Congress and excluding military, legislative and official personnel, showed a total of 840,742—114,544 of them in Washington—drawing an annual payroll of $124,951,733.

In Washington the Government has rented 3,245,775 square feet of extra office space to house this army. The report first made public shows an increase of 30,000 square feet more than last year and 300,000 more square feet than in 1936.

One acre contains 43,560 square feet therefore if figures are correct, about 72 acres of space has been rented to house this extra force of clerical help.

Nothing is mentioned relative to the other extras, such as desks, typewriters, adding machines, chairs, foot rests, telephones, heat, light and other incidentals.

Another idea of the vast amount of space can be fully realized as one exchange states the space is "equivalent of a rectangle one mile long and about 615 feet wide."

This unusual number of new recruits has been added from time to time even though the present leader of the Nation back in 1932, when he flew from New York to Chicago to accept the presidential nomination, said in his acceptance speech:

"We must abolish useless offices—We must eliminate unnecessary functions of government—By our example at Washington we have the opportunity of pointing the way of economy to local government—" He also demanded repeal of laws that "compelled the federal government to go into the market to purchase, to sell and to speculate in farm produce in a futile attempt to reduce surpluses.

Yes, the same personage is leader now that accepted the nomination back in 1932, and made the above and many other suggestions and promises of economy.

Yes, the ship, headed for some unknown port, still sails on.

Mrs. Leiper Jackson and Miss Marion Jackson, of Peach Bottom, visited at the Hershey residence on Tuesday, where Miss Marion will remain for the week as the guest of her sister, Miss Sara, auct.

MANURE PILE ON FIRE
The Pioneer Fire company, of Marietta, extinguished a fire in a manure pile on the farm of Willis Byers, Columbia R. D., Tuesday. Fire Chief John Preston said the blaze was apparently caused by a short circuit in a wire fence charged so the cattle would not rub against it. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Byers who at first thought the barn was on fire.

AUTOMOTIVE TAXES EXCEED MONETARY WEALTH

August 8, 1938 (SPECIAL) Automotive taxes in Pennsylvania now exceed the average monetary wealth of Pennsylvanians, according to a statement made today by W. Purves Taylor, Secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania. "Recent research has revealed that $50 is a fair share of the monetary wealth of the country," Mr. Taylor said. "This totals approximately six and one-half billion dollars, or about $50 per capita.

"Two million automotive owners in Pennsylvania will be interested in knowing their share of the country's money would fail to be sufficient to pay their annual automotive taxes to state and federal governments.

"The average annual automotive tax in Pennsylvania has now reached the very impressive total of $59.31 per vehicle, an increase of 99.7 per cent over the statistically normal year of 1926 when average automotive taxes were only $29.69.

"When automotive taxes balance or wipe out the average motorist's share in the monetary wealth of the nation, we can readily understand why consumer-groups are now voicing a determination to have these taxes abated. Two million Pennsylvania motor owners are today paying fully 37 per cent of all the tax revenues collected by the Commonwealth.

"Our Pennsylvania gasoline tax is now 4-cents per gallon. Only $3 out of every $4 collected is used for highway construction, reconstruction and maintenance. A wave
