

Province of Quebec, Vacation-Land Extraordinary

OLD WINDMILL, GASPE

QUEBEC AND CHATEAU FRONTENAC

SPINNING WHEELS STILL IN USE

OLD HOUSE, ISLE OF ORLEANS

QUEBEC Province, so easily reached from the United States, is a fascinating vacation area. Montreal, with a million people and almost as many attractions, and the ancient city of Quebec, have at their door a vast provincial countryside with an unobscured panorama of life as it was in French Canada nearly three centuries ago.

Canadian farmers who carry on the old traditions of France with loyalty to New France, Canada's Province of Quebec. Fascinating Isle of Orleans on the mighty St. Lawrence River is so near Quebec City—it may be seen from the lofty tower of the Chateau Frontenac—that it attracts many visitors. Like life on Quebec's lower mainland and famous Gaspé Peninsula across the St. Lawrence River, the Isle is much as it was when French-Canada was young. Gaspé, from the Micmac Indian word "Gaspé," means the end, like Land's End in England. The peninsula covers 11,400 square miles and has been described as "a huge finger from the mainland reaching out (170 miles) into the Gulf of St. Lawrence."

The Gaspé is reached by rail, steamship and motor car. And the Laurentian Mountain region with its trout fishing in lakes and streams on the Labelle line of the Canadian Pacific, where big speckled beauties, brown trout, bass and other game fish are just waiting for the cast of a fly or proper bait! There's an expert in Canada, A. O. Seymour, Windsor Station, Montreal, who knows all about fishing in the Laurentians and everywhere in Quebec, and as the friend of all fishermen he will send free information that is helpful to old like Walton's disciples.

RECIPES Tried and True

Easy meals can be more than wishful thinking if careful planning is the order of the day. And, according to Inez S. Wilson, home economist, one of the easiest ways of being assured that meal preparation will require little effort is by planning ahead so that two or three meals are prepared at the same time.

A large roast needs no more preparation than a small one, except that it requires a few minutes longer total cooking time, and then second and third meals may mean little more than slicing and reheating the already cooked meat. Or if a meat loaf is the choice, it is a saving in time and effort to make a larger loaf than is needed for one meal so that there will be some left for sandwiches or for reheating the next day. A whole ham, too, is a good choice for the carefully managed household.

Sliced Beef and Noodles Alternate layers of sliced cooked beef and noodles in buttered casserole. Either roast or pot-roast of beef may be used. Pour leftover gravy over all and reheat in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.). A few chopped nuts may be sprinkled over the top, if desired.

Stuffed Broiled Tomatoes Dice cooked ham into 1/2-inch cubes. Scoop out centers of tomatoes. Combine with any leftover vegetables, such as peas or green beans, and tomato centers. Moistened with mayonnaise. Fill tomatoes with ham mixture, lay a slice of uncooked bacon on top of each and place in broiler oven for long enough to cook the bacon and heat the tomato and stuffing.

Ham Souffle 1 cup finely chopped cooked ham 3 tablespoons butter 3 tablespoons flour 1 cup milk 2 eggs Few drops of onion juice Make a white sauce by blending flour and melted butter thoroughly, adding milk gradually and stirring until smooth. Cook until thickened, then remove from the fire and add egg yolks slightly beaten. Add the meat and seasonings desired. Then fold in the egg whites, beaten stiffly. Pour into a buttered baking dish and cook in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for about twenty minutes. Serve at once.

Devised Egg Delight 1/2 cupful deviled ham 8 eggs 1 teaspoonful salt Mayonnaise dressing Start the eggs to boil in cold water, bring to a boil, and simmer gently until the eggs are hard-boiled. Cool and peel. When the eggs are thoroughly cold, cut in half, lengthwise, and remove the yolks. Mash the yolks with a fork; mix with the deviled ham. Add the salt and enough mayonnaise to just hold the ingredients together. Re-fill the centers with the meat-egg mixture. Garnish with parsley. The deviled ham-egg mixture remaining makes tasty summer sandwiches; particularly nice to serve to unexpected guests.

Simplified Macaroni Salad 2 cupfuls Macaroni 1/2 pound American cheese 8-10 sweet pickles 1/2 green pepper Salt Mayonnaise dressing Add the Macaroni to a large quantity of rapidly boiling, salted water. Boil rapidly until macaroni is tender. Drain off the water. Run cold water through the macaroni, chill in the refrigerator. Dice the cheese, pickles and pepper. Add to the macaroni. Season, and add enough mayonnaise to moisten well. The salad is better if allowed to stand, after being made for several hours. After standing, it may require more mayonnaise, enough to moisten sufficiently.

Salad Delight This is the time of the year to that such a service has been observed here. The guest speaker for this special occasion will be the Rev. John Brubaker, of Mount Joy. The speaker is the father-in-law of Rev. Lester Brubaker, who began his ministry as a member of this Church. To climax this event the service of Holy Communion will be observed. A great meeting is anticipated for this is the beginning of the year.

serve salads and more salads to the family—when served crisp and icy cold, they are delicious. You will like this one we are sure.

Cup the tops off of firm, ripe tomatoes, scoop out the center and fill with the following mixture:

Chopped tender celery, stuffed olives, chopped fine; small cubes of any kind of cold meat moistened with a good salad dressing. Broken English Walnut meats may be used in place of the cold meat, if desired.

It is best to place the tomatoes in the ice box after having been scooped out, as well as the other mixed ingredients which have been placed in a bowl—when ready to serve place tomato on crisp lettuce leaf, filled with the mixture. A small sweet pickle, sliced lengthwise looks nice on top, if desired.

DRIVE THE NEW John Deere Model "A" or "B" Tractor

Get the Feel of the Wheel

BY ALL means, drive the John Deere Model "A" or the new Model "B". See how modern styling and design give you even better vision both to right and left. Note the easy, positive, shock-proof steering. A touch of the foot on convenient foot-brake pedals at row ends or fence lines makes turning easier, shorter. Handy controls conserve time and energy. There's plenty of platform room so that you can either sit in the comfortable seat, or stand up and relax, without stopping work. Drive a John Deere... the tractor that does more work, for a longer time, at lower cost. Ask for a demonstration.

DRAWING BY MRS. COLLINS Mrs. Samuel Collins, on West Donegal Street, has just completed a pencil drawing of the painted, free hand mural that decorates the west wall of Joy Theatre.

Mrs. Collins made seven visits to the theatre, working one and one-half to two hours on each visit. The entire drawing required thirty-two full hours of work.

The sketch, we are told, is perfect in every detail and beautifully shaded.

Mrs. Collins has a great many drawings to her credit and is continuously finding new subjects to draw.
