EDITORIAL

What some fellows will do to get into the headlines. A student at F. & M. ate six live gold fish and did he get publicity.

After six years of recovery it seems pretty hard to understand unemployment figures remaining at record peaks, and relief expenditures at all-time highs.

The people of America can have their choice of socialism or democratic private enterprise—under the American system of free choice. But they can't have both at the same time.

From the testimony in a Philadelphia murder trial it has developed that about seventy people were poisoned for the insurance money. All the bodies are to be exhumed for further evidence.

The annual report of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, shows that in the last years commercial banks, insurance companies, savings banks and other polls of capital which formerly directed their funds mainly into private investments, have put about 17 billion dollars into federal securities, compared to about $1,100,000,000 into corporate securities. Too much politics has stopped normal development in its tracks. Steady jobs come from industry and not politicians.

Steady Jobs Come From Industry

The winner of the $50,000 first prize in a recent movie quiz contest, says her first act will be to buy a new home. This may be her first act, but let's hope she doesn't spend it all, for next she will give a large share of it to the tax collector.

Broke At Sixty-Five

The majority of men who have money at 35 are stone broke at 65. Business failures, bad investments, illness and other unexpected cataclysms tell the tragic story.

The majority of these men could have enjoyed financially independent old ages, instead of having to depend on charity or the bounty of relatives—had they put aside money at the time when earning power was at its height, in some plan.

Only charity can help the indigent old whose savings have disappeared. We can witness these pitiful examples—and guide our own course accordingly.

Education Down On The Farm

The farmer of the future will be far better prepared to grapple with the problems he must face than his predecessors.

The reason for that is education. Farm organizations, notably the agricultural marketing cooperatives, have given great attention to farm youth. Young men and women who look forward to careers in agriculture are given specialized training not only in land utilization and the raising of crops and livestock, but in those economic matters that so vitally affect farm income. When the time comes for them to take over, they'll be ready.

The Rails Make Records

The speed of passenger trains has been developed in the United States to a far greater degree than in any other country. That announcement doesn't come from spokesmen for our American roads—but from the English trade journal, the Railway Gazette.

The review discloses that the American railroads operate 48,247 miles of daily runs scheduled at 60 miles or more per hour. This is more than half of the entire world's mile-a-minute mileage and is an increase of almost 11,000 miles over 1937. And in 1932, seven short years ago, American mile-a-minute runs totaled only 2,022 miles.

More Lawless Laws

In a hurried effort to "pass things" a few years ago, many, many new laws were passed but about the half of them were mostly "crap" as is proven by decisions of the supreme courts.

At Pittsburgh last week the Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional four sections of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

At Washington Monday the Supreme Court ruled that salaries of all State and local Government officials was subject to Federal Income Tax. In this same decision the Court also announced that local taxing authorities might levy upon the salaries of Federal officials and employees.

When Taxes Exceed Profits

Taxes amount to more than net profits in many American business enterprises. A striking example of this is disclosed in a statement recently released by the National Association of Food Stores.

These stores make their profits in pennies but have to pay their taxes in dollars. Last year, taxes paid by the member ligious and social problems, comes this absorbing story.

HAPPENINGS — of — LONG AGO

20 Years Ago

A fisherman's license bill was defeated at Harrisburg.

The action of MARY OF THE ANTHRACITE centers around a beautiful girl whose heroic ambitions make it possible for her to rise above her sordid surroundings. The author has a rare gift for vivid and true analysis of character, and a deep understanding of social conditions, which have aptly fitted him to write this unusual book.

Nearly all the incidents in the novel are based upon actual happenings, a fact which gives it an exciting sense of immediacy and truth which is rare in romantic fiction. All the difficulties and dangers in the mining industry are clearly painted here: strikes, crime, politics, psychological clashes, religious intolerance, and the ever-present conflict between corporation and miner. This unique combination of dramatic factors, mingled with rich humor and pathos, provide a rare story of adventure, interesting from start to finish.

Prof. Roudabush is very well known here as he served as principal of an public schools for a number of years.

This is not Mr. Roudabush's first attempt as an author. Several years ago he wrote "You and Your Schools," which was widely circulated.

There is no better way to boost your business than by local newspaper advertising.

companies in the association came to $1,112 per store, of which state and local governments took four-fifths. Out of every dollar of sales, government took 1.78 cents for taxes—while the average net profit of the stores was but 1.13 cents. In other words, taxes exceeded profits by more than 50 per cent.

Many other businesses are in the same position as these chains. Government comes first, and the owners second—and government's share is by far the largest. These are the businesses that maintain government—and their gigantic payments in taxes provide services for every citizen in the land.

FARMER SAYS

RUNNING WATER BRINGS FARM PROFITS

Electric water systems help farmers to make money. They are also an important factor in raising the farm standard of living. That is why the electric water system is usually the first electrical improvement, with the exception of electric lights, that the farmer installs when electric service becomes available, according to Harris E. Dexter, Chairman of the Electric Water Systems Council.

Murray Wigsten, an up-to-the-minute farmer near Poughkeepsie, N. Y. presents convincing proof of these statements. "Running water means more money to the farmer, more milk per cow, more eggs per hen, more apples per tree, more beef per steer, more straw-berries and raspberries, more vegetables from the garden.

"On my farm, which is not large, we keep 20 cows and 400 to 500 hens. We grow crops to feed them and some to sell. With our modern equipment, one man does all the work.

"But suppose we take away the water system—what then? It would take five hours, every day including Sundays—35 hours a week—just to pump and carry the water. That is a whole week's work to some minds. But suppose it is only half a week's work. These farm men cost, with privileges, about twenty dollars a week. That would be ten dollars a week to pump and carry water! Forty dollars a month! Forty dollars a month would buy the complete electrical equipment for any farm!

"That isn't all. My cows give 15 per cent more milk because they have water in the barn, and the hens lay more eggs with water always before them. I don't know so much about hogs and beef, but common sense tells me plenty of water will add plenty of pounds to them also.

"As a farmer I would like to suggest that more than water comes into a farmer's system when he takes that first cool drink from his new electric water system. He gets an inspiration to modernize and electrify that no other appliance he ever buys will bring him. It pays him big profits, and it makes the step look easy to him", Mr. Wigsten concludes.

May Extend

istrations automatically would be extended to March 31, 1940, adding two months to the life of present tags. Half-rate registration fees would be charged after Oct. 1 and before Jan. 1, and quarter rates during January, February and Mar.

This year's operators' cards, however, would only run 11 months.

Another proposed motor code change now before the Legislature provides for annual inspection of motor vehicles at State-operated stations instead of by private garages.

Under this measure, introduced in the House by Rep. Charles L. Seif, R., Allegheny, the State would inspect vehicles for a flat rate of 50 cents, but any needed repairs or adjustments would be made at private garages. Seif contended the inspection fees would maintain the stations.

BOWL AT NEWVILLE

The Mount Joy Travelers are booked to play at Newville Saturday evening, Apr. 1 when they will oppose the pin spellers of that place.

Hempfield Sportsmen Will Meet

The second regular monthly meeting of the Hempfield farmers and Sportsmen's Association will be held Monday evening, April 3, at 8 P. M., at the Landisville fire house.

The entertainment committee has arranged an interesting and educational program which will include well known speakers connected to the rod and gun sport. A motion picture, dwelling entirely on Wildlife will also be shown as part of the entertainment. Harry Webster of Lancaster who will project the films, has many beautiful and interesting shots taken in many of the mountain counties of Pennsylvania as well as worth while glimpses of moose hunting in Canada.

Every Sportsman in East and West Hempfield townships should attend this meeting because of its importance, as future activities will be outlined fully and many of the various committees will be appointed by the Association Pres. W. J. Staley with the help and advice of the Board of Directors.

The largest attendance since the formation of the new association is expected with the result that the Landisville meeting place will be arranged so that all parts of the spacious chamber will be used for seating accommodations.
