LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL'S FIRST SESSION

On October 30, at seven o'clock in the evening, the Mount Joy Community Leadership Training School will have its first session. The school is meeting early on its first evening, so that the pupils will be able to complete their registration. Classes will begin at seven-thirty. The school will be held in the Mt. Joy United Brethren Church.

Four courses are being offered at this school: "Ways of Teaching," which Rev. Ezra Ranck will teach; "Guiding The Religious Growth of Primary Children," which Miss June Smith will teach; "How To Find and Use Source Materials For Juniors," of which Miss Anna E. Reese, will be the teacher; and "Guiding Youth's Approach To Religion," of which Rev. Alfred L. Creager is the teacher.

This is the first year of this Community Training School and the administration is anxious to have it succeed. All persons who have not registered, or who would be interested in becoming a student are urged to see Rev. C. L. Thomas, the Dean, or any of the Sunday School Superintendents or Ministers.
