1939 Drivers Cards M O S T Expire At End Of This Month

Application cards for auto operators' licenses are arriving and must be filed with Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Harrisburg by the end of this month. Current operators cards expire January 31, 1940 instead of at the end of February under the law which changes expiration dates on both drivers' cards and auto tags. The fee stays at $1.00. The 1939 legislature shifted the renewal date on tags from January 1 to April 1, so that motorists with deflated wallets due to the Christmas season have a breather before they must lay out the higher fee to operate cars. The 1939 tags may not last due to rusting, but in cases where they go bad they will be replaced upon application.

IF IT CAN BE DONE THERE WHY NOT IN MT. JOY?

Construction of approximately in the next few months in the Philadelphia area was predicted in the wake of announcement that purchasers can now buy a house for as little as $100 down and $20 a month.
