SANITATION RETAINS GOOD MILK FLAVOR

Careless Handling May Result in Contamination.

By PROF. H. A. HERMAN
The application of modern knowledge and sanitary methods enable the dairy producer and distributor to protect the fine flavors of milk which meet the favor of the consumer according to research at the Missouri college of agriculture.

Bacteria may cause changes in the flavor of milk. Contamination of the milk by bacteria may come from careless handling of the milk or milk utensils, at any or all stages from the cow to the consumer. Strict cleanliness, proper cleansing and sterilization of utensils, and holding milk at low temperature will eliminate most bad flavors due to bacterial contamination.

The exposure of milk to rays of the sun seriously affects its flavor. The presence of iron or copper salts with the action of sunlight causes a speedier action than would otherwise take place. The type of off-flavor developing in this instance is usually described as "tallowy," "cardboard," "metallic," or "stringent." The use of poorly tinned milk cans, buckets, coolers, or vats is responsible for many off-flavors, and in addition add copper and iron salts to the milk, which aids in developing the flavors associated with exposure to sunlight.

Washing compounds or chemical disinfectants, if carelessly used, may be responsible for the addition of foreign flavors. It is recommended that only readily soluble, free-rinsing cleaners free from odors, be used for milk utensils. Chemical disinfectants such as chlorine solutions used according to directions cause little trouble.

After the milk is drawn, unless the strictest care and cleanliness are exercised, various off-flavors may be acquired.

Pasture Development Pays Good Dividends

Good pastures are good business for the farmer. In seven different districts of the country where the United States department of agriculture studied feed requirements for market milk production, pasture furnished nearly one-third of all feed, but was only one-seventh of the feed cost. On 478 corn belt farms, pasture furnished more than one-half the feed for beef cattle, but was only one-third of the total feed bill.

Because good pastures are a good investment, the AAA is helping many farmers in the northeastern, east central and a number of southern states to improve pastures with lime and superphosphate. In these regions, farmers may pay for lime and superphosphate with the conservation payments they earn for carrying out soil-building and soil-conserving practices. The farmers obtain the soil-building materials with the understanding that they use them to improve their pastures.

Farmers with depleted permanent pastures have found lime and superphosphate of particular value, for they aid desirable grasses and legumes in driving out and replacing weeds and poorer grasses.

Bin Capacity

One bushel of grain contains 1.25 cubic feet. One cubic foot contains .8 of a bushel. One bushel ear corn contains 2 1/2 cubic feet. The floor area in square feet multiplied by .8, and this product divided by 10 gives the number of bushels in one foot height of bin.

A circular bin is measured as follows: The radius (one-half of the distance across) multiplied by the radius, multiplied by 22, and this figure divided by 7 will give you the cubic feet in one foot height. One cubic foot equals 7 1/2 gallons, and one bushel equals 8 3/8 or 8.375 gallons.

Farming Briefs

Terraces not only save soil, but are much less objectionable to cross than gullies.

If the combine or binder is greased and put away in good shape, it will be "ready for business" when next year's crop comes on.

One of the easiest sports to establish almost anywhere is quoits, or horseshoe pitching. Perhaps a twilight "barnyard golf" league might be popular among both old and young folks in a neighborhood.

Farm workers in Germany can't quit their jobs because of a recent order issued by Hitler. Farm owners cannot work elsewhere than on their own farms without official permission. Farmers and workers seem to be the chief sufferers from Fascism.

IRONVILLE

The Ironville Basketball team will hold an old-fashioned spelling bee at the Ironville School on Saturday evening, February 3, at 8 o'clock. The program will consist of some local movies, vaudeville acts, musical numbers, and spelling and information classes. Every one is invited to attend. A small admission will be charged.

On Sunday morning at 9:30, the Ironville U. B. Sunday School will observe Education Day with a joint service. Prof. Rust principal of the Cherry Street School, Columbia, will be the speaker of the morning, and special musical numbers will be rendered by two well-known singers of Columbia. The committee in charge of the program consists of three local school teachers, Mrs. Engle Ferry, Glenn Kauffman, and Miriam Heagy. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Earl C. Albright sprained his ankle Monday evening and is confined to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Young, Mr. Omer Cramer, and Mrs. Harry Albright are on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Edith Dattiman was taken to the Lancaster hospital Sunday for surgical treatment.

On Tuesday evening the Trinity

Reformed Church of Columbia, defeated the Ironville U. B. team in three games, scores: 10-3, 3-1, 5-0. Nev. Stauffer made a home run with the bases full and Charles Gingrich was the other home run hitter.

The school directors and their wives attended the annual school directors meeting at Millersville, last Thursday. The following are members of the board: Nathaniel Snyder, Ephraim G. Bard, John A. Fox, Ira Frantz and Eli Nolt.

John A. Fox and Mrs. Harry Gramm are celebrating their birthdays this week and George Campbell, Sr.
