THE EDITOR'S VOICE

Every week-end of late the police swoop down on bookie establishments in and near Lancaster. Sunday they arrested twenty patrons and the proprietor of a place. For the benefit of all concerned we hope they don't get too far from Lancaster.

Housing Conditions So Near Home

There is certainly room for improvement in housing conditions at Lancaster. Mayor Cary issued warnings to landlords after learning that in a former 3-story hotel building, twenty-five persons occupy it and have but one small toilet, no bathing facilities and one water outlet. Tenants pay as much as $15 per month for one room in which they live, eat and sleep. The occupants are negroes and whites. Another building has 24 occupants, one water outlet, no bathing facilities and one toilet.

Under conditions such as these one could agree with the Mayor—conditions should be improved.

Don't Cut Out The Frills

With the problem of maintenance of schools ever present in most districts, comes a discussion of the elimination of what some term "frills" in education. Frills are usually those subjects that weren't taught when they went to school! The condemned are such as drawing, music, domestic arts, mechanical drawing as well as kindergarten.

Perhaps it is necessary to do some eliminating in order to keep the school going, but it must be remembered that these subjects are important in the preparation of life and appreciation of it. Start cutting out the "frills" and watch these folks call the educational system backward.

Iron Shacks For Schools At Phila.

Eleven years ago the School Board of the Rhawnhurst section at Philadelphia erected three corrugated iron shanties which they called schools, in which to educate eighty kiddies in that section. "They were only temporary", said the Board.

Recently a $16,000,000 school building program was arranged, but nothing was done with the above which have concrete floors and old-fashioned coal stoves.

What a pity we can't loan the city of Brotherly Love a half-dozen or more of Lancaster County's abandoned school buildings. We have a number of brick, well heated and unutilized vacant school houses.

Pumping The Boro's Water

There is every indication that there will be some valuable information expounded at next Monday night's meeting of Boro Council relative to pumping our water supply during 1940. Several Diesel engine representatives have made surveys and the P.P.&L. also made a proposition. Still another representative will propose an industrial outfit powered by an automobile engine. We have reason to believe the latter is out of the question on account of the expense incurred in gasoline purchase unless the engine is operated by a cheaper fuel.

For many years the Boro used a steam engine and water power. Later the steam engine was replaced by a gasoline engine and later still a motor replaced the gas engine. Just what kind of power will be used in the future, remains to be seen.

Today's Business Outlook

Nothing unexpected has taken place in business. The spring decline is on, with steel leading the drop, but that is seasonally normal. The decline, think the experts, will continue about two more months, then be arrested.

Commodity prices have been comparatively weak, which is logical in view of the general business trend.

Considerable importance is placed on the automobile industry's activities. Normally, production increases in late spring, to prepare for summer buying, and this exerts a salutary influence on steel output. It will be a very bad sign if motors fail to respond as usual this year.

It is significant that most of the economists are being cautious about forecasts now—they are putting in plenty of "ands", and "buts". Matters are too chaotic, here and there, to be dead certain about anything.

How To Stay Out Of War

Sentiment in this country is largely in favor of Finland in her military dispute with gigantic Russia. But sentiment in favor of the proposed U. S. loan to the beleaguered little nation is nowhere near so strong. A considerable amount of opinion, including that of public officials, publicists and others who are as eager as anyone to see Finland saved from being absorbed by the Communists, feels that financial aid to any warring country should be extended through private sources—such as Herbert Hoover's Finnish Relief Committee—approved by the government.

There are many reasons for economy, but the most important is that of a warring nation, they are a financial interest in the next logical step beyond financial aid is military intervention. If we let our sentiments entice us into helping Finland or any other country, they warn, we are immensely increasing the chances of being drawn into wars which are none of our concern, and which we should stay out of.

The Wonder Bean

A tribute to the eighth-ranking crop of the U. S. for its gratifying results. Scarcely any conversation of a rural nature but that does not touch on the soy bean. It is worthy of salutation and the recently published facts of its earnings for our growers gives it a well-earned orchid.

The soy bean is more in demand than ever, due to the closing of the Manchurian market. We are shipping the bean in large quantities to many foreign countries now. The figures put the export at 150 million bushels and that is a lot of beans! The price has advanced 20 cents over the 1938 prices and this gives the growers ten million dollars which is a lot of dollars! The soy bean is a dream plant and is justly termed a "miracle bean". It not only feeds live stock and poultry, but goes to make flour, plastics, rubber, paints, and so on. It is found desirable as food and the total count of its varied uses reaches 260 with more being added from time to time.

The subject of the soy bean is important to many of our readers, and it is indeed a topic of far reaching circumstances and surprises. We know now what they mean when they say "use the old bean".
