

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

Our reporter tells us that another business that's going to the wall is sticking up bill-posters.

Ray complains that if a husband doesn't bring home soup bones, he's put on the pan. I suppose if he doesn't bring home soup bones, he's put in the dog house.

Have you heard about the absent-minded sculptor who kissed the statue and chiseled his wife?

The old "don't count your chickens" wheeze, holds true if your farm adjoins the main highway.

While eating a hamburger up at Van's Monday night, young Benzel told Marshall Webb to wipe off his chin and Webb exclaimed: "Heck no! It's the only one I've got".

There's a man up at E-town that's so short that when he feels ill he don't know whether he had a headache or corns.

Newty Kendig contends that the South pole must be a barber's pole. Every explorer that goes near it has a close shave.

Met a fellow from town over at the Hershey Hotel recently and knowing his financial condition I asked: "Aren't you afraid your creditors might see you at this expensive place?" And he smiled and answered: "It's the safest place I know. They can't afford to come here".

We recently had guests from a tiny hamlet down near Clay when a remark was made about our nice churches here. So then I remarked: "I hear the church you go to is very small". And the young lady replied, blushing: "Yes everytime the preacher says 'dearly beloved', I feel like it's a proposal".

It's a good thing that some of our women drivers don't hear what the fellow who passes them has to say of their driving.

Charles Piersol asked: "Did you hear about the fellow who invented a device for looking through a brick wall?" And Victor Rohrer answered: "No! What does he call it?" And Charles supplied: "A window, of course".

One of our local Freshmen is so bashful that even his voice blushes.

A Salunga papa pulled a fast one on his Mrs. last week. She had been at Lancaster shopping and when he came home for supper she showed him a new dress she had bought remarking: "Look at my new dress, dear, I got it for a song". And hubby took a quick glance at the price tag and said: "All right. Send in the collector and I'll sing to him".

And please bear in mind, "just because history shows there has always been wars is no reason for this generation of Americans to have one".

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Just about everybody seems to have a cure for the youth problems. And when you inquire around you will find half of those who are worrying about our young folks are gallivanting around the country—and are creating a youth problem in their own bailiwick, by neglecting their own off-spring.

So far as I can see, there is no youth problem that requires any mama or papa to go up and down the country on a lecture tour. By staying home and keeping a weather-eye on activities there, they would solve the whole problem. But some people like to lecture. They are the problem versus the youth.

But I reckon we could improve a little in our schools and maybe limp along with a few less funny, modern theories there. A little overhauling at our colleges might be welcomed by our young folks—who knows? But our older spavins—we gotta find some way to keep 'em home.

The Great York Fair Oct. 1 to 5

Pennsylvania's super fair will open Tuesday, October 1 at York. It will continue through Saturday, Oct. 5, day and night. This is the eighty-eighth year of York Inter-State Fair, the biggest exposition of its sort in the eastern United States. Exhibits and attractions already in prospect stamp it as the greatest of all York Fairs.

York Inter-State Fair is unique in that it has, as a non-profit community enterprise with only a nominal State appropriation, survived the buffeting of the years which has set so many other fairs onto the rocks. Instead, York Fair has year-by-year grown in size and quality. Today its more than a million-dollar, 120-acre enclosure is a show place for visitors from many states. Hard roads and permanent buildings including a great modern steel and concrete grandstand make this in many respects an all-weather fair.

Among the exhibits this year may be anticipated as usual the greatest apple show in the country. No where else are apples of as fine color and flavor produced and this has been a banner apple year in the York area. The cattle display will be exceptional, as the pick of royal herds assembling for the National Dairy Show in Harrisburg will pay York a preliminary visit. The exhibit of agricultural implements will be the largest to be seen at any Eastern fair.

Grandstand attractions this year include a nightly all-girl Broadway Revue and the pick of American and European circus acts. Strate's Carnival Company will present 25 carloads of shows and rides on the mammoth midway. There will be a daily balloon ascension with parachutists shot from a cannon and a nightly display of fire works with a patriotic theme.

The program of horse racing on the fastest half-mile track in the country includes events with some of the fastest steppers in harness competing for attractive purses and for special cups. There will also be daily running races.

Saturday, October 5, will be "Thrill Day" on which occasion the regular daily attractions will be supplemented by a double-barreled special program including the Pennsylvania State Police Rodeo and the Jimmy Lynch Death Dodgers in automobile dare deviltries.

An intensely interesting exhibit at York Inter-State Fair at York Pennsylvania, October 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 will be Railroads on Parade. This will be a display of ultra-modern rail and bus transportation equipment which all visitors to the fair may view close range without charge.

Special attractions at York Inter-State Fair this year included a revival of the popular balloon ascensions of the fairs of long ago. Many youthful visitors to modern fairs have never seen a balloon ascension. In the modernized version a pretty girl parachutist will be shot from a cannon suspended from the balloon.

On the big Midway Zachini, a former thrill performer of Ringling Brothers circus, will be shot from a cannon at terrific speed over two towering ferris wheels.

Exhibit of livestock and of agricultural and horticultural products will be exceptionally fine. One of the most popular features of the fair is the keen competition between 4-H Club boys and girls for baby beef awards. The apple show will be the finest in the country. The exhibit of farm implements will be the largest and most comprehensive of any Eastern fair.

A program of harness and running races on the fast half mile track is scheduled for every day except Saturday. Generous purses and 10 special cups will be awarded the winners.

There will be a full fair program every night including a sparkling all-girl Broadway revue and circus acts of international renown on the big stage opposite the grandstand. Fireworks will conclude each performance. Saturday of Fair week will be Thrill Day with a double-barreled special feature including the dashing Pennsylvania State Police Rodeo and Jimmy Lynch and his automobile smashing Death Dodgers.

Then Jen come over to me'n sed "...Min, you got a grand voice...so loud'n pretty. Why, you're wonderful! 'N that night when I wuz takin' off my shoes'n stockings I jest started in thinkin'...a body ought'a do more singin' stuff...it's nice!"

Playground Winners

Voting results for the best sports in the Junior and Senior divisions of the Playground members were: John Crider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crider on West Donegal St. won the Junior prize for the third successive year and Jack Breneman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Breneman on Marietta St., won the Senior prize for the second successive year.

Preferential ballot by all persons attending the playground sessions selected these boys. Juniors voted for Juniors and seniors for seniors in the balloting held in the schools last week.

Breneman received 70 points to finish far ahead of Harold Fellenbaum in second place with 30 points. Breneman received 10 first places on the 21 ballots. John Crider received 41 points in the junior division, finishing well ahead of Charles Hallgren who collected 27 points.

The results of the balloting were: seniors, Breneman, 70; Fellenbaum, 30; Robert Hawthorne, 22; Winfield Zephy, 19; Ragnar Hallgren, 16; Frank Leanza, 10; Clarence Wilson, 5; Robert Pennell, 3; Roy Sumpman, 3; Harold Eby, 3; Kenneth Gainer, 3; Russell Leib, 3; James Roberts, 1; Bruce Brown, 1; Juniors, Crider, 41; Hallgren, 27; Ed Soldner, 20; Victor Zephy, 14; Charles Piersol, 13; William Stohler, 10.

Breneman and Crider will both be sent to the New York World's Fair for one day, Saturday, September 14. The Rotary Club of Mt. Joy will send Breneman, and Frank Tyndall, of Mount Joy, will send Crider. Additional prizes furnished by the merchants of Mount Joy were awarded to winners of the Olympic events.

Two special prizes were awarded to the two captains of the playground, James Zeller and James

Sportsmen Plan Exhibit For Our Fair

At a meeting of the Mount Joy Sportsmen's Association in the fire house Monday evening the group voted to have a booth at the Community Exhibit in October. The committee in charge of arranging for the booth consists of George Baer, George Siller, Christian Miller, Wesley Wittle, Elwood Martin, Londa Zurin, Aaron Rye, Abram Geltmacher, Charles Vogel, William Way, Jr., and Roscoe Hassinger.

The game committee reported that the roof of the brooding house is being painted and that approximately ninety hen pheasants will be released by the association this Saturday morning at 10 a. m. Persons wishing to assist with the work are asked to be on hand at the pens in Florin.

Dr. J. N. Newcomer, president of the club, reported that the association has received warning that one of its members is running dogs at night. He asked that the word be passed along to other members in order that the practice might be stopped.

The trap committee reported that shoots have been delayed because the field is still under cultivation. They reported that shoots will begin near the end of this month. The association voted to purchase one thousand safety zone signs to be distributed among the farmers of the community.

Two new members, Charles Bailey, of town, and B. H. Sheibley, of Florin, were admitted to the association. The next meeting of the group will be held Monday, October 7th, in order to arrange for the exhibit. The meeting will be held at Harry Cornwell's, Florin.

Your 1941 dues are now payable. The Sportsmen will give away an electric refrigerator at the Community Exhibit, Saturday, October 21st at 10 o'clock P. M.

DOC CRANDALL GUILTY SAYS YORK CO. COURT

George E. Crandall, proprietor of a "health" institution east of York along the Lincoln Highway near Hallam, has been found guilty by jury of unlawfully operating a private nursing home; unlawfully operating a private hospital and unlawfully holding himself forth as a practitioner of medicine and surgery.

Locating Cause of Puncture

Here is a quick and safe method of locating a tack, nail or piece of glass that has caused a flat tire. After the tube has been removed from the tire, take a rag and run it around the inside of the tire. No matter how slightly the tack point protrudes, it will catch on the threads of the cloth. Closer examination of the spot will remove the object, he says. This method will prevent cut hands, the result of trying to locate the tack with the fingers. It also saves time spent in searching the tire by the slow process of spreading and examining each section.

First House of Correction

The Bridewell, established in London in 1555, was the first house of correction, according to a study issued by the Columbia university press. It was the earliest institution created for the specific purpose of ridding the towns of vagabonds and beggars.

Slums of Smaller Cities Face 'Clean-Up' Program

Awakening of smaller communities to realization that slums exist in their midst as well as in the larger cities is evidenced by their increasing participation in the USHA low-rent housing program, according to Nathan Straus, administrator of the United States Housing authority.

Twenty-eight cities and towns with populations of approximately 10,000 or less already have organized local housing authorities for co-operation with the USHA. Straus has announced. Seven of these communities have obtained commitments for USHA loans to finance 10 proposed projects. Two, including one with less than 2,500 population, have started construction of their projects, while three others have had USHA loan contracts approved by President Roosevelt.

"When the United States housing act was before congress two years ago," said Straus, "it was generally believed that the large cities would be the principal beneficiaries. Few small cities and towns had begun seriously to look into their housing problem."

"Today the picture is quite different. A large and growing number of smaller cities and even towns and villages and strictly rural communities have organized active housing authorities. In most cases, also, these local authorities have the ardent support of their local governments and social groups—from bankers and other business men to labor unions and welfare workers."

Unusual Vase Collection

Miss Kathryn Hawley, librarian of Franklinville, N. Y., has an unusual hobby. She collects vases. But they must be small—the largest in her collection is only three inches tall. Miss Hawley started collecting vases a year and a half ago and in that time she has acquired 104 of them. They range from the "giant" of the collection from Paris, France, bearing the picture of the famous Notre Dame cathedral to the smallest—one quarter of an inch tall—of Mexican pottery. The collection contains many of odd shapes and designs, among them a wheelbarrow, a sprinkling can, a miniature loving cup turned from a piece of maple with an inlay of darker wood. There are two Toby jugs in the collection and four Wedgewood type vases.

Blackout

Friday itself is considered unlucky because it was the customary day for hangings. Then again, it was believed that anyone who dishonored the Norse goddess Freya, would have overwhelming misfortunes befall him. And then, even the strange fancies of astrology declare Friday as unlucky.

But, teamed with the thirteenth, which is considered equally unlucky, if superstition is right, we humans just don't have a fighting chance, tomorrow, Friday the 13th. So—BE CAREFUL!
