

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

Well, now that vacations are all over with, maybe you guys will remember that I always welcome "laffs" from my readers. I have some real faithful followers who never desert me but I'm sure there's a lot more of you folks could tell me little "tid-bits" if you'd want to.... Don't be backward folks, step right up!

I've been old by a Florin gent that he never takes a vacation. He says his ancestors always said: "The bigger the vacation the harder the Fall", and he's taking no chances.

I always figure that I and a lot of my friends may not get far up on the ladder of success, but even at that there are a lot of mighty fine folks still down at the bottom.

After visiting over so many places on my vacation, I've come to the conclusion that living in Mt. Joy is a pleasure, but if you're living outside of your income life any place is a pain in the neck.

The boys at the fire house sure got an awful laff out of the fellow that was caught in the transmox the other night. They ought to put up signs so the boys can find their way out of that place.

I came across a very wonderful family at Marietta yesterday. The mother has electricity in her hair and father has gas on his stomach. Next thing you know they'll be a defense project.

Met a little girl who's family has just been blessed with a son, so I asked: "Well, honey, how do you like your new brother?" And she very matter - of - factly answered "Oh, he's all right, only there's lot more things we need there."

Hemmy has just told us about a fellow he knows who, being superstitious, decided to bet on the eleventh horse in a race because his house number was eleven and it was the eleventh month... and you know what the horse did?... come in first, no indeed just to keep things even he came in eleventh.

Alright! So that's an old one. What do ya think the rest of these are?
They tell me there's a special 1941 automobile that's been designed for playboys. It develops a miss in the engine only when there's one in the car.

"What are you going to give me for my birthday," a cute trick asked a local youth. "Close your eyes," he answered, "and what do you see." Disappointed she cried: "Nothing, absolutely nothing." And our hometown boy exclaimed: "That's exactly what you're getting."..... Wasn't he nasty?

The worst feature about a drunk with a red nose is that he always has something to look forward to.

There's been tough breaks and dirty tricks going on in this world for a long time but the doggonest toughest break we ever heard of was when the order came for all the kids under 17 to keep out of movies just as the very last chapter of "Captain Marvel" was scheduled for the Saturday matinee.

It was a tough break, guys, but it's all for the best, so keep smilin'.

IN READING RACE
Among the favored contenders in the $5,000 three-year-old futurity trot at the Reading fair, Wednesday, September 10, is Fast Train, owned by Elbridge B. Gerry, of New York City. Fast Train, shown here with Driver Delwin Miller, finished fourth in the $40,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y.

AUNT MIN SEZ:

Sometimes I think mebbe I'm seen'n things! Stuff jest don't make no sense! For instance the other day it wuz that hot a body pretty near had'a pant for their breath... I wuz settin' out in my back yard wonderin' how long, anyway, this here heat spell wuz goin'a keep up... I wuz settin there, fannin' my brow'n then it jest dawned on me to get the mornin' paper'n elevate my mind a little by readin' up on the happenin's goin' on! First thing I cum on to wuz "How to improve yer game'a bridge"... shuck!... thinks I... such'a game!... How in a body be north, south, east'n west all at once! I skum over that quick-like.

Then I cum to the thing that jest about wuz the last straw!... There I wuz wuz wuz perspiration streamin' all over my brow'n right before me in black'n white wuz picture's great big fur coats... with women standin' there all buttoned tight up around the neck with fur surroundin' them from head to feet! Thinks I... am I seein' things?... am I seein' things?... what's cumin' off... any-ways? No wonder there's warn't things goin' on... with folks all mixed up like this! picture's big fur coats starin' you in the face when it's almost too hot for a person to navigate! Huh!

To tell the honest truth... all the good I get out'a that there big paper wuz that there recipe for bread-juddin'... that sounded sensible'n I went in the house'n made a batch.

Inaugural Meeting On Monday Nite

The Hempfield Farmers' and Sportsmen's Association will start off their fall activities with a bang on Monday night September 8 with their inaugural meeting of the new season being held at the Landisville Fire House.

This meeting which will necessitate the nomination of officers, will also be featured by an extraordinary display of interesting and colorful sound motion pictures, which will be shown by Mr. Harry M. Reed of Lanc. who has been arranging a program of sound movies for various Associations and Clubs throughout the entire state for the past three or four years.

Mr. Reed has lined up a program of high calibre, topped by a request return showing of "Let's Go Fishin'" featuring Tony Accetta, all around bait casting champion, displaying his championship ability in distant and accuracy with the rod

Roy Hemmig Wins Shoot At Maytown

Eighteen shooters faced the traps on Daddy Keener's Playgrounds at Maytown Labor Day and despite the tricky targets due to the wind, good scores were made.

Roy Hemmig, of Reading, former Pennsylvania State Champion, carried off top honors by breaking 149 out of 150. John W. Eshelman Jr., 72-year old Lancasterian, was second with 142, getting off to a bad start but breaking 95 of his last 100.

In the money division, Lewis Class, the winners were: Class A—Hemmig, first; Eshelman, second; Benion and Bemer, third.

Other selected subjects will include, "How Not To Conduct a Meeting" starring Col. Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle, of Radio fame, in a short comedy role; "The Glass Case" and study in non-shattering Glass; "The CCC in The Great Smokey Mountains" and last but not least, "Bears In Alaska", showing the many varieties of Bear that roam the great northwest. All in all this will go to make up one of the finest conservation education programs ever shown at a Hempfield meeting, who are noted for their entertaining programs.

Due to the fact that Daniel Fackler, present President of the Hempfield group, has enrolled with the Game Commission Training School at Brockway, Jefferson county, J. Everette Martin, Vice Pres'dent will be in charge of the meeting. Mr. Martin is extending an open invitation to every sportsman to attend.

The Great Reading Fair Next Week

A series of extensive army maneuvers, performed by Uncle Sam's fighting men from Indiantown Gap, will help launch the eight-day entertainment program at the Reading fair Sunday.

The khaki-clad soldiers, equipped with all the accoutrements of modern warfare, will share the opening day spotlight with Jimmy Lynch and his Death Dodgers, the celebrated automobile stuntmen who formerly appeared at the New York world's fair. The program will get underway at 2 p.m.

Sunday evening, two musical organizations from Reading—Herman Miller and his Sylvanians and the drum and bugle corps from the Greater Reading Post, No. 179, Veterans of Foreign Wars—will present the inaugural bill of grandstand stage entertainment. The two musical units will appear at 8 p.m.

Products of farms, homes and factories will be displayed Sunday but judging in the livestock, produce and art departments will not begin until Monday.

The army men will return to the fair again Monday and their colorful maneuvers will precede the opening program of Grand Circuit horse racing. The inaugural Grand Circuit card will consist of a $2,250 futurity for two-year-old trotters and two supporting events.

The biggest grandstand stage show of the week is on tap for Monday, Opening at 7:30 p. m., the three-hour entertainment bill will feature Artie Shaw and his nationally famous band, Gae Foster's Roxettes, and Eddie Roecker, noted stage and radio singer.

City school children's day will be observed Tuesday and all city kids will receive free admission to the grounds. Judging will continue in all departments and the afternoon speed card will include a $2,500 futurity for three year old pacers and three other high class events.

A series of stock judging contests for young boys and girls will be presented Wednesday morning. The competitions will include a cattle and poultry judging contest for students of Berks county vocational school, and the annual cattle judging contest sponsored by the Berks County Agricultural Extension Association.

Farmers and Rural school children's day will be observed Friday and all Berks county kids, residing outside of Reading, will receive free admission to the grounds. Aside from the $900 free-for-all trot and four other Grand Circuit events, a busy program has been scheduled.

Saturday, Thrill Day will be conducted by Lucky Teter and his Hell Drivers. Teter and his automobile and motorcycle stuntmen will appear in front of the grandstand at 2, in the afternoon, and then play a repeat performance at the conclusion of the Saturday night stage show.

RHEEM'S FIREMEN COOPERATE WITH THE BOARD OF HEALTH
The Rheems Fire Company is going to hold its carnival Saturday night as originally planned, but the firemen suggest that you send the children over to grandma's or call up Aunt Mary and have her stay with them while you attend the big carnival. They have a wonderful show topped by Hank Lawson and his Knights of the Road. Also the Western Vagabonds and two sensational Broadway acts.

The firemen are going to award that beautiful automobile to some lucky person on Saturday night, so try to be there. Remember the firemen request that children under 16 years of age be sent to grandma's or stay with Aunt Mary.

QUEEN OF THE ROLLERS
This attractive young miss is a member of the International Rollos, the celebrated roller skating team that will appear in the Reading fair grandstand show, September 8 to 13. The International Rollos will share the spotlight with the Roxettes, Eddie Roecker, and outstanding circus and vaudeville performers.

For Hunters - and - Fishermen

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes announced that the 60-day duck hunting season in the United States opens October 1, in the northern states, October 16 in the intermediate states and November 2 in the southern states.

In issuing season regulations for hunting migratory game birds, Ickes left unchanged the 60-day season and the 10-a-day bag limit of 1940 retained the prohibition against use of bait or live decoys, but added a clause forbidding the taking of water fowl by using cattle, horses or mules as blinds.

As in recent years hunters must plug repeating and automatic shotguns to a limit of three shells and must not use guns larger than 10-gauge. Hunting with bows and arrows is still permissible. Shooting hours remain the same, sunrise to 4 p. m.

- 1.—A closed season on Wilson Snipe, commonly known as Jack-snipe.
- 2.—A 10-a-day limit on Canvas back and Ruddy Ducks, formerly to 3 a day.
- 3.—Transfer of Ohio to the northern zone and New Mexico to the southern.
- 4.—Legalizing the shooting and possession of one wood duck per hunter in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.
- 5.—A closed season on snow geese in Idaho to extend additional protection to the rare trumpeter swan.
- 6.—A 3-a-day bag limit for geese in heavy concentration areas of certain counties in North Carolina.

Illinois and California.
7.—An open season for Puerto Rico.
The limit on geese and brandt (except snow geese in Idaho, snow geese and brandt in Atlantic coast states, and Ross's geese throughout the country - which may not be hunted) was again set at three a day or six in possession. In addition, hunters may take three blue geese a day and they may have six blue geese in possession in addition to the general six goose possession limit.
The original three or six, it was explained, may also include or consist entirely of blue geese, hence it is possible for a hunter to take six blue geese a day or have twelve in possession if he takes or possesses no other kinds of geese. The United States zones are made up as follows:
Northern - Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, and Montana.
Intermediate - Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Washington, and Carolina.
Southern - Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.
Woodchucks or (Ground hogs) season from July 1st to September 30. Daily limit is 5.
