Foundry Seeks Scrap Iron From The Public

Seeking scrap iron in any quantity from the public, the York Bar Bell Foundry at Marietta, now in full operation there, placed a large advertisement on another page of today's paper, asking that persons having assorted scrap bring it to the foundry, where highest prices allowed by the government will be paid. The firm manufactures bar bells for exercise and weight lifting, and as such does come under the defense program priorities set-up. Hence, pig iron usually available thru the regular channels is no longer available to it.

Marietta folks, in particular, are asked to cooperate in the effort to buy scrap metal, inasmuch as the foundry represents employment for a number of local people. It should be born in mind, however, that the company can not purchase scrap from children under existing laws, and old iron collected by them should be presented at the foundry when they are accompanied by their parents.

CARD PARTY OCT. 6
American Legion Auxiliary will hold their first card party of the season on Monday evening, Oct. 6th at eight o'clock.
Hostesses are Mrs. Isaac Morris and Mrs. Clyde Eshleman.

Australia produced nearly 84,000,000 bushels of wheat last season, compared with 210,283,000 in 1939-40.

CAMDEN SCHOOLS CLOSED
As this section is about recovering from an infantile paralysis epidemic, it struck in the city of Camden, N. J. with four cases within 24 hours, schools were closed, giving 24,000 children a vacation.

LIGHTS FOR DARK DAYS
Wintry days are ahead when lights are used much more. Light on one's work is not enough. For comfort the whole room must be lighted. Lights should be fitted with bulbs high enough in wattage to give the quantity of light required and should be placed in advantageous positions.

CLEAN-UP CORN BORERS
The European corn borer has again become a menace to sweet and field corn in Pennsylvania. Suppression is a community problem. Where all farmers clean up their fields at harvest, the borers have a hard time increasing their numbers, say entomology specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.
