The Post Office Corner

Here is an important notice in regards to inquiries concerning insured, registered, or C. O. D. mail, addressed to or forwarded to military personnel at Army post offices outside the continental United States, including those in Alaska.

Due to war conditions, considerable time often elapses before delivery can be effected of registered, insured or C. O. D. mail addressed to military personnel serviced by Army post offices outside continental U. S. Inquiries for such mail therefore should not be insisted until at LEAST 4 MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF MAILING.

I would like to call attention again to all rural patrons as well as town patrons, concerning the putting of money in mail boxes, or giving money to the carriers to put stamps on your mail. This is not only inconvenient for the carriers, but by putting money in the boxes it may hold up delivery of your letter, because some one else forgot to put the money in the box for a letter they dropped. There is no way of telling who put in the money or who did not. Therefore the clerks in the office can only put stamps on the letters until the money is all gone, and the remaining letters are returned for postage, or the addressee notified to send postage. Buy stamps, and be sure your letter has sufficient postage on before mailing it.

January 15th a new order went into effect that no parcels, third class, or newspapers may be sent to boys in service outside continental United States. However, if the boy needs any articles, and with a written request, takes this request to his commanding officer, have him sign it and then forward same to his parents, or who ever will mail the parcel he is requesting, it may be sent to him, provided it does not weigh more than 5 pounds. The signed request must be brought to the office before the parcel can be accepted.

Fill that partly filled war stamp book and bring it to the Post Office for a bond.

Other precautions are listed as follows:

Do not cut toward yourself when using a knife.
Do not climb a ladder until it is properly placed, firm and steady.

Use a safety rope or strap when climbing a tree for pruning.
Drive tractor and car carefully.

Field machinery will last longer if operated at moderate speed. Farm machinery and equipment, as well as industrial machinery, are now provided better than ever with safety devices.

Back in 1904, Dr. David Fairchild of the government bureau of plant industry secured a quantity of Tung nuts from China. They were planted widely in this country, in all except cold climates, and from this beginning, has sprung a new industry which aims to furnish essential quick-drying oil to the paint industry.

A bumper crop in 1940 provided 5,000,000 pounds of tung nuts with a million dollar income to growers. A narrow belt in the southern states, 50 to 100 miles wide, has been found best suited to growing tung trees.

These come into bearing in the third year. They yield nuts with woody hulls the size of small apples inside of which are from three to seven seeds. Machinery used in crushing the seeds is similar to that used for crushing oil from cotton seed, peanuts and soybeans. The residue left is pressed into cakes and returned to the grower who uses it for fertilizer.

During the last ten years, before the outbreak of the war with Japan, oil valued at ten million dollars was imported from China each year. Much of this was of inferior grade and adulterated with other oils. It has sold from 5.1 cents to as high as 27.2 cents per pound in barrels at New York. With this foreign supply unavailable, the superior American product is finding a ready market.

Mills equipped for dehulling and crushing tung seed have been established in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Is Your Food Pounding Up?
In a population of 133 million, appetites vary tremendously. There may be dainty eaters while others are hearty eaters, but adding machine experts have calculated that each of us would have had on the average, 1,422 pounds of food in a year if all the food were evenly divided in the five-year period 1920-1924. In the "prosperity" years 1925-1929 the average went up 52 pounds to 1,474 pounds.

There is no better way to boost your business than by local newspaper advertising.

Greater Farm Safety Part of War Program

Accidents Cost People $4,000,000 During '41

"I knew I shouldn't have done it," is a remark often made by accident victims after the damage has been done. And because the war now makes the full working ability of every man and woman more important than ever before, greater accident-prevention care should be taken.

Accidents cost the American people $4,000,000 in wages, medical expenses, insurance, and property damage last year. A total of 102,500 persons were killed, 350,000 permanently disabled and 8,950,000 temporarily injured.

Much has been written on how to prevent accidents, but the best remedy is individual care, and thoughtfulness.

Common among the causes of accidents is placing hands between gears, chains, cutter knives, or other parts of machinery in motion. In addition to avoiding this danger,

other precautions are listed as follows:

Do not cut toward yourself when using a knife.
Do not climb a ladder until it is properly placed, firm and steady.

Use a safety rope or strap when climbing a tree for pruning.
Drive tractor and car carefully.

Field machinery will last longer if operated at moderate speed. Farm machinery and equipment, as well as industrial machinery, are now provided better than ever with safety devices.

Wagner AT WAR

Bessie
"All right, Bessie," said the boss of the little factory which was making jackets for soldiers. "Did you want to see me about something?"
The thin middle-aged woman stood up from the chair in the outer office and looked earnestly at the boss with her huge, grave gray eyes.

"It's about this ten percent pledge," she began. "Don't let it worry you. We understand."
"Oh, that's all right, Bessie," the boss said. "I'd been meaning to speak to you about that. We don't expect you to pledge ten percent of your pay for War Bonds like the others are doing. We know you have a hard time making ends meet since Jake died. Eleven kids, isn't it? That's a lot of mouths to feed. Let's see, you make $25.50 a week including overtime, don't you?"

"Yes, sir, but..."
The boss smiled.
"Don't give it another thought, Bessie. You've got your hands full now. Uncle Sam knows you haven't got a penny to spare. Don't let it worry you. We understand."
The boss turned to go back into his private office.

"But what I wanted to say was..."
Bessie raised her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little? You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"
"They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."
Bessie looked relieved.

"All we have to do is scrimp a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something."
Back in the boss' office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.

"I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said. "Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of..."
(Story from an actual report in the files of the Treasury Department.)
