You've heard uniformed men talk about G. I. this and G. I. that? Pie Well, I asked my pal for his definition of G. I. or Government Issue and he says "its that portion of dry goods that goes down the street M with a soldier in it."

A tuff sarg was bawling out a St private for losing his rifle. After a SI long winded scolding the private Fy sheepishly said: "Don't be mad sarg, Mo you know how it is. Here today and El gun tomorrow."

A local woman went to the post office to purchase a war bond. She handed the money to the clerk saying: "I've been saving this money M to divorce my husband but I can Ci stand him better than I can Hitler." Fi - She's got something there.

I asked a sailor what the ocean Ze says to the shore and he replied: Pi "Nothing. Just waves."

The Americans in the southwestern pacific and the natives are having a marvelous time trading Me back and forth. One enterprising marine took his $1.00 pipe, carved a few curliques on it, and sold it to a native chief for $100.00. A few days later, what should he see but his commanding officer contentedly puffing the pipe. "Where did you get that pipe?" queried the marine.

"This," said the captain, "is an old tribal trophy, several hundred years old. I had a hell of a time getting one of the native chiefs to part with it-and for only $200.00."
