The subscription lists of three other newspapers, the Mount Joy Star and News, the Landisville Vigil and the Florin News were merged with the Bulletin, which makes this paper's circulation practically double that of the average weekly.

Entered at the Postoffice at Mount Joy, Pa., as second-class mail matter under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE EDITOR'S VOICE

In all the planning, far too little has been said and done to stimulate and encourage initiative, self reliance and the sense of individual responsibility.

Many hard working business people, who give good service, have failed to attain the prosperity they could have had, because they did not advertise enough so the public became familiar with their goods.

Those who plant good seeds in their gardens get good crops. Those who plant seeds of service and friendliness in their home towns, are rewarded by success in work and business and social popularity.

Recently a business man at Elizabethtown applied for permission to build an addition to his manufacturing plant and was given to understand he couldn't do it. He could only build to the extent of a $1,000 cost.

We see that over in New Jersey the Atlantic City Racing Association was given permission to construct a $2,000,000 horse racing track.

Does that make sense?

THE HOUSE OF CARDS

Mr. Murray, head of the CIO, argues that because the cost of living has risen higher, according to his estimates, than according to government statistics, wages must continue to rise. This means increased cost of production and still higher prices.

The game being played by prominent labor leaders is like the childhood pastime of building a house of cards—inevitably one last card brings the structure toppling down.

There is no reason for our country suffering a devastating collapse if our people will use their God-given intelligence, instead of following the easy money, no work boys, as sheep follow a blind leader over a precipice.

STANDING IN LINE

Since the war came on, many persons have had the experience of standing in line, while waiting to buy something. New scarcities may develop, and more standing in line may be necessary. People often have that experience at Christmas or various rush times.

The American people do not enjoy standing in line. They want things right off quick. Some of them get cross and say unpleasant things, if the waiting is at all prolonged.

Don't expect 100 per cent service in wartime here or anywhere else. If you feel annoyed because you have to wait, consider that you are doing your standing in a comfortable building, surrounded by pleasant and friendly people. That is better than digging into a foxhole on the battlefield, where an enemy may pepper you with a machine gun.

Instead of audible or internal cursing, say a pleasant word to the folks near you. Exchange a joke or two. Then the time so spent will seem short. And you may make a new friend.

LET IT BLOOM AGAIN

A merchandising authority writing in Nation's Business says: "Retail distribution in the United States after the war will be governed by a single, major objective: How to bring the greatest amount of goods at the lowest cost to the largest number of consumers."

"It will be an era of opportunity for manufacturer, distributor and consumer. Never before will so many business forces have combined to achieve a practical ideal, the employment of private enterprise in the service of the consuming public."

Whether the objective of the retail distribution industry will be realized depends more upon government policies than upon retailers. The ability of American merchants is well known. But that ability at present is smothered under a semi-dictatorial, centralized government. After the war it is devoutly to be hoped that the process of liquidating government oppression will begin promptly. Not until then can opportunity, so long familiar to the United States, be counted upon to return in full bloom.

FARMER'S ACE

A wholesome change is taking place on the farm. Farmers are growing wiser of centralized government control. After a decade of trying to fit their existence to the dictates of politics rather than natural laws, the farmers are fed up. Their attitude is best exemplified in their battle against subsidies.

Farmers in the future are going to have to depend upon themselves to an increasing extent in reaching sound solutions on agricultural problems. This does not mean that each farmer will have to fight his battle alone. That day is long past. He can now turn to such farmer-owned business organizations as the marketing cooperatives. The co-ops help him sell his produce at a fair price. They strive to stabilize supply and demand, while leaving the farmer free to concentrate on the job of production.

The marketing cooperatives will prove to be the farmer's ace in the hole when disillusionment with "super" government becomes complete.

CHOOSE YOUR GOVERNMENT NOW

Fifteen states have endorsed the proposal to limit by Constitutional amendment the peacetime taxing power of the Federal government to twenty-five per cent on incomes, gifts, and inheritances. The issue is not merely one of taxes. The people of this country must decide what kind of government they will have after the war.

Robert B. Dresser stated the issue clearly when he said: "Necessarily involved in this controversy as to taxes is the question of whether our system of mere enterprise is to be replaced by national socialism. Under free enterprise the capital required to provide jobs is furnished by the individual, and ownership of the business is in him. Under socialism the capital is furnished by the government, and it becomes the owner."

There is only so much capital in the nation. If the taxing policies of government result in government absorption of private capital, the nation automatically becomes socialistic. This country is headed that way. American Federation of Labor spokesmen observed in 1940: "As labor and industry survey what has happened to labor and industry in those lands where all powers have been concentrated in the central authority, they fear and oppose the steps which this far have been taken here, to enlarge the dominion of the Federal government over the lives and fortunes of the American people."

Since 1940, momentum toward the socialized state in America has increased—wildly apart from the war emergency.

RED CROSS COMMITTEE FOR MAYTOWN BRANCH

The committee for the Maytown branch of the Columbia chapter of the American Red Cross consists of Mrs. C. C. Hicks, chairman, and Rev. Kirby Yingst, the Rev. Jonas Martin, J. W. Bingsman, Samuel Simmons, Claude Demmy, John D. Roland, Lillian Sload, Marie Hollenbaugh, Mary Gallacker, Grace Henderson, Harold Endsow, George Waller, A. T. Brandt, Helen Brandt, Helen Sload, Florence Trene, Mrs. Hazel Crenshaw, Mrs. Charles Hollenbaugh, Mrs. Charles Felty, Mrs. Irvin Neiman, Mervin Arnold, Frank Hershey, Carl Shank, Howard Strasbaugh and Esther Straley.

PLAN THE GARDEN

A good garden plan made during the winter will save time, labor, seed, and fertilizer when planting time comes, say vegetable specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. The gardener who has a plan also will be better satisfied at harvest time than the one who follows no plan in his garden.

SAVE FARM LABOR

Much time and unnecessary labor can be saved on the poultry farm by developing a practical routine for chore work and by installing labor-saving practices and devices, say Penn State extension poultry specialists.

tribute to the value of blood plasma in the battle for Italy and, on behalf of the armed forces, expressed thanks to civilian blood donors in the United States.

"Blood plasma has been used extensively in this campaign," he said. "Large stocks are maintained so close to the front lines that it is not uncommon to see patients receiving plasma while being carried in litters or ambulances to a casualty station."

"Plasma is also used in hospitals behind the lines, where necessary surgery is performed by expert doctors and nurses. In one hospital that we visited, sixty-nine blood transfusions and 250 blood plasma units had been given during three days of combat."

"Plasma has saved hundreds of American lives in Italy and will save many more before the campaign is over. I am sincerely grateful to the civilians at home who have donated their blood for the members of our armed forces."

Hundreds of instances are reported daily from battlefronts all over the world that the use of blood plasma to our wounded is saving their lives. Donating blood is a painless procedure and we owe it to our boys who are doing the fighting to keep them supplied with this life-giving substance.
