L. F. Livingston's Illustrated Lecture Quite Interesting

Numerous new products and new processes, most of which were heralded and unseen by the general public, today contribute importantly to the unprecedented war effort on all allied fronts.

Added to the array of products developed by industrial research for peacetime uses and now contributing directly to the winning of the war are scores of new products and processes developed since Pearl Harbor, Mr. Livingston said.

The importance of scientific research in the development of new things is dramatically shown by the fact that almost half of the Du Pont Company's total gross sales for 1942—46 percent to be exact—consisted (Turn to page 4)

BURGESS HENDRIX WARNS AGAINST HALLOWEEN

It's the desire of the Burgess, Borough Council, and the police officer that the young people, and adults, too, celebrate Halloween in a sane manner, without destroying or defacing any property, or disorderly conduct, and also refrain from breaking electric light bulbs.

Any person apprehended removing shutters, steps, or other property or defacing property by the use of soap, paraffine, crayon or otherwise, will be prosecuted.

Let all have a good time, but let it be a sane and respectable manner. The parents are kindly asked to see that their children keep within the bounds of the law in their "mercy-making" antics.
