Says Sodium Fluoride
Effective Against Roaches

Sodium fluoride has been recommended for cockroach control for many years and is still the most effective material available for this purpose, says J. Myron Maxwell, extension entomologist at North Carolina State college. The effectiveness of the sodium fluoride treatment depends upon the method of application. Maxwell recommends that the powder be dusted very thinly over the surfaces where the cockroaches may run through it. The pests lick the material which sticks to their feet and thus they are poisoned. If the powder is left in piles, the cockroach will avoid walking through it.

A small garden duster may be used for applying the sodium fluoride. If a duster is not available, Maxwell recommends that about one-quarter teaspoonful of powder be placed in the center of a piece of cloth about 12 by 18 inches. Sift the powder through the cloth by striking with a stick.

The powder should be applied around the baseboards, under the kitchen sink and on cabinet shelves. It is not effective when applied to wet surfaces. The material acts rather slowly but in about five days many dead cockroaches should be found.

Care Needed in Planting Seed for Good Crop

Seed planted at too low temperature does not germinate readily and in a cold moist soil is likely to rot. If the surface soil is fine, but dry, the first step in seeding is to rake off the dry, crusty surface. Next, loosen the area to be planted with a wheel hoe, a hand cultivator or a common garden hoe.

If the last tool is used, take thin "bites," and as you remove the hoe from the soil, push it away from you rather than pull it towards you. This will usually leave the soil fine and level so that raking will be unnecessary. For beans, corn, peas and onion sets, use the hoe blade to make a seed trench. For all other seeds, the hoe handle can be used to best advantage.

Seed depth can often be a real problem to the beginner. The most important rule is to plant the seed deep enough for it to get plenty of moisture, but not so deep that it won't be able to get out of the soil. Small seeds usually do well when sown three-eighths to one inch deep. Beans should be planted deeper, and corn about one and one-half inches, while peas start well if planted two inches deep. Uniform distribution of seeds is important.

Speedy Help to Lamed Cruiser

Warship Snaps Vital Part;
Gets Replacement in Record Time.

PHILADELPHIA.—An American cruiser steaming to take its place in a Pacific battle line snapped a vital 6,100-pound pinion gear.

The nearest replacement part was 5,300 miles away, in the Philadelphia navy yard.

But within three days the new gear was installed and the ship under way.

Between the radioed call for a replacement and its arrival is the story of the naval air transport service (NATS), Paul Bunyan of the navy, whose unsung pilots carry five-ton replacements and V mail, plasma and plane fuselages, sulfa and surgical instruments over a 70,000-mile air supply line.

The cruiser's pinion gear was sent from the Willow Grove, Pa., naval air station, which handles up to a quarter million pounds of NATS' freight monthly. The gear weighed twice the normal carrying load of the twin engine R4D transport which carried it, but the fuel load was cut and the number of refueling stops increased to meet the emergency.

Makes Record Flight.

In June NATS flew the two heaviest single items ever transported by air from New York to the Panama Canal Zone to replace damaged rotors in a tanker carrying fuel oil to task force 58.

Lieut. Harold M. Shaumbach, Camp Hill, Pa., and Lieut. James M. Malloy, Wilmington, Del., manned the Douglas four-engine Skymaster cargo plane which made the flight in less than 16 hours.

The tanker's trial runs uncovered additional engine trouble and a week later NATS flew another turbine rotor to the tanker. Within nine hours after landing at Albrook field in the Canal Zone, the transport was returning with the damaged rotor, en route to the Philadelphia navy yard for repairs.

The entire 5,000-mile trip was completed in 27 hours. From seven planes rounded up during the Pearl Harbor emergency, NATS has grown to 10 squadrons of Douglas transports and seaplanes such as the 70-ton Mars, the Martin Mariner, and the Consolidated Coronado.

Plain metal seats line the sides of some of the transports, providing emergency passenger service for uniformed men and women with high travel priorities. Supplies also bear priorities. Some have unseat-high ranking officers.

Seven scheduled flights pass through Willow Grove daily. Before the engines are cut off, the transport officer, Lieut. Ben S. Spaulding, Chicago, and his assistant, Lieut. K. Kemper, Alexandria, Va., are supervising the loading crew of 22 enlisted men.

A gauge is used to determine whether the loading makes the transport nose or tail heavy, and as soon as a balance is reached the plane takes off for the next field, leaving a perspiring officer to compute the amount of fuel it will burn en route and message the estimated landing weight.

Flying without parachutes because of its safety record, NATS has brought thousands of passengers to Willow Grove—including blinded marines and wounded fighters bound for the artificial limb center at the Philadelphia Naval hospital.

Super Gestapo Spying On Nazi Civil Officials

AT THE GERMAN FRONTIER.—Nazi Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler has established a new secret service to make daily reports on all important German civil officials.

The super Gestapo was formed after the abortive attempt to assassinate Hitler, and in Berlin alone it embraces 2,000 operatives, advises said. Every visitor received by civil officials is listed, and the officials must make a written report of what the visitors said.

Some officials are reported to have refused to receive manufacturers engaged in war production for fear that talking with anybody might be misconstrued by the new Gestapo.

Proving Once More That It Pays to Advertise

LINCOLN, Ill.—Forty-two merchants underwrote an ad for the Lincoln Evening Courier, which said in part:

"Please, Pluvius, old drip, how's about dropping a lot of little drips on our burning country? "We want rain! We're almost nuts!"

The newspaper editor agreed that if it rained before 3 p. m. Friday the ad would run gratis. The rains came Thursday.

Charm School for Transit Force WASHINGTON.—Commuters expect more glamorous rides now that the Capital Transit company has opened a charm school for 55 woman streetcar and bus operators in the capital.

Hep Cats Warned MEMPHIS.—The unidentified girl wore a piece of paper pinned on the back of her dress, a warning to others of the informal dance.
