Was Released From Osaka Prison In Japan
S-Sgt. Earl J. Richwine, 25, Bainbridge RI, was released from the Osaka prison camp in Japan, according to a War Department telegram received by his grandfather, Albert Richwine, also of Bainbridge RI.

The message said that his health was good and that he soon would be able to communicate with his grandfather. Recently Richwine received a letter from his grandson written on Japanese paper from the Osaka Camp in which he said that he was all right under the circumstances but the conditions were bad. The letter bore no date.

Sometime ago the Bainbridge Service Club received a letter from him saying that he had received the Easter card sent in February, 1944 during July of that year.

"I hope none of the other boys around there are as unlucky as I am," he said. "Please notify my grandfather that I am all right. I won't be able to write again for sometime."

At the Redistribution Station, an installation of the AAF Personal Distribution Station Command, will receive record and classification checks and a complete physical examination. Opportunities for recreation and entertainment are provided for the AAF overseas veterans at the station. When his processing period is finished he will be assigned to duty in the United States or if slated for discharge from the service, to a separation center.

Outstanding Performance
The Sico Co. here received the following letter from Lt. Col. Rex L. Smith, commanding military pipeline service:

I wish to take this opportunity to call to your attention the outstanding performance of duty which has been accomplished by

Sgt. Cletus A. Kaylor, of town, now in Luzon, was recently promoted to Staff Sgt. He expects to be home in about a month.

James L. Shaeffer, a former employee of your organization. The background of experience and general "know how" which he gained in your employ has been invaluable to this organization in its gigantic task of supplying gasoline to the armies in France, Belgium and Germany. To accomplish his supply job it was necessary to construct and operate 3,560 miles of pipelines, plus storage and dispensing facilities. The speed with which it was necessary to construct and place in operation these pipelines could never have been attained without the services of men formerly employed by civilian oil and construction companies. These men have worked long and arduous hours in unswerving performance of their duties in key positions with this organization. As Commanding Officer of Military Pipeline Service, I take pleasure in commending this man for the exceptional way in which he has performed all duties assigned to him.

Describes His Experience
L. R. Swarr, quartermaster second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lehman Swarr, Mount Joy RI, serving aboard the USS Levy now in Jav waters, described his experiences at the time of the surrender

Aboard The USS Nevada In The Pacific

Edward J. Craul, seaman, second class, USNR, Pine St., Mt. Joy, Pa., celebrated the surrender of Japan aboard this famous American battleship as she rested at anchor in Leyte Gulf after a 32-day mission into the East China Sea.

The 30-year-old battleship NEVADA, veteran of six major campaigns in this war, celebrated the Japanese surrender while at anchor in Leyte Gulf. The "Old Imperishable" of the Fleet had just completed a 32-day mission in the East China Sea to climax a career that began at Pearl Harbor, went through the Aleutians campaign, Normandy and Southern France invasions and Iwo and Okinawa battles.

One of these two Official U. S. Navy photographs shows her underway, the other blasting away at the enemy with her 14-inch guns.

A Close-up of Some of the Nevada's Guns in Action

last month, in a letter to his home. Enroute to Wake Island, he said they picked up a Jap Vice Admiral who refused to formally surrender Mille Atoll in the Marshall Islands until the Tokyo surrender, but he changed his mind later.

Veteran of the actions at Truk, Satawan, Ponape, Saipan, Guam, the Palaus and Leyte, Swarr now wears seven battle stars on his Asiatic-Pacific service ribbon, since entering the Navy April 15, 1943.

He was a toolmaker at the Merchant and Evans plant, Lancaster, before entering service. After graduating at the Mt. Joy high school, he had completed a course in metallurgy at F. and M. College.

His boot training was taken at Sampson, N. Y., and six weeks afterwards he went to sea on the Levy.

On the USS Levy in the Pacific—L. R. Swarr, quartermaster, second class, Route 1, Mt. Joy, Penna., is a member of the crew of this destroyer escort, which participated in the first unconditional surrender of Jap-held territory to the United States.

The Levy, her guns ready, played the role of watch in the lagoon while Old Glory was run up over Mille Atoll in the Marshall Islands. The ceremony was the climax of a dramatic week for the ship. She was the first American warship to enter an enemy held lagoon when she picked up Capt. Masonori Shigan, commander of the garrison, to sign the surrender terms of Capt. H. S. Crow, USNR, of Greenville, Mich., Commanding Officer of nearby Majuro.

Since she was commissioned in May, 1943, the Levy participated in actions at Truk, Satawan, Ponape, Saipan, Guam, the Palaus and Leyte.

Award Of The Silver Star
By direction of the President under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved July 9, 1918 and pursuant to authority in AR 600-45, September 22, 1943, a Silver Star of gallantry in action is awarded to Private 1st Class Christian D. Neidigh, Corps of Engineers, of the United States Army, for gallantry in action in the vicinity of Woodpecker Ridge, Luzon, Philippine Islands on May 23, 1945. Private Neidigh was operating a bulldozer in the construction of a supply road across Woodpecker Ridge. Part of the road had to be built across the crest of a hill in full view of enemy observation and fire. In order to clear out the entrenched enemy who were constantly harassing our troops from the surrounding undergrowth, a flame throwing tank was brought forward to burn out the enemy. The nature of the terrain made it impossible for the tank to maneuver into effective range. An engineer bulldozer was called upon to push a trail through for the tank to follow. At that time none of the dozens in the area had armored cabs inasmuch as their use would greatly impede the visibility and operation of the dozer. The nature of the situation made immediate action necessary. With complete disregard for his own personal safety, Private Neidigh came forward with his dozer and proceeded in advance of the tank toward the enemy positions. As a result of this action, the tank was able to move in and destroy the enemy, leading to the continued advance of our troops.

gets Bronze Star Medal
With the 9th Infantry Division in Germany, Private First Class Harold F. Schatz, Jr., radio operator in A Company, 47th Infantry, Regiment of Mt. Joy, Pa., has recently been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic achievement in action against the enemy on Dec. 12, 1944, in the vicinity of Luchem, Germany.

During an assault against strongly defended enemy positions, Pfc. Schatz's Company was subjected to a fierce enemy counter-attack. Of Pfc. Schatz's actions the official Bronze Star Citation reads, in part: "Although the enemy force approached to within close range of his unit's emplacements, Pfc. Schatz kept the enemy pinned down with a heavy volume of accurate carbine fire. When his own ammunition was expended, he secured and effectively used the rifle and ammunition of a wounded soldier. His deadly fire halted the assaulting enemy troops and enabled the aid men to evacuate all casualties from the forward combat area, insuring the wounded of prompt medical treatment."

Pfc. Schatz joined the 9th Div. on July 24, 1944, when the division was in the vicinity of St. Lo, France. He entered the service Dec. 10, 1943, and trained at Camp Blanding, Fla. In addition to his latest decoration Pfc. Schatz wears the Good Conduct Medal, Combat Infantryman's badge, Presidential Unit Citation and the European Theater ribbon with battle stars for Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes, and Central Europe. His wife, Mrs. Myrtle L. Schatz, Sr., live on Route 2, Mt. Joy, Pa.

Sgt. Wm. F. Barto stationed at Okinawa, after quite an effort of hitch-hiking, jeep riding and any means of transportation available, and traversing a large area of the island, inquiring from one outfit after another, finally located his nephew Pfc. Parke Neiss, this was their first meeting in many months, and Uncle and Nephew enjoyed a few hours talk of the folks back home.

1st Lt. Charles B. Frank
he would be returned to the U. S. in the near future and would be given an opportunity to contact them upon arrival.

Lt. Frank was reported missing in May, 1942, and was listed as a prisoner of war in February, 1943. His parents received six cards from him during his internment, the last of which, mailed in June, 1944, was received on Wednesday.

At that time, Lt. Frank wrote that he was in good health and was interned in Camp Dado, Philippine Islands. A veterinarian, he entered service in March 1941, and left the U. S. Oct. 27, 1941. He had been stationed in Manila for approximately ten days when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, the officer was previously associated with Penn Dairies, Inc., as a milk inspector.

His brother, Pfc. Leo Frank, is returning to the U. S. after serving with a military police unit in the South Pacific or 27 months.

Now we know what they meant by an abundant life, and that was when we had roast beef once a week and steak now and then.

ONE OF A SERIES OF MESSAGES TO WAR VETERANS

GETTING BACK INTO THE SWING OF THINGS

"I won't know how to act when I'm a civilian again" is a common expression in the services. But it really is amazing how quickly you slip back into the ordinary routines of daily life.

There are new problems of course, many of them. Some of the more important ones involve your job, home, health, education and family. And almost every problem has an important financial side.

No one is better equipped—by training, experience and access to current information—to give you financial counsel and advice than your bank. No one is better able to help you with actual service such as loans than your bank. And certainly no one wants to help you and serve you any more sincerely than this bank.

So the logical thing to do is come in and see us. Everything will be in complete confidence. ★ ★ ★
