EDITORIAL

The best way to realize the Marshall Plan loan is to dial the numbers on the telephone.

With the world in such turmoil, try and find the fellow who says the human race is improving.

Science is a wonderful thing but up to this time it hasn't invented a typewriter that spells correctly.

We know of at least five property owners in the first square of East Main street who would welcome boro sewage at this time—right now. They would rather spend their money connecting to a sewage system than repair or try to open the old clogged sink.

Patience, neighbors. Sooner or later we may reap the reward.

LOOKING FORWARD
The Veteran's Administration points to the fact that only three out of ten veterans have kept the premiums paid on their government insurance policies. This, when commercial insurance companies agree that such a policy offered servicemen is the best. Premiums paid for two months back on the insurance that has been allowed to lapse, will put it into effect again. Veterans, if possible, should keep their policies for insurance against need. A new deadline is set for reinstatement of lapsed policies and runs until July 31, 1949. Any veteran interested in getting information might talk to a VA contact officer.

A WORTHY RESOLUTION
A number of our new year's resolutions have already been broken, no doubt, but one made by the Girl Scouts of the United States of America, will be faithfully kept, you can be sure. There's: "100,000 Children Shall Be Clothed By Us". Outstanding for its service to humanity, they have extended their energy to recondition or to make garments for the children of Europe and Asia, as well as keep up their good works here at home. We feel this act by the Girl Scouts is one of the best ways to bring about a spirit of understanding and a hope for peace, in this beset world. Congratulations and our thanks for this co-operative endeavor.

We doubt whether there is a community anywhere in the country in which there are more hunters than right here in Mount Joy and the surrounding community. But right here and now we have a complaint to make and here it is. With the ground covered with snow for some time, did it ever dawn upon any of you fellows that the birds and rabbits you didn't kill last season, will be the parents of the game you expect to shoot next fall? And these parents can't go out and buy their feed—they must hunt it.

In our travels thru the snow day after day, we didn't meet, much less see one hunter feeding game that we met afield last Fall.

Fellows, now is the time you can improve next year's bag. Don't let 'em starve to death.

STEEPED IN JANUARY
One thing about January, she is not a monotonous lady. According to weather offered most sections, there were weeks of surprises.

Yet this should not be so, after tasting of winter for so many years. Everything in its place, everything in due season, and so the place for winter is now. Folks have taken blizzards, northern blasts, sleet and slush, as a matter of fact and found things pleasant to say about wintertime. Walking through frozen woodlands one can find signs of spring cuddling midst the branches. Dogwood is proof that the sun will exhibit again this next season. The relationship of families seems closer when the hearthfire gathers to its side the united group. We do more gadding around when the weather is warm and families don't know each other so well.

beauty to be had inside and outside the winter landscape. Tho we relish the time when we can shake the mothballs from the bathing suits, oil our fishing rods, weed the garden, still, with all her snow, we find a kind word for January.

TAX EXEMPTIONS FOR BOROUGH

Did you know that municipalities are exempt from federal excise taxes on many items? To obtain such exemption it is only necessary to submit a signed exemption certificate with the purchase order or when the bill is paid, and deduct the tax. Some of these deductions are as follows:

Gasoline (1 and 1-2 percent), lubricating oil (gallon 6c), telegrams and long distance phone calls (25 percent), local telephone service (15 percent), tires (lb. 5c), inner tubes (lb. 5c), truck chassis and body (5 percent), automobiles (7 percent), auto parts (5 percent), revolvers (11 percent), electric gas and oil appliances (10 percent), light bulbs (20 percent).

This constitutes quite a saving to the municipalities that are taking advantage of these exemptions.

WHY THE OIL SHORTAGE?

Most of us have a difficult time understanding the whys and wherefores of the present oil shortage, coupled with the difficult time the situation gives us wondering if we are going to be able to keep the ol' home heated the rest of the winter.

A few years ago, and just a few, too, we were providing oil for submarine chasers, merchant ships, tanks and army trucks by the thousands—and still Americans had enough oil to go around. Now in a time of peace we don't have enough oil to fill home consumption. It doesn't make sense.

The oil companies tell us that both oil production and oil consumption are at an unprecedented level with oil consumption showing the much greater increase. That would indicate that the oil companies made a mighty poor guess in setting up its quota of reserve supplies.

Yet it hasn't been three months since the dailies carried an item of several oil-laden ships starting out for Russia. Nope, it doesn't add up.

NATIONAL YOUTH

There is afoot a program offered by U. S. educators for improving the lines of instruction followed in grade and high schools. It is suggested that our schools and colleges should promote programs for furthering American democracy, introduce facts about leaders of note in various fields as agriculture, labor, industry, the professions and so forth. It seems necessary for communities to see that subjects regarding the study of communist, socialist, fascist material to inform students to distinguish between the beliefs of these groups, should be handled by competent, democracy-loving people. Capable teachers are needed to meet an intelligent approach to the "isms".

Promotion of American ideals should be part of every school-child's curriculum. History affords the study of democracy, geography lends itself to the conflict of ideologies with boundary expansion, of lost causes and territories. Mathematics can deal with cost principles, financial obligations of statehood, resources of labor and capital. Literature, well-directed, covers the entire field and is a gauge of values. The little red schoolhouse and the college classroom have all the material to move democracy forward.

Why Prices Are High

true on quite a lot of other machinery.

The writer tried to buy a piece of equipment there and was told by the dealer that the one on the floor was only made for the show, there were none for sale in the United States and they would not promise to make delivery from the factory for from 8 to 10 months.

That, my dear readers, is our honest version of why prices are so high today. And they will remain high as long as there is a demand.

When you "get down to brass tacks", if the manufacturer dumps a lot of his products on the market at a recession in price, he's just a plain fool, no matter what people think. American manu-
