STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates—scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps—and it is needed now.

IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP

There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring—and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:

1. You make some money on what you can't use.
2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.

Scrap means savings to you—if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.
