STOP SOIL LOSSES
Strip farming not only conserves moisture for future use of crops but also saves the soil from running away. Grain or sod are alternated with strips in cultivated crops on the contour. Strips 80 to 100 feet wide are best.

AVOID TOO MUCH RAKING
Fine pulverizing of the garden soil is a waste of time. After spading smooth the surface and break the clods. Be sure to wait until the ground is dry enough to work.
