EDITORIAL

Appears as though the only way to straighten out Russia is to take her to the woodshed.

Most women never held a spade in their hand until they joined the Garden Club.

Our candid impression is that the price of sin hasn't risen in comparison with the increased cost of other things.

Now I know why the older folks prefer square dancing to jitterbugging—it doesn't require near as much knee action.

In order to meet continual increase in expenses the city of York is considering a new tax. They contemplate levying a ten percent tax on renters of hotel rooms, apartment house rooms, tourist cabins and rooming houses. If every Tom, Dick and Harry insists on an increase in pay and there really isn't any Santa Claus, the public must pay.

THE FAMILY AT FAULT

Our duty is to concern ourselves over the increasing crime among boys and girls, under 21 years of age. Some parents blame the rise in juvenile crime upon the past war. This does not account for the fact that there was a 10.5 per cent increase in juvenile crime cases this year, over 1947. Society charges the greatest lack is in conditions in the home. This is backed by those who study crime as a business. J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI feels that homes are merely places of living rather than places of learning. Since family life is blamed, it becomes a responsibility of every parent. A serious crime was committed every 18.9 seconds during last year, in a country that boasts about its good life, its educational system, its wealth.

PREPARATION

The seriousness of the world's temper, is stressed by the preparation of our medical profession to answer a national emergency, by getting together with the military, on matters of atomic, biological and chemical warfare and its effects on the civilian population. It is wise to plan for the future but the realization that such action might be necessary, is not a happy thought. The use of the latest weapons of modern times, will result in such disaster to humans that it calls for new, modern ways of combating the effects, through medical aid and relief. Well might we cry out for spiritual help and guidance when confronted by the prospects of that monster "war".

CHANGE PARTNERS

After the sweep of jitterbugs and rumba, it is pleasing to the older, who can't keep pace with modern dancing, to hear there is a craze for the old-fashioned square dance. What started, in a few cities, as a mild return, has grown into a popular fad that is taking the country and city by storm. Clubs and some colleges, are having teachers instruct in the formations, steps, calls. Shades of our grandfather, it is a nostalgic return to the days of simplicity. Dress styles lend themselves to the square dance for "colored", long, full skirts and blouses of plaids, daintily sprigged catkins gingham and percales, seem to have time looking backward and finding pleasant some of the features of granddaddy's day.

CLEAN UP

Everything seems to take money, but there is something that those who take pride in their town can do, without a great expenditure of cash. It is more a point of time than cost, to use energy and effort to clean up one's town. Most neighbors work to improve the appearance of homes, yards and alleys. Clean-up drives are popular in every city. Officials, civic groups, garden clubs, health organizations, sponsor campaigns to beautify their municipalities. Tin cans, ashes, refuse of all kinds, seem to accumulate in spite of us.

FIXING UP the HOME

By Diane Greeter

How to Solve Storage Problem

IT SEEMS there never is enough storage room in a home, whether it be a big house or a small apartment. We all want everything we may want to use handy, so it is unnecessary to poke around in dark closets for suddenly desired items. One solution to this problem of storage, and a good way to protect valuable woolsens, too, is to use a pair of cedar hope chests at the foot of twin beds. While we may look upon the hope chest as a symbol of romance, it has very practical values. They tell me that, even if clothes moths do get in a cedar chest, they can do very little damage. Only the young moth larvae eat your clothes, and the cedar aroma paralyzes them as soon as they are hatched out. Unable to eat, they starve to death.

We shopped around and found that chests can be obtained in such a variety of outer wood finishes that they can match almost any furniture now being used in the bedroom. They are particularly nice at the end of the new Hollywood type beds and they have the additional virtue of being available as seats when you have a flock of bedroom visitors. Keep in the chests your extra blankets, furs, woolen scarves and dresses and gloves and any other of your fine things which would make a hungry moth lick his chops.

Week's Best Recipe

Batter-Fried Oysters: 1-2 c sifted flour, 1-2 t baking powder (double acting), 1-2 t salt, pepper, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1-3 c milk, 1 t lemon juice, 1 t grated onion, 1 T chopped parsley, 1 pt. Blue-point oysters, drained. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and pepper and sift again. Combine egg, milk, lemon juice, onion and parsley. Add gradually to flour, beating until blended. Dip oysters into batter, drain off excess and fry in a small amount of fat, turning to brown both sides. Makes from four to six servings.

Using Wall Paper

Use an attractive pattern in wall paper to decorate a door panel or the front of dresser drawers. This brings color into a plain room. Line dresser drawers with a pattern that carries out the color scheme of a room. There are wall papers that look like cedar boards. This can be used in closets most effectively. A striped wall paper border around a couple of paints, then used to cover a lamp shade and waste basket of the living room, is very pleasing. You can apply these ready-pasted papers yourself on the walls of a room. Simply plunge the paper into a tub of water and apply.

For Breakfast

Serve boiled tomato slices on toast with your breakfast of scrambled eggs - Cover peaches with brown sugar, dot with butter and broil. Serve with fried sausage for breakfast - Use honey butter on waffles, griddlecakes or hot biscuits.
