

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

Funny things happen when medicine and other bottles are not correctly labeled. If you think I'm kidding, here's one Herby just told us about—

An excited woman telephoned the drug store for assistance. "It's this way," she explained to Herbie. "I have some of those pills which supply vitamins for plants and mistaking them for aspirin, I took a couple. What do I do now?" Herbie said he would investigate and call back. Presently her telephone rang.

"I haven't been able to find an antidote, but I don't think you need to worry," Herbie reassured her. "As near as I can figure, you've just swallowed 2 shovelfuls of fertilizer."

Here's a little poem brought about by those little terrors - spring onions—

I grew a little onion
With heart as white as snow,
And everywhere I travelled
That bulb was sure to go.

I went into a bus one day,
And there that onion went;
Competing with a garlic bud;
We traded scent for scent.

I grew a little onion,
As pretty as can be.
Now why do people pass me by
And never speak to me?

—You enlighten him I haven't the heart.

If you want your work to last longer try doing it the way Clarence Hollinger does. Not too long ago, he bought a used tire for his truck, put it in his car and went home. He jacked up the truck, took off the old tire, set it aside, got into a conversation with someone, reached over, got the tire, put it on, looked at it and thought: "I bought a bum looking tire." — — — — — And then it dawned! He forgot to take the good tire out of his car and had put the old one back on — — — — — My! My!

That's almost as bad as Mary Hipple and her "lost" bed sheet. She changed the bed linens and when she had finished she found that she was one short. So she started to hunt and after searching in vain, enlisted the help of the family, (including Minnie) and they practically tore the house apart, and still no sheet. So Mary started from scratch, and went back over her clean beds and there the elusive linen was, nicely laid out right over the other sheet — — — — — she had taken the one soiled sheet of a bed and put it over top another sheet on another bed, leaving the two soiled sheets on one bed — — — — — Such going on.

Finally the worm has turned! A druggist in a nearby town was handed a golden opportunity and he took it, here's how—

When he went to pick up his long-awaited new car, he found the model completely equipped with fog lights, radio, spotlight, seat covers and all the extras which some dealers try to foist off on buyers these days. His objection were met with "Take it or leave it." The druggist took it—reluctantly.

A few days later the automobile dealer came into the drugstore with a prescription. When he wrapped up the medicine, the druggist included aspirin, hot water bottle, vitamins, cough syrup, nose spray, and other supplies for the medicine chest. The dealer's angry protests were brushed off with "Take it or leave it." And he took it!

And with that we leave you this week. See you June 3rd.

MAYTOWN LOST ITS SIXTH
In the city-county baseball league Maytown lost its sixth in a row, to Paradise Sunday by an 8 to 3 score.

Harold Stormfeltz, seventeen, a Manheim High school pitcher, turned in a no-hitter Thursday.

MAYTOWN HIGH WON IN PLAYOFF WITH NEW HOLLAND

It took two extra innings to decide the playoff game between East Donegal and New Holland.

New Holland drew first blood pushing across two runs in the first frame and East Donegal retaliated with one in the second. New Holland added another in the third, but two by the Section 1 champs tied it up in the fifth. Once again New Holland, sectional champs for the past three years, forged to the front with two runs in the sixth, but the score was tied up again in the seventh. And after a scoreless eighth inning, East Donegal pushed across three runs and went on to hold New Holland to one, winning by two runs.

Fisher fanned 12, hit two batsmen and had a wild pitch. Mull struck out eight and each gave four bases on balls.

EAST DONEGAL... 010 020 203-8
NEW HOLLAND... 201 002 001-6
Errors—Coker, Boese, Fisher, V. Hawthorne, Walters 2, Good 2, McGinnis, Moll, Weaver, Trupe 2. Three base hit—Weaver. Two base hits—Kurtz, L. Hawthorne 2, Johnson, Weaver 2. GERALD ESTOCK HURLED A NO-HITTER IN OPENER

Adding an extra attraction to the opening game ceremonies for the Lanco Midget League game here last evening, Gerald Estock, 14-year-old freshman at Mt. Joy High school, came up with a no-hit, no-run game as our Midgets drew first blood in league competition by defeating Elizabethtown 3 to 0. The locals played a bang up game and with that brand of ball will certainly go places in the league this season.

The team plays at Manheim next Wednesday evening.

GREINA THEATRE OPENS THURSDAY JUNE 10th

Opening one week earlier than usual, the Greina Playhouse, Central Pennsylvania's popular summer theatre located at Mt. Gretna, will ring up the curtain on its fourth post-war season on Thursday night, June 10th.

Charles F. Coghlan, who has directed the company since 1945, returns in the same capacity. He also is co-producer with Gene P. Otto.

Pullets Termed Better Layers Than Old Hens

Further evidence of the importance of keeping only pullets for layers and selling all old hens is contained in tests conducted at western Kentucky substation. Average results over 11 years show that annual production of Barred Rock pullets was four dozen eggs per bird greater than that of hens. In the case of White Leghorns, pullets laid three dozen eggs per bird more than old hens.

Cost of Keeping Rats Runs High on Farms

Rats and mice, mankind's greatest animal enemies, cause enormous losses to agricultural crops, root crops, tubers, bulbs, cereals and trees. Rats also transmit such diseases as typhus and bubonic plague. It costs about two cents a day for $7.30 a year to keep a rat. One rat will eat and destroy from 85 to 100 pounds of feed a year, or as much as is consumed by a laying hen. A cow produces on food of 225 rats.

THE LOW DOWN

HICKORY GROVE

I been reading where a fellow painted a picture of San Diego—it took the prize, also it touched off a debate. One uncouth person says the picture looks to him to be an impacted tooth with a cavity but his wife says, No, it is a scorched soup-bone, she says. Others say it is a typographical error, but the Art Society says, tut! tut!—it is "Hope Deferred," anybody should see that, just like the artist labeled it. But one stubborn fellow there still clings to the typographical error theory "hope" should have read "Dope."

Trying to look high-brow, artistically speaking and not knowing just how—also being color-blind—our Art patrons and critics are crowding all others as America's greatest sucker group.

But enough on art—and on to Congress. Folks down there, brought up in the city, are talking learned-like and profound on the farm questions—how to teach the farmer about rotating crops—how much fertilizer, etc. etc. And to get the help to do these and 100 profound things planned from A to Z, the Civil Service is scouring the country for stenographers, Ph.D.'s, all kind of help. Do you mean to intimate, says Henry, that Congress ranks up there in second place, alongside the art crowd? No, I says, us voters are in second place—Congress is only third.

Yours with the low down,
JIMMY

"MARSH HEAVY" GEMBERLING SIGNS WITH BALT. BULLETS

The many followers of the athletic career of Marshall "Heavy" Gemberling, Jr., of town, will be interested to learn that last week he signed a contract with the Baltimore Bullets, All-American Championship basketball team of 1947.

Gemberling is the son of Mrs. M. L. Gemberling and the late Mr. Gemberling, of 112 West Main St., this borough, and is a graduate of Mt. Joy high school, class of 1942.

At present he is a student at Lebanon Valley College majoring in physical education, and on June 14 will begin his practice teaching at Hershey Industrial School. He will continue to teach the seventh grade Ancient History and the ninth grade Political Science until July 23rd or 28th.

In October he will begin training with the Baltimore Bullets.

Gemberling also received a bid from the Philadelphia Athletics but after careful consideration, declined the offer and signed with the Bullets.

"BOB" KUNKLE TO SPONSOR MIDGET - MIDGET TEAM

A midget - midget baseball team will be sponsored by Robert Kunkle, local oil distributor, on West Main Street.

All boys interested in playing on this proposed team will be given an opportunity to tryout at a date to be announced later.

"Bob" was once a "Pro" baseball player himself, having had a try-out with the Philadelphia A's, in Florida, and would like to see the boys get off to an early start.
