

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

A woman on Mount Joy Street went to Lancaster recently and came home with a large but beautiful lamp shade.

When she showed it to her husband he said: If you wear that darn hat to church Sunday you go alone.

Several fellows from town were in Phila. Monday and here is ample evidence they were having a good time. One of them told me that the other fellow went into a telephone booth and after dropping three or four nickels came out disgustingly and remarked: There wasn't be any peanuts in that darn machine.

Two fellows from Milton Grove came to town Tuesday morning and it was so cold one of them wore ear muffs but he said he'd never do it again if he froze his ears. His pal asked him if he'd like to have a drink and he didn't hear him.

That just reminds me of the many funny things one sees outdoors. One day last Fall when Jim Smeltzer, Walter Loraw, Frank Tyndall, Tim Schroll and a number of other fellows were fishing down at Safe Harbor, there sat a fellow fishing with a big long rod—there was a worm on both ends.

Four of the live wires of the Washington National Insurance Co. 800 N. Second St., Harrisburg, sent us a Believe It or Not item. Messrs. Fred Ross of New Cumberland, Skeets Hilmer, of White Hill, George S. Halbleib and Clyde Miller of Camp Hill played seven complete sets of tennis on an outdoor court at Camp Hill, Sunday, Jan. 9th, 1949. They played 3 1-2 hours and all wore T-shirts and shorts.

Harold Harter, another insurance man, (the guy who takes his trout fishing so serious that when they won't bite he just lies on the creek bank and sleeps till the fish get hungry) will vouch for the above story.

You know, every normal man has two ambitions: first, to own his home; second, to own a car to get away from his home.

I know a man hereabouts who is such a pessimist that he even looks for bones in animal crackers. —Sawfull—

Met a Salunga young blood whose family I had lost track of and so I asked: "What does your father do now?" "Nothing," replied the youth. "And you?" I inquired. "Oh, I take after my father," he answered. —Nice work if you can get it.

I never realized there were such mean people around! Why only last night, I met a lulu. He is one of those fellows who would steal the shirt off your back and then have you arrested for indecent exposure.

During Monday's snow a motorist narrowly missed hitting a lady pedestrian who was taking her time crossing the street. After he ran his car into a snowbank to miss her, he angrily shouted: "Some of you pedestrians walk along as if you owned the streets." The lady retorted: "Yes, and some of you motorists drive around as if you owned the car!" —Ouch!

Pete Wheeler of Hickory Holler had ordered four tires covered from a mail order house. They were sent to him, and a few weeks later the manager of the mail order house was surprised to find the following letter on his desk: "Gentlemen: A few weeks ago I ordered four tire covers from you and I put them on. I hadn't drove fifteen miles before the blame things had wore clear out. Now I want some new tire covers or my money back—Pete Wheeler" A WISE OWL

REG'AR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

MOTION PICTURE AT TRINITY LUTHERAN

The motion picture, "My Name is Han", will be shown in Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday evening, February 6, at 7 p.m.

"My Name is Han", is a dramatic story in documentary style of a Chinese refugee family returning to their war-torn home, and how the Christian Church helped them in their adjustment. This sound film was produced by the Protestant Film Commission at the request of the Missionary Education Movement, to be used in conjunction with the mission study theme for 1949, which is "China".

The Vesper Services at Trinity, during the Epiphany Season are being devoted to a study of the mission fields of the church. The slides "Our Lutheran Church in China," were shown at the service last Sunday evening. Further study followed in the Mission Study Class of the Women's Missionary Society on Tuesday evening, when the slides, "China's Tomorrow," were shown. Slides and films on other mission fields will be used on subsequent Sunday evenings.

Everyone is invited to come and see these films, and we especially recommend to you, "My Name is Han".
