

CONTROL CATERPILLARS

Lead arsenate or DDT sprays kill caterpillars, but these pests can be eliminated before they hatch out by cutting off and burning twigs of the trees containing the resinous-covered egg masses deposited last year, reports John O. Pepper, extension plant pathologist of the Pa. State College.

WATER AFTER FEEDING

Cows not supplied with drinking cups should be turned out to water morning and evening after they have been fed, states R. H. Olmstead, in charge of dairy extension, the Pa. State College. The best plan is to give them access to water at all times, and thereby increase the size of the milk check.

REPAIRED MACHINE SAFE

Needed repairs made to farm machines ahead of the time they will be used avoids loss of time and, more importantly, assure the greater safety in their operation, points out John R. Haswell, extension agricultural engineer of the Pa. State College.

CHICKEN CONTEST TO SELECT BEST MEAT TYPE BIRD

Pennsylvania poultry breeders are planning to enter their best type birds in the 1949 Pennsylvania Chicken of Tomorrow Contest must have their chicks hatched during the week of March 31 to April 6, according to E. J. Lawless, Jr., who is in charge of the division of poultry try and eggs in the State Department of Agriculture, recently named as a judge in the annual event.

Chief purpose of the contest sponsored by the Pa. State Poultry Federation is to stimulate efforts of the poultry breeders to improve meat type chickens, Lawless declared. Other goals are to encourage economical production by obtaining a bird that will put on the most weight in a given time, and to provide a more desirable meat bird for the consumer. J. Warren Shearer, Wernersville, is chairman of the Federation committee that is staging this year's contest.

Those eligible in the Pa. contest, in addition to breeders, include the poultrymen, Future Farmer and 4-H members, hatcherymen and vocational agriculture schools. As was the case last year, there will be junior and senior classifications, the juniors being under 20 years of age.

MOTORS EASE LABOR

Electric motors, which can be used for sawing wood, grinding grain for feed, and many other purposes, are coming into more general use on the farm, says Charles B. Burgess extension agricultural engineer of the Pa. State College.

KEEP CHICKS WARM

Brooder stove guards made of the foot-high poultry netting, cardboard, or wood help young chick to get accustomed to the heat and prevent chilling and piling up, explains H. H. Kauffman, Pa. State extension poultry specialist.

GIVE LAMBS GOOD START

Creep feeding lambs and good legume hay until pasture is available permits rapid finishing for the markets and maximum profit from this farm crop, says W. B. C. nnell, extension livestock specialist of the Pa. State College.

DESTROY APHIDS

Dinitro used as a dormant spray on fruit trees or ornamentals (not evergreens) infested with eggs of aphids or plant lice will destroy the pests before they have a chance to hatch, informs J. O. Pepper, Pa. State extension entomologist.

"I Can Trust A&P..."

"We live in a pretty nice neighborhood. We aren't rich, and neither are our neighbors. Our income is what might be called 'comfortable,' and we have most of the things we really want as well as some money in the bank. And we've never cashed our war bonds."

"We've come along in the world from a modest start, not by skimping, but by trying to spend wisely what we've had to spend. And I've noticed that most folks who have a little something are folks who believe in getting their money's worth."

"I do all my shopping for food at our A&P Super Market. I do it because I can trust them."

"I can trust them to buy the best that the market affords, and to guard its quality and freshness until I come for it."

"I know it's their policy, when they mark eggs Grade A, to keep them fresh so they'll be 'Grade A' when I buy them (Grade A eggs, you know, will not be Grade A if they linger too long in the store)."

"When I buy a steak at A&P I know it's beef from a grain-fed steer, expertly selected in the first place, and well trimmed to give me my money's worth in meat, without too much fat and bone."

"I know it's their policy to offer fruits and vegetables that are fresh and crisp."

"I can trust A&P's advertising to be straightforward. When they list items like lettuce and cauliflower in their Super Market ads, it's been my experience they have good selections of the size heads they advertise, at the advertised price. I don't like any advertising that promises low prices, but when I try to buy at those prices, I am told 'We're sorry there are no more left at that price, how about one of these for more.' And when A&P advertises ground beef at thus-and-so, that's the price of their best ground beef (the only grade A&P sells), not a second grade."

"I know that if for any reason I am not entirely satisfied with something I have bought they'll gladly replace it or return my money."

"I trust their prices throughout the store and know I wouldn't save by shopping around the town. I don't mean that someone doesn't have a 'special' on something some time at a lower price than A&P. I mean that when I do all my shopping there, week in and week out, I'll save money and have the best that money can buy."

"Yes, I can trust A&P... and it's a mighty comfortable feeling."

IF YOU HAVE ANY SUGGESTIONS, opinions or criticisms that will help make your A&P a better place to shop, we will welcome them. There are more than 100,000 employees of A&P who want to make your A&P the finest place to do your shopping.
