A WISE OWL

A lot of George Mumper's friends and neighbors at Florin are giving him the laugh but don't forget, 'He who laughs last laughs best' and is George laughing.

One day last week he lost his wallet containing his driver's and registration cards together with all the other documents and $80 in cash. But, after worrying about it for a day, he found the wallet in a pair of trousers he had worn the day previous.

New that can never happen to printers because most of 'em only have one pair of pants.

It seems almost impossible that May is practically upon us. It sure is swell to look forward to an old fashioned Memorial Day celebration right here at home. Let's all make these donations when we are asked.

Ducky says when they were down at the opening game at Philly last Tuesday a girl in back of him watched seven innings without a remark, and then finally she said: "Isn't that pitcher marvelous? He hits their bats no matter where they hold them."

One of the laborers on the new road job below town remarked that "April Showers bring muddy feet."—Here I always thought it was May flowers.

Was down at Havre de Graw on Saturday and while waiting for the races I milled through the big crowd and overheard this conversation: "One-quarter of all the horses in the country are raised in the Middle West." "Which quarter?"

Many a person has an excellent aim in life, but no ammunition.

Just when we were prepared for Jim Stehman and Ollie Snyder to appear in their natty French caps, they blow into Sloan's both wearing big black, ten gallon hats and all the Texas accents that go with 'em. Anyhow, they had the coke crowd howling, but what next? Seconds is thirds.

An uptown man received an invitation to a very ritzy, formal dinner. He wasn't too well versed on what to do or when, but he decided he'd wait until someone else made a move and he'd follow the cue. Everything went perfect and the men had finished their liquor and cigars, when the host suggested: "Shall we join the ladies?" And caught off guard, our local man asked: "Wassamatter, they coming apart?"

I've been trying to build a bird house, and these women around the house drive me nuts with all their thousand and one suggestions on how to do it. — You know, it is a wonder Solomon ever got his temple finished with 1001 wives telling him what to do.

A reader told me he bets my Alma Mummy is Knot Normal.— Well, after all who is?

Down at the Lancaster airport on Sunday during the TWA shindig, several local gals were giggling and making themselves pretty common by their boisterousness. Yet all they were trying to do was get the attention of a cute pilot standing nearby. Realizing what was eating them, he suddenly walked over to them and asked: "Wanna fly?" Well, the girls practically fainted dead away, but one recovered enough to say: "O-o-oo, very much." And the pilot, smiling, said: "Wait, I'll catch you one," and with that he walked away. Those femmes were so humiliated they dug for their car and left.

At this time Elizabethtown is leading the parade with a clean slate.

done it again, but the hard way. It reads like this —

Darlene Nauman, at Eberle's Beauty Shoppe had quite a thrill while trout fishing the other day. It seems Darlene stood for quite some time and was just about to give up when something struck her line all of a sudden. She gave a jerk and the rod broke in two, so Darlene started yelling for help and for a moment we thought she was going in the creek after it but instead she pulled the line and after quite a bit of excitement she landed the fish herself—a 15 1/2 inch trout!! All she needs now is a fishing rod, but she still insists the loss was well worth it.

Thank You, reader.

THE WEATHER

By S. H. MILLER

Mercury enters Gemini on May 2, and leaves on July 12, 1949. Watch travel pickup. It is retrograde from May 23 to June 16, this will cause trouble in long distance communication, radio, telephone, railways, etc. Business, stockmarket, finances, will be below inflation peaks, more normal prices, business as usual but production lower, moving more toward a depression than a boom, taxation will go higher. Best planting dates 1, 2, 8, 9, 10, 11, 15, 16, 20, 24, and 25. Poorest planting dates 4, 5, 6. Best days to cut hay 1, 9, 10, 17, 18, 27, 28. Next best 5, 6, 13, 14, 22. In a few weeks the beautiful planet of Venus will be an evening star in the west for the balance of the year. Saturn moves into Virgo on May 29, this will make "Thrift" a must among the people. The moon will be high north on the 2nd, low South on the 15th, and again high north on the 30th, these dates are noted for weather change, warm weather except in the second week when a sharp dip and cooler can be expected.
