MAY OPEN ROAD LINKING IRONVILLE WITH LINCOLN H.
The West Hempfield Twp. Board of Supervisors are planning to re-open a road in the township to afford a more direct link between the center of Ironville with the Lincoln Highway.

The road runs from the concrete bridge at the Reading railroad culvert in Ironville, southward behind Indian Head through the M. M. Bushong farm and emerges at the Lincoln Highway near Kehler's school.

The road has been out of use and has grown shut in several of the places. Farmers, residents and landowners have favored the re-opening of this road and another one which was closed when the Reading railroad bridge, behind the Ironville Church, was removed.

Working out plans for the project are D. L. Shellenberger, Ohmer Gingrich and Harry M. Gridler, township supervisors.
