EDITORIAL

By now, we presume the June bride has found out just who is boss in the love nest.

And here is another By Now. The fellow who mowed his lawn all summer (and he got a break due to dry weather) knows all the answers about perpetual motion.

I sincerely hope there is no wife in our community who is so dumb that she thinks her husband a humanitarian because he had spent the evening away from home feeding the Kitty.

BACK ON THE HIGHWAYS

Thousands of school children soon return to class rooms, after a summer's vacation. The first few days or weeks of school they are going to be more careless and thoughtless about safety measures, forgetting the need to watch motor traffic. They will become more cautious later, but so early they haven't quite got into the "swing of things". So it is up to the drivers of cars, trucks and busses, to be extremely careful during the opening days of school. Let us try to keep a clean record here this school year, of accidents to youngsters.

MARGARET MITCHELL

Second only to the Bible, is the circulation of "Gone With The Wind". It has been read in most homes, where its story of defeat in the tragedy of war now stands for all humanity in its battle against life's undoing. The recent death of its authoress, Margaret Mitchell, from the injuries due to a traffic accident, put an end to the reading public receiving any more work from her pen. Her simplicity and her kindness in spite of fame and fortune, endeared her. Unpretentious, with all of Margaret Mitchell's success, she should be an example to those who come after her on the path of fame.

NOT A NEW SIN

This is to do about the deep freeze units, 5 per centers, social bribes, winning and dining, gifts and benefits in order to receive favors in return, from businessmen or politicians, isn't anything so new. It has been done before, but that doesn't make it right, especially with regard to representatives and senators who are supposed to be above special privileges and corruption. Many business houses, in private enterprise, won't permit members to accept any favors from a seller. They don't wish to be placed under any obligation. This holds true with many men in politics. Such "attentions" can take the form of bribes and often lead to a demand for the favor returned in business transactions. If they carry this deep freeze investigation too far they are apt to find more than refrigerators lined up with the skeletons in some of the closets in Washington.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

It is possible at this time of year, for the Aurora Borealis to be seen over much of the country. These fairy-like streams of color that extend through the sky are lights that issue from the two poles of the earth. They are cathode rays and, due to the magnetic field set off by the earth, only touch it at the poles. Their glowing light is affected by certain substances and aided by the reflection of the vast sheets of ice at the north pole. As they seem to move and change color, we gaze upward in awe, considering the magnificence of the universe.

WE SHOULD BECOME SO SOPHISTICATED

That the magnitude of nature leaves us unmoved with the little appreciation of its wonders. There is an every hand and in every day and night, much to confirm our faith in the great Power that gives us sun, moon, stars, rainbows and the Aurora Borealis. How little are we, beneath the heavens vastness. How little we know of the celestial phenomena.

LABOR DAY

Labor Day credits working men with the effectiveness with which they do their job. Labor, directly or otherwise, bears the responsibility of the future of a democracy by its past and present endeavor. There is a long list of the accomplishments of the many who toil, whether it be in a factory, office, on a farm or behind a counter. The American working man compares, in his highest standard of living any civilization has known, with the topmost economic bracket of the other countries.

The Knights of Labor, who had started the idea rolling for our Labor Day, back in 1882, knew then that without labor there is no wealth, that there is dignity in labor. Whatever our title, those who work at any job, are laborers. Workers helped to create this country. This is a laborer's land. But, labor needs capital to work with it, as a partner in its industry. By labor and management working together, you strengthen the estate of both. We honor honest labor.

Expect to Finish

town road. This equipment has not yet been connected. The community, which for years has depended upon a pump in the community square, will soon have as its water source a spring on the Gladfelter property which has been tested at 120 gallons of water a minute. Until completed Maytowners will rely on the town pump, private wells or cisterns which in past years have dried up during dry seasons, requiring the transporting of water by truck from nearby Marietta.

In addition to providing residents with a suitable domestic water supply, the new system will also provide adequate fire protection. Fire hydrants are being installed. In addition to the Rev. Mr. Heistand, other members of the authority are: Paul R. Beshler, as secretary; Mervin S. Arnold, G. Carl Shenk and Enos E. Miller all of Maytown.

PP AND L RATES FOR LIGHT AND POWER SERVICES

Pennsylvania Power and Light Company will file with the Pa. Public Utility Commission new tariff changes to become effective October 24th, 1949, which will increase electric rates for residential, farm and small general light and power customers. No bills will be rendered under the new rates until November 23. These new rates take the place of those filed in April of this year which were suspended by the Commission and later withdrawn in the anticipation of today's action. The new general residential rate is lower than that in the utility's previous filing in April. Rates for general light and power customers are identical with those filed in April.

"How does A&P do it?"

Any morning... any afternoon... in any A&P Self Service Market you are sure to hear quality-minded women saying to each other, "How does A&P do it?"

Pleasantly surprised, they tell us, "Your fruits and vegetables are fresher." "Your dairy items, baked goods, and other things are fresher, yet your prices are always low."

You see, women who are shopping around find that they don't get the best values unless they get top quality and real freshness along with low prices.

How A&P does it is really no secret

Saving money for A&P customers is an old, old story with us. Not because we say so, but because more and more families tell us it's so.

It takes a lot of good American "know-how" to price quality foods low and keep them low every day in the week. We do this because, like the thrifty women we serve, we budget our expenses too. You know, the lower our expenses the lower our prices.

And it takes a lot of "know-how" to know where to buy and when to buy to bring the best values to our customers.

Saving money for A&P customers is a combination of many things, big and small. Dig down to the root for these things and you'll find how A&P does it... efficiency in buying, in selling, and in good storekeeping.

Quality and freshness

Those good values that women get at their A&P begin with our insistence on fine quality. Unless a product can deliver good value, it cannot win a place in our stores. Our buyers turn down scores of products which fail to measure up to A&P's high standards.

And freshness is very important too. Unless foods are dependably fresh when you buy them you don't get full value for your money. We guarantee the freshness of every item because our store personnel is trained to properly care for foods. Ample refrigeration is also provided. If ever you buy anything at A&P that fails to satisfy you completely, tell us. We will cheerfully return your money.

Other things that help you save

Accurate scales... kept accurate by regular inspections... are placed so you can read the dials and check on what you are getting.

Prices plainly marked on each item—plus printed cash register slips, listing your purchases—so you may quickly verify your order and expenditure, when you get home.

And with courteous personnel to make every visit to your A&P Self Service Market pleasant and satisfying, we invite you to come and see for yourself how more and more women are cutting their food bills at A&P.

HOW CAN HELP US TO SERVE YOU BETTER
If you are a patron of the A&P in your community, please write us about anything that you believe we can do to make it a still better place to shop.
If you formerly shopped at A&P, but do not now due to some failure on our part, please tell us about it. We'll do our best to correct or adjust the matter to your entire satisfaction.
Criticism, opinions and suggestions, that will help to make your A&P a better store tomorrow than it is today, are always welcome. You will receive a prompt acknowledgment.
