He spoke on the home and the work it is doing. Rev. Hann had mentioned that there are about 5000 children in Methodist Homes at the present time. During his talk he expressed his opinion on putting children into foster homes.

Rev. Hann said that the policy of this particular home is that every child be given a normal chance to develop into being good citizens. He said that three out of every five return to their own homes before they graduate from high school and of the remaining ones, two out of every three go on for higher education.
