HIS PLACE IN THE WORLD

You dream of a lot of things for him... a college education and medical school... or a start in a business of his own... or agricultural college... or a chance to take over the farm free of debt.

Whether the dreams come true depends on a lot of things—in a large degree on him—and in a still greater degree on you... Say it's to be college—a full four years at State with some specialization afterwards... That takes some money, a pretty good bit actually; but you figure your earnings are going to be adequate to take care of it... Or you put some money aside in a bank as a sort of college fund...

Fine—unless... Unless something happens. But this is something too important to have threatened by any possibilities; this has to be rock solid...

There's just one way to get protection like that—through insurance... Straight life insurance will assure against financial troubles in case of sudden death; an Educational Fund policy will keep enough salted away for all those four years; special annuities will provide steady income to cushion your retirement years when that time comes...

This adds up to solid assurance that the money will be ready when his career needs it...

Insurance protection assures his place in the world.
