

OWL LAFFS

—BY— A WISE OWL

A piece of advice—Smart men never argue with their wives; they know that all they can prove is they married a dumb woman.

A Florin man and his wife stopped in front of a restaurant in Baltimore, which had a sign reading: "Lunch From 12 to 3: Fifty Cents." "Come on Mom," said the gent, "three hours' eating for only fifty cents is very reasonable."

Went to a lecture on Saturday night, and the brilliant spokesman started his talk by saying: "Ladies and gentlemen. I am a self-made man. I started life as a barefoot boy. You can imagine my embarrassment when the man I was with called out: 'None of us were born with shoes on.'"

A college student home for a weekend was telling the coked crowd at Sloan's what a boner he pulled his first week as a college Fresh. They had told him there was a student laundry, so one afternoon he calls the number and the following conversation takes place: "Hello, is this the student laundry? The reply: "Yes, sir." The Fresh: "Well, come and get me, I'm dirty."

In the way-back woods of Clinton County a hunting party came onto a dilapidated shack with just a roof over one end. A mountaineer woman was chopping wood and the fellows stopped to talk to her. They naturally remarked how very wet it must get when it rains and the woman answered: "Yeah, but it used to leak all over 'til Pa took the boards off one end and patched the leaks on the other." ----- True enough.

Later on in the conversation we found out she didn't even own a dish, they just ate out of the old kettle and when we asked her didn't she mind, she replied: No, I think I am right lucky. Cause I ain't never had to wash dishes since I married Pa. He just ain't never had enough money to buy any."

Y've gotta hand it to Dan Brubaker, he's a pretty conscientious fireman. Friday he was busy erecting an awning at Harry Derrenkamp's. At 11 a. m. the fire siren blew, Dan hot footed it over to the fire house and started the engine awaiting the firemen. Imagine his surprise when they told him it was Armistice Day.

If you want to see a man that's really burned up, visit a certain home in Maytown. His spouse made drapes and slip covers for the living room, and she had a half yard left over so she made her husband a tie which she insists he wears. Now when he sits on a chair or the davenport with his matching tie he looks like part of the furniture. ----- The poor dope.

A Junior wanted to know how to pop corn. When told to put the corn in a closed pan and shake, he then wanted to know how it comes off the cob.--Yipe!

A special requisition has been forwarded to the bank to send Gwendine Kramer a complete list of it's holidays, so that she again won't make the mistake of trying to get a check cashed at the bank on Nov. 11, Armistice Day, a legal holiday.

FALL FRESHENING PAYS

Cows freshening in the Fall not only help to reduce the spring surplus of milk but also make more money for the dairyman. C. R. Gearhart, points out that fall and winter prices of milk are higher than spring and summer prices.

ORDER TREE SEEDLINGS

Farmers planning to plant some forest tree seedlings next spring are urged to get their orders in this fall. In this way they can get early spring delivery of desired kinds of trees.

THE LOW DOWN

HICKORY GROVE
Folks, I am a kind of peaceful sort of citizen, but you know, she is beginning to look as if it is nearly time to whip out the old 8-shooter and clear the landscape of the crew that is steering us right smack along the route chosen by that Britisher, Atlee. And look at Atlee's socialist England today--first as a pancake. The gloom that comes from scarcities and government business grows thicker and thicker. The promised land, like a desert mirage, is beyond reach -- just a little further.

And now the USA look at butter. What happens. Butter is tied up in Govt. warehouses --- millions of pounds -- and Govt' buying continues at the clip of around 750,000 pounds a day. Butter is beyond the reach of some. Synthetic scarcity has done it. It is not the groceryman or the dairyman--it is Sambo. He is the baby in the woodpile and with our own money.

In all directions, from the Govt. power houses on the Columbia where the kilowatt business has been fooled by Sambo's antics, we see electricity rationing is in again there. Our forty-eight governors will soon be just office boys.

When your senator or congressman gets home from Europe or Asia or Africa, from his "looking-into conditions there," tell him you want butter -- also much less Govt. fumdiddles.

Yours with the low down,
JIMMY
