

OWL LAFFS

A WISE OWL

I am now ready to accept invitations to "open house" for New Year's Eve. Don't be backward. I promise not to put you guests in this column, if they "carry on" a bit that night. It's the season.

A Florin lady had her small son in the Aome and he was leading her a merry chase in and out the aisles, when I commented: "Your son certainly is a cute little rascal." "Yes," she replied, "he takes after his father." "Oh, is he cute too?" I asked. "No," she answered, "but he's certainly a rascal."

If some of our young bloods had their conscience taken out, it would be a minor operation.

One reason why the big apples are on top of the basket is the fact that a lot of little apples are holding them up there.

An E-town girl thought she was being most clever when she commenced eating lunch for eight months to save money. She had one satisfaction. She could afford to spend two weeks in the hospital suffering from malnutrition.

It's a cruel world! As soon as they teach a baby to talk, they turn right around and start telling it to shut up.

You'd just howl if you knew the lady we refer to in the next laff, cause you all know her.

Seems she's sick. Awful sick—she says. Can't cook, clean, wash, iron or nothin'. It's been that way now for sometime. But she refused to have a doctor. Finally in desperation, her hubby summoned a doctor over her objections. After he examined her he went downstairs and said to her spouse: "Give her all the newspaper Christmas ads you can get your hands on and before the end of the week, she'll be back on her feet and at Lancaster in the shopping, rush."

It surprises me how popular the square dance is becoming again. After all a square dance is just a waltz with corners on it.

The music for the square dance is mostly body squeaks and a fiddle. The folks line up smiling and social and suddenly its every man for himself.

The square dance is better than the rhumba because you break the clinch once in a while. Sometimes the fiddler has an accomplice a go-away-come-to-me (accordian to you.) But I don't know why I should go on explaining the thing. Attend the next one in the hi-school gym and see for yourself.

This oughta start something—Did you know that every time you send a penny post card you're really getting a gift? Why? Cause it costs two and one-half cents to deliver a penny post card.

Don't know how long I'm going to be able to stand up under the strain of Christmas shopping, for I'm already showing signs of weakening. I never saw one woman who can look at more things, walk farther and waste more time than my wife when she Christmas shops. How's yours?

Ann Schofield had paring knife trouble last week. Couldn't find hers anywhere. Finally she went into the barber shop and asked Scope if he was using it to shave, but it wasn't there either. So-o she searched again and found it, of all places, where it belonged. (But where she never thought to look.)

HICKORY GROVE

As between giving some person a pat on the back or gazing around for some guy whose hide you would sorta like to see nailed on the fence, I choose the "pat on the back"—most always. Jumping some guy like maybe a congressman, it too often just wastes your time—he will bow his back like a tom-cat on a fence, and you get no where. Unless of course a lot of folks do the same thing at the same time—and the guy counts up how many votes it comes to—then it will reward you.

But, by and large, as we say here at Hickory, a pat on the back pays the most dividends. Take it with your own sweet little helpmate—you get pie oftener if you tell her each time that in all your born days you never tasted such pie.

But back to congress. Persons like this Senator Byrd—that old Virginian with vision, also backbone—it is only proper to give him a word of encouragement, he is out there more or less alone, there are too few like him. If he should up and say, "what the heck, the folks don't care where we are going or when," and wash his hands of any further effort toward getting the U.S.A. removed from the threat of going completely to the dogs via toying with the Big Govt. then you see what I mean, by a word of encouragement.

From recreation for the goslings to recreation programs for the grandmas and grandpas—and 1000 other fool things—Sambo picks up the check.

Yours with the low down,
JIMMY
