A WISE OWL

Already my wife is reminding me that Valentine is only a month away. I think with a box of candy I'll give her a rear vision mirror. If she ever gets a look at what's following her she'll stop eating candy.

Here's one they tried to hold out on us but it didn't work. It happened New Year's Eve, and everybody knows him. He was speeding out Marietta Ave. in Lancaster, accompanied by his wife. He passed all the lights and was finally nabbed by a cop. The cop took out his book and said: "I'm going to give you a ticket for speeding, reckless driving, passing of signal lights and unnecessary honking of horn." With that, his wife who had been perfectly quiet, spoke up: "He didn't mean to violate any rules, officer, can't you see he's drunk and doesn't know what he's doing?"—Isn't she the little helpmate?

About the meanest man we know is the father who gives his son a penny to make him go to sleep; then takes it away from him during the night and punishes the child in the morning for losing the penny.

Bill Waltz lost his pay check down at work and practically turned the shower room upside down in an effort to find it. After wearing himself to a frazzle he found the elusive bit of paper in his shirt pocket.

An ego loaded student home from college for the holidays boasted to our cove crowd: "All that I am I owe to my mother." And of course Dick suggested: "Well, why don't you send her 30 cents and pay up the bill?"—The gang simply howled.

Why do people do things the hard way? There's a lady, Dorothy by name, on Columbia Ave., who, when the turkey grease ran out of the pan, took off the oven door to clean it up.

The foolish questions people ask certainly make monkeys out of them. On the way to Philly on Monday the train made a sudden stop, jerking the passengers around "What has happened, conductor?" one nervous lady asked. "Nothing much," the conductor replied. "We just hit a cow." "Oh," said the relieved old lady, "Was it on the tracks?" "No," answered the conductor, "We chased her into the barn."

One of those smart aleck tourists going through Salunga by mistake, stopped in at Bender's to find out where he went wrong, unaccustomed to seeing the interior of a small town general store where items of every description are on sale, he cracked: "Have you anything in the shape of automobile tires?" And the clerk who had sized him up for what he really was, never cracked a smile when he replied: "Yes, indeed, we do. Life-preservers, funeral wreaths, doughnuts, wedding rings and rubber bands."

Speaking of drivers reminds me of an incident that happened at York recently. I accompanied an uptown man to that place on business and while there he got involved in a slight traffic accident in which the other driver was a lady. When the policeman was conducting his investigation he said to our local man: "You saw this lady driving toward you. Why didn't you give her half the road?" And my companion replied: "I was going to, just as soon as I could find out which half she wanted." The cop suppressed a smile and walked away.

A Marietta mom asked her high school son: "What did your Dad say when you told him you'd smashed the car?" "Shall I leave out the swear words?" the boy

Donegal Airport News

Following is a daily report of the activities of the pilots and student pilots flying at Donegal Airport during a period of one week.

Monday, January 2nd: Early morning flyers were Lester Wolgemuth and Gil Lehman, visiting the Harrisburg State Airport and Alfred Gusler flying to Philadelphia and Allentown. Marty Moore took a local flight around the airport as did Sim Horton and Walter Reilly. Another local sight-seeing hop was made by Henry Weber, Harold Longenecker and John Bender. Bruce Halk flew to Allentown in a Stinson Voyager. Pilots flying on the Commercial Pilot Training Program during the day were: Albert Forry, Marlin Young, Bruce Halk and Alfred Gusler. Norman Sprecher and Clair Sharpe flew together during the late afternoon.

Tuesday, January 3rd: A temporary low ceiling and heavy rains halted most flights during the day but the foggy weather soon broke and Albert Forry, John Hawthorne and Phares Landis flew to Wilmington on a quick business trip late in the day. Wednesday, January 4th: Instructor John Hawthorne and Student Pilot David Nauman spent most of the morning making short cross country trips and practicing take-offs and landings. Albert Forry made a solo flight to Allentown. Phares Landis flew to Bloomsburg to order necessary equipment to wire another Donegal Aviation Service airplane for night flying. John Bender and Sam Balsbach visited the airport at York. Alfred Gusler spent the last half hour of day light practicing 360 and 180 degree spot landings.

Thursday, January 5th: Marvin Landis and Phares Landis flew to Red Lion at noon to visit the regular Rotary Club meeting there. Student pilots practicing take-offs and landings were George Carriger and David Nauman. The Donegal Dudes Flying Club held their regular monthly meeting at the airport in the evening. John Landis, Director, Warren Stehman, Norman Heisey, Joseph Wolgemuth, Jr., Marlin Young, William Aller, Joseph McKendricks, Albert Forry, Paul Hess, Jr. and Frank Hassinger.

Saturday, January 7th: Ralph Miller, Frank Rahn, Siehman Landis and Marlin McKorkel flew to Philadelphia to see the Mummies Day Parade. Alfred Gusler made a cross country trip to New Castle, Delaware. Marlin Young checked out in the Stinson Voyager, four place airplane.

Sunday, January 8th: Bruce Robinson made a solo cross country trip to Lake Susquehanna, N. J. George Minick and Phares Landis flew to Wilson, N. C. Ralph Kauffman, Bruce Halk, Marlin Young visited the Lancaster and York Airports. Several pilots took their wives for sight seeing flights during the day, they were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Groff, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gusler. Other pilots flying local and distant places were: Norman Heisey, Herb Shelly, Charles Bailey, Gilbert Lehman, Fred Sherrick, Sim Horton, Mr. Witmer, Marty Moore, Sam Baisbach, John Bender, Arthur Hostetter, Walter Reilly, Frank Hassinger, Warren Greenawalt, Albert Forry, Raymond Garman and Harold Long.

LEGION EMPLOYE STRUCK ON HER WAY TO WORK

Mrs. Anna M. Cox, forty, 735 Fourth St., Lancaster, was slightly injured at 7:55 p. m. Friday when she was struck by an automobile just east of Mount Joy on the Harrisburg Pike. State Policeman Edward Maloney said the woman had alighted from a bus and was walking to work at the American Legion Post Home at Chiques, where she is a waitress, when the accident occurred.

Stringer who was driving east, told police he didn't see the pedestrian until it was too late to avoid brushing her with the fender of his vehicle. He conveyed her to St. Joseph's Hospital where she was treated for abrasions of both knees and the left hand and discharged.

"Certainly!" replied his mother. "He didn't say a word," the boy answered.

Guess I'll go to the Farm Show now. Say Jimmy do you remember when we went up to see the tractors?

which was discussed during last week's council meeting, represented the company's annual installment on an original pledge to finance the construction of the municipal building in 1941. Permission was granted to the local Veteran of Foreign Wars to use the fire hall basement, one night each month, for meetings. Announcement was made that the State Fire School will be held on Feb. 20 in the fire hall. Four new members were admitted.

HICKORY GROVE

This idea of pouncing onto a business because it is big--like the Govt. pouncing onto the A and P--agitates me.

And for the A and P versus the little groceryman--right here at Hickory, Louie Manzo is making his bigger competitors sit up and take notice. He has one store--- he has just enlarged it. Both Louie and the A and P are doing skookum. Susie and I trade at each as we choose.

If an energetic young fellow, getting out of high school or college, knew that he could get so far, no farther, no difference how much he perspired, his future would be dismal. With business illegal, who would take the lead in building better, more or cheaper electric lamps and diesel generators, etc., if there is no General Electric Wilsons and Ralph Cordners--who would have improved the galloping tintypes without the deMilles. And across the land in thousands of items and things, thousands of fellows with vision, like Ford and Edison and the Wright brothers--with freedom and the inclination--have made America big and important. You can buy groceries at the A and P or from Louie Manzo. Yours with the low-down, Jimmy
